SUNBONNET GIRLS FOR QUILT
By RUTH ORR
PATTERN No. 490

Gay little farmerettes, in their bright clothes, make charming designs for an applique quilt. They're so easy to make, too, that you'll be surprised how quickly the 9-inch squares are completed. The design is adaptable to all sort of old scraps of material, or you can produce a lovely cover by having all the girls clothed alike.

The pattern envelope contains cut out pattern for design; also complete, easy-to-understand, illustrated directions; also what material you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 490 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address News-Review Needlework Department, Roseburg, Ore.

POET'S CORNER

WHERE RIVERS START

By G. M. Leeper.

Drip—drip—drip
From the boulders
mossy tip,
Drip—drip—drip
Down among the ferns
Carving from the rocks
Shapely little urns,
Just a tiny drop
Always dripping
From the mossy top,
Dripping—dripping
Never stop,
On among the clinging
grass—
To greet the daisies
As they pass;
It's way up yonder
Where rivers start,
Where each tiny spring
Becomes a part,
Ah yes that's it
You ought to know
It's way up yonder
Beneath the snow;
It's a mossy rock
Where the tiny
Drip—drip—drip
Keeps the time for
The mountain clock,
Dripping from the moss
Dripping from the grass
Counting each glad moment
And all the days that pass—
Tiny—tiny—tiny
Like a drop of dew
You would hardly think
But that's the way
they do
Ah it's grand up there
Just beneath the snow
Where the rivers start
Flowing down below,
Yes, it's great to watch
Where the rivers start
Little pools and eddies
Each become a part,
Trickling among the
grass—
Growing all the grain
Down where rivers pass,
Ah; but up there;
On the mountain
Keeping the time of day
Dripping, dripping, dripping
Into the river far away—
Dripping from the boulders
Down among the grass,
Kissing the mountain slope
With beauty as they pass—
Pure drops and cold
Just beneath the snow
On towards the sunset
And the river, down below.

DAMAGES DENIED IN SLAPPING OF PUPIL

TUCSON, Ariz., April 21 —(AP) — Horace Adonis Mouser, who got slapped, collected no damages today from his school teacher.

His mother, Mrs. Estel Mouser, sued the teacher, Mrs. Fern Benedict, for $5,000 damages, but Superior Judge William G. Hall declared "Horace became belligerent, sassed his teacher and got what was coming to him."

After the two-day trial, Judge Hall remarked:

"At $1,000 a slap that5s pretty high. If I had got $1,000 for each time I've been slapped. I'd not be working now."

TRUCK OUSTS HORSE IN NATIONAL GUARD

SALEM, April 22.—(AP)—The faithful horse left the national guard today, his duties to be taken over by the motor truck.

Oregon national guard units sent more than 100 sets of harness to Camp Clackamas, where they will be held until the army decides what to do with them.

The guard is not completely motorized yet, but it has enough motor equipment to handle all field artillery and machine gun carts formerly drawn by horses.

The only duties that the few remaining Dobbins have to perform is to carry officers during parades.
