DORCAS SOCIETY GIVES WIENER ROAST FRIDAY

ELKTON, April 20.—On Friday afternoon the Dorcas society sponsored a wiener roast and Easter egg hunt for the grade school children near the Frank Madison ranch. The children were taken in a school bus driven by Sidney Gates, Irl Haines, Grace Sawyers and Thelma Francisco assisted in the joyous task of hiding eggs and building the fire for the children. After the children had roasted their wieners the grown-ups gave a demonstration of how to roast wieners for the children's benefit. They were Una Smith, Mary Colley, Elva Hardesty, Irl Haines, Grace Sawyers, Thelma Francisco, Prof. and Mrs. Masters, Edith Bowman, Rita Peart, Edith Madison, Helen Fox and Lydia Mack. The children all expressed themselves as having a delightful time. The teachers gave to each boy and girl in each room a prize for finding the most eggs. A trip to the beach and Winchester Bay was planned for April first but postponed on account of bad weather. This Easter egg party taken place on the lawn of the home. Marilyn Robinson received the prize for finding the largest egg, and Elwin Patterson for the smallest egg.

Be Sure to State Size When Ordering Pattern. CAPTIVATING FROCK ON YOUNG LINES. PATTERN 4754

Just count the up-to-the-minute features of this adorably youthful frock if you'd know why Pattern 4754 is a favorite with "tens and teens." And wouldn't it be a grand all-occasion frock for summer stitched up in a bright checked cotton, tubular novelty crash, or crisp linen? There's special appeal to the unusual neckline with its pointed collar, puffed-up sleeves, paneled lines, and gracefully flared skirt. And who could resist those saucy little contrasting bows? So simple to follow, is this pattern, that even a junior miss will find this dress easy to make. Pattern 4754 is available in junior and misses' sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 14 takes 4 yards 36 inch fabric and 1 1/2 yards ribbon. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

POET'S CORNER

IN BATTLE SPENDOR

By G. M. LEEPER

Kings may come
And show their splendor,
Winter, summer, autumn,
Blend the sun and rain
On the fields of clover
Sweet and tender
While we but live
To die in battle splendor.

Life may come
And life may go;
Has it no defender?
Woe thy brother's love
Once to you so tender,
To die with him
On the battle fields of splendor.

Mother love
Has lost its splendor;
Priceless flowers
Have no defender
For mother's love
Is trodden, like flowers
Beneath our feet
On the battle fields of splendor.

Love may come
And love may go
Carresses soft and tender,
We do not count
The broken hearts;
They have no defender
And are but lost
In battle splendor.

Life itself
From heaven born;
Has heaven
Lost its splendor,
With all God's love
So pure and tender?
Has man with all
His worldly thoughts
Lost his soul
In battle splendor?

Go search beside
Where tombstones rank
See thou any splendor,
Where once
The flowers grew
And love was tender,
Has life lost all
The beauty it ever had
On the battle fields of splendor?

BEAUTIFUL EASTER SERVICES HELD

GLENDAL, April 20.—Although the sky was cloudy and threatening all day, no rain fell to dampen the Easter spirit Sunday and the Olivet Presbyterian church was filled to capacity for both morning and evening service.

At the morning service ten new members were accepted into the church by Rev. J. K. Howard, two by letter, with baptismal service for seven. Special music was rendered by the choir with a soprano solo by Mrs. S. L. Stewart. About fifty members of the Masonic and Eastern Star orders attended the service in a body.

The evening service was devoted to an Easter cantata by the choir of eighteen mixed voices under the direction of Mrs. Ben C. Huntington. The service opened with pianist, "Hail Glorious Day," choir, "Glad So Loved the World," the alto; "Sing Unto the Lord," the choir; bass solo by Robert Lewis, "They Crucified Him," accompanied by the choir; soprano solo, Mrs. S. L. Stewart, "Near the Cross Was Mary Weeping," accompanied by choir; "Dark is the Garden," was divided, tenor solo, Ira Lewis, bass by Mac Olson and a tenor and bass duet by Ira and Robert Lewis; the soldier's chorus "Keep Your Vain Watch," Ira Lewis and Vernon Nichols, tenors; Mac Olson and Robert Lewis, bass; offertory, Mrs. Ingham; duet by sopranos and altos, "As It Began to Dawn," tenor solo, Ira Lewis, "Fear Not Ye," accompanied by choir; soprano solo, Mrs. Jerry Baer, "Savior Divine"; "Rejoice in the Lord," choir; and the finale, "The Triumph Song" by the choir.

The choir left was a bower of white nautilus and white spirea with green ferns with a large bouquet of calla lilies in memoriam of Floyd Clark, son of Mrs. C. G. Richards.
