LAMB'S-TONGUE PARADE CONTINUES

Multi-blossomed lamb's-tongues continue to arrive at the News-Review office as more and more blossoms on single stems are discovered. Stanley E. Eisenmann of Myrtle Creek presented the News-Review office with a large bouquet in which several stalks carried five or six blossoms each. One stem had five full blown blossoms and two buds.

"These lamb's-tongues," Mr. Eisenmann said, "were gathered from an area of about 30 by 40 feet and represent only a small number of the multi-flowered stems in that limited area."
