MISS GENEVA CROUCH CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Celebrating her birthday anniversary, Miss Geneva Crouch was a delightful hostess to the sub-deb group of the Roseburg Junior Woman's club at a six o'clock dinner at the Gypsy Tearoom on Thursday evening. Centering the gay spring-like dinner table was a silver bowl of golden forsythia, flanked on each side by groupings of antique candlesticks with green candles. Tiny colorful nosegays decorated the corners of the clever place cards, which were painted by the hostess. Culminating the dinner, a large birthday cake, gleaming with tiny candles, and decorated in pastel colorings, was presented to Miss Crouch.

Enjoying the affair were Miss Crouch, Miss Lois Schaefer, Miss Thelma Carter, Miss Louise Virchen, Miss Ponce Moore, Miss Doris Shoemaker, Miss Elton Chambers, Miss Helen Cooney, Miss Betty Belle Knott, Miss Betty Strong, Miss Betty Quine, Miss Fern Thompson, Miss Maxine Bartley, Miss Vivian Bartley, Miss Elida Taylor and Miss Marie Hebard.

"Alice in Wonderland" Towels By RUTH ORR PATTERN No. 1001

Of all the childhood stories you recall, we're sure "Alice in Wonderland" is the one you still like best. So, what could be nicer than having the well-remembered characters decorating a set of tea towels? Gay, colorful and simple is the embroidery, with a different scene for each day of the week, ending in the famous "tea party" for Sunday's motif.

The pattern envelope contains hot iron transfer design for seven motifs, averaging 4 by 7 inches each, and complete, easy-to-understand illustrated directions; also what material you will need, color suggestions and illustrations of stitches used.

To obtain this pattern send for No. 1001 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address News-Review Needlework Dept., Roseburg, Oregon.

POET'S CORNER

AT THE END OF THE TWILIGHT TRAIL

By G. M. LEEPER

Out at the end
Of the twilight trail,
Winding on and on
Till the sun grows pale.

Many a twilight
In many a land,
On through the moonlight
And over the sand.

There's many a trail
But none so grand,
As those that pass
On the moonlight sand.

On like ships
That pass in the night,
Bound for the port
Of heaven's delight.

There's a light just ahead
As the sky grows pale,
Where someone is camping
On the twilight trail.

Someone is camping
On the twilight trail,
Where the thin smoke rises
Like a dim white sail.

To float among the trees
Then up to the sky,
To mingle with the clouds
Like ships going by.

There's a campfire ahead
On the trail, at twilight,
Reflecting on the faces
There in the firelight.

So for tonight
As the sky grows pale,
We'll camp there at the end
Of the twilight trail.
