Daily Devotions

By DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

They laughed him to scorn, these superior sophisticated people. They knew what life was. Said one of their number in another age: "There is no better thing that a man should do than to eat and to drink and to be merry." When this done they think all is done. Their minds are too shallow to understand the spirit in man, where it abides, and how it moves. They dwell on the surface of life. They had no eyes for the world Jesus saw. They could not see the values and ends that were real to Him. In their ignorance they laughed. In their ignorance they laugh today, but if He intrudes too deeply into their emptiness, they turn to bitterness and scorn. Give us Thy Spirit, that we might see the simplicity and depth of Thy life, deliver us from ignorance, and hardness of heart. Amen.

SECOND SERMON ON SALVATION GIVEN

(By W. C. F.)
"Salvation is a much larger word than many realize," the speaker at the First Presbyterian church of Roseburg announced last night, continuing his theme of the night before—"Salvation in the Present Tense." "It is true, the word 'salvation' refers to an act of God occurring at the moment any man accepts the Son of God, like one's physical birth, the new birth can never be repeated. By that salvation the believer in Christ is eternally secure. But," continued Mr. Fraser, "there is a frequent use of the word 'salvation' which has to do with the habit and dominion of sin. After having received eternal life at the moment of believing acceptance of Jesus Christ, then begins the work of God in saving the believer from sinning through perhaps lifelong habits. This is present salvation, or salvation in the present tense." Mr. Fraser related an incident that occurred when he was a traveling salesman. He had arrived home after his regular trip and instead of his small son, aged 4, rushing out with a whoop to greet him he found the little chap moping in a corner. There was no welcome at all in his face. It developed that he had been using a tool out of dad's forbidden tool box and his inexperienced hand had broken it. Knowing the penalty warned for such disobedience he was unafraid as he faced his disobedient father. "This is an exact picture of a disobedient Christian," said Mr. Fraser. "Then that boy and I went to the woodshed and he came away a better boy. But another thing had taken place. After the father—meaning myself—had dealt with his sin, the old joy was restored and his arms were tight around my neck again, and we were all happy once more. I was—present tense—saving him from present acts of disobedience." Tonight Mr. Fraser speaks on "Salvation—Its Future Tense." Solo by Gordon Fraser.

REPUBLICANS STILL LEADING IN OREGON

Registered Democrats Of State Trail by 33,000 But Show Big Gain.

By PAUL W. HARVEY Jr.
SALEM, April 1.—(AP)—Although democrats have steadily backed away at republican registration totals since the advent of the new deal, Oregon is still republican and probably will remain so for the May primary.

On February 1 there were 233,625 republicans and 200,619 democrats, the total number of registered voters being 434,244. The secretary of state's office figures there are about 480,000 who might be registered before the April 19 deadline.

So out of the 37,000 people who still might register before the primary, the democrats would have to get 33,000 to catch up with the G. O. P.

The following table shows the political trend in Oregon since 1932, giving the registration for each primary election:

	Republican	Democratic
1932	235,004	122,200
1934	285,504	165,504
1936	271,149	198,322
1938 (Pop. 1)	233,625	200,619

Thus it can be seen that in six years the republicans have lost about 61,000 voters, while the democrats have gained 78,000. Oregon is one of the few states that is still listed in the republican column.

Demos Get 11 Counties
In 1932 all 35 counties were republican. Today 25 counties remain in republican ranks. Counties which were democratic on February 1 were Baker, Coos, Deschutes, Gilliam, Harney, Hood River, Jefferson, Klamath, Multnomah, Union and Wallowa.

The peak primary registration was 478,185 in 1934.

Besides the republicans and democrats registered on February

1, there were 400 prohibitionists, 1,221 socialists, 145 progressives and 7,004 in other parties. Those registered in any party other than republican or democrat do not have votes in the primary.

However, if voters approve the blanket primary initiative at the November general election, those registered in any party would be able to nominate in any party, the law being similar to that now in effect in Washington state.

RAILWAY WORKERS' INSURANCE PLANNED

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(AP)—Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.) and Representative Crosser (D., Ohio) drafted legislation today to give 1,000,000 railroad workers an unemployment insurance system on their own.

Advocated by the Railroad Labor Executives association, the bill would lay a three per cent tax on pay envelopes of $300 a month or less, to be paid by the carriers.

Any employee earning as much as $150 a year would be eligible to benefits ranging from $1.75 to $3 a day for 80 days.

The bill would remove railroad employees from the various state unemployment insurance plans which railroad labor contends do not adequately cover railroad workers whose employment is interstate. It probably will be introduced in the senate and house tomorrow.
