conomic and business methods ran away with the ball.

He said it was a misnomer to call his proposal for a congressional study of anti-trust laws an anti-monopoly program, because it was a far wider problem and that the inventory-price situation would go hand in hand with it.

Jobless Census Cited

Leading up to the business discussion, Mr. Roosevelt made public a semi-final report by John D. Biggers on the unemployment census of last November.

It showed 5,833,401 voluntarily reported as totally unemployed, 2,011,615 as unemployed except for emergency work, and 3,821,786 as partly unemployed.

The chief executive said the census also proved of value because it afforded a definite point of departure by disproving many crazy estimates as to the number of unemployed.

Earle has announced for the senate on the regular organization ticket in Pennsylvania with Charles A. Jones, Pittsburgh lawyer, running for governor. HISTORIC UNION OF CHURCHES PLANNED Conference Agreement at Utrecht Embraces 130 Protestant Units.

UTRECHT, The Netherlands, May 13.—(AP)—An historic church document aimed at the most far-reaching union of Christian churches since the reformation emerged today from a world conference of churchmen representing 130 protestant denominations.

The document is the draft of a constitution, approved unanimously by 75 delegates from 20 nations including the United States, for the first world council of churches in history.

It will be submitted at once to all participating churches by the archbishop of York, who presided at the five-day conference which adjourns today.

An accompanying letter will ask the churches to unite in the organization for "the fellowship of churches which accept our Lord Jesus Christ as God and Saviour" and 700 delegates to the proposed council meeting.

Delegates here represented directly about 32 denominations but they spoke also as the elected representatives of 130 protestant bodies.

A council meeting every five years and an annual meeting of a central committee would be open to all Christian churches, however, the Roman Catholic church, however, has taken no steps to participate in the movement.

The council assembly would consist of 450 members. There would be 50 delegates to the central committee, including 18 from the United States and Canada, of whom five would be lay delegates.

Because of his long work toward formation of the council, the archbishop of York was considered almost certain to be elected its first president. He became an originator of the movement during a visit to the United States four years ago.
