

SKI CLUB TREKKERS VISIT SNOW AREA

Sport Still Possible for Few Days at Red Butte Site, Trio Learns.

With the whole countryside basking under a warm May sun, three members of the newly organized Umpqua Ski club, Ivan Hatfield, George Churchill and Maynard Bell, trekked to the summit of Red Butte, proposed winter sports playground area, and spent the entire day enjoying almost perfect skiing conditions.

The purpose of the late-season trip was to make final snow measurements for the year. An accurate record on the amount of snowfall in the area has been kept this past winter by the local forestry office to be used in determining the feasibility of establishing a winter sports playground in that sector. The skiing party was highly encouraged by the amount of snow still on the ground from Watson's cabin to the summit. Enough snow remains at Watson's cabin to afford skiing, to a limited extent, for the next few days. More than 4 feet of old snow was found on the northern slopes, but the warm weather of the past week is rapidly melting winter's last vestige.

Tree Blockade Removed

The trio journeyed to within a mile of Watson's cabin by auto. No difficulty was encountered in making the trip other than the task of removing several trees which had fallen across the road. Several large trees in one jam, effectively barring further travel by auto, forced the party to make the rest of the way on foot. Skiing snow was found approximately a mile from the summit.

The skiers reached the lookout station at noon and consumed the rest of the day skilling on the nearby slopes. A side-trip was taken by George Churchill to the local Paul prairie on the northern slopes of Red Butte, about a mile and a half from the summit, for the purpose of investigating new skiing terrain. Churchill reported an excellent area available, offering to the advanced skier and more venturesome some of the finest cross-country and slalom slopes yet discovered. More than 5 feet of fairly fast "corn" snow covered the entire area.

3-Mile Hike Required

Barring wet weather today or tomorrow which would make the road impossible to travel, excellent skiing can be found in the vicinity of Red Butte summit and Peter and Paul prairie. Good skiing snow will probably be available for a week or more, depending upon weather conditions. To reach suitable skiing snow a hike of approximately 3 miles will be necessary. Though the roads, in fair shape, it is still rough and rutted from winter's wear and tear and localities on the sking-end should not attempt the drive from the Little River road unless experienced in the art of negotiating narrow, winding mountain roads. Chains are not necessary. The entire group of skiers returned with beautiful sunburns, and if the weather continues to hold clear and warm, precautionary measures should be taken.

CHINOOK RUN AT BONNEVILLE HEAVY

PORTLAND, May 13.—(AP)—Spring chinook salmon are passing over Bonneville dam, fishways at the rate of 2000 a day. Dr. Willis H. Rich, ichthyologist and director of research for the state fish commission, said yesterday.

"All I can say is that the Indians are working admirably," he declared, "and that they are catching fish into the upper river. The prospects are that the run will increase in volume shortly."

BOB FELLER HALTS N. Y. YANKEES, 3-2

Victory Is Aided, However, by Errors; Washington Again Tops League.

By SID FEDER (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Rawhide Lou Gehrig's at-bats broke through a roofful smile. He had just finished fanning for the second time against Bobby Feller's "dip-ya-do's."

"Boy," he said, "anybody's going to be plenty lucky to get a hit off that kid this year."

It didn't matter that Rawhide stepped up to the plate a few minutes later and blasted one of Bobby's fast balls out of the lot for two runs; nor did it matter much that Bobby, in taking a 3-2 decision from the world champion Yankees yesterday, was lucky in being presented with a pair of earned runs, which allowed the Cleveland Indians to finish on top.

What did matter was that the right-arm rifle from foway is so far improved over last year that he looks like two other fellows. His fast ball, which they've called the hottest thing since Walter Johnson was whistling "on around American league ears, is still a fancy dilo that comes up to the plate with a hop that might take your chin off if you're standing in close. Added to that is a brand new curve that breaks across the platter like a hot knife slicing through butter.

A lot of credit, as has been whispered before, goes to Rollie Hemley, who, for all his playboyishness, is improving the kid more every time out. Rollie knows American league batters, and when he's working, is up near the top in handling pitchers. An experienced hand, he has what Bobby lacks—years of service around the circuit.

Fumbles Hurt Yankees

The most peculiar thing about Bobby's duel with Lefty Gomez yesterday, however, wasn't so much the fact that he allowed only five hits, fanned nine and walked only three. It was that D'Amico and Dickie, who are great defensive ball players any time and greatest "in the clutch," came apart in just that spot. Each fumbled an easy one in the sixth inning to ruin Gomez's neat fourth of flinging and set up two of the Tribe's three tallies.

The defeat, coupled with the 7-6 beating Washington's upsetting Senators handed the Detroit Tigers, dropped the Yankees out of first place in the American league, after a one-day stay, and boosted the Nats back to the top. Greenberg's seventh homer of the season almost ruined. DeShong's classy classy pitching, but Washington had just enough edge to hang on.

Like the American league, the National presented a curtailed program of two games, with the Chicago Cubs' "noble experiment" battling order trouncing the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Cincinnati's Reds blanking the Boston Braves, 4-0.

CREST OF FLOOD IN MINNESOTA REACHED

MINNEAPOLIS, May 12.—(AP)—What army engineers said was the crest of Mississippi river flood waters that had inundated large areas to the north around Atkin, Minn., reached Minneapolis and St. Paul today, almost unnoticed because of the stream's high banks here.

At St. Anthony Falls the water level held steady with no further rise expected.

The state executive council allocated $25,000 for relief in the Atkin flood zone, where some of the fields had estimated $50,000 would be needed for human relief and livestock feed.

At Mendota, where the Minnesota river forced the Mississippi high water entered the Mississippi and shook dwellers to leave their homes.

HOGAN'S BAT AIDS SAN DIEGO TO WIN

Beefy Catcher Drives in 5 Runs; Fred Hutchinson Wins for Seattle.

By the Associated Press.

When the San Diego Padres of the Pacific Coast league bought Frank (Shanty) Hogan from the Boston Red Sox to replace Catcher Bill Starr, put out of baseball circulation for some weeks to come by a fractured ankle, the dopsters figured the 2-year ketter a relief catcher and a lot of beef. Shanty, who hits the scales well over the 200 mark, has been hitting the ball so hard he has been able to make first on what would have been a normal two-bagger and third on what would have been a home run.

Last night the beefy backstop played an important part in the Padres' 13-to-1 win over the Hollywood Stars and which kept them in first place. In five times at bat he got three hits, five times with the bases loaded, to drive in five runs. One hit was a double, the others singles.

Seattle's 18-year-old rookie pitcher Fred Hutchinson fanned one man in the tenth inning and forced another to try to end a scoring threat as Seattle defeated Oakland, 3 to 2. With one out, Abreau of the Oaks lashed a triple that almost cleared the left field fence. Hutchinson then fanned Rasmussen and Bob Gibson fled out to end the game.

After losing two in a row, Sacramento's Solons came back to shakedown the San Francisco Seals, 5 to 1.

Portland's Liska, the submarine ball specialist, limited the Los Angeles Angels to six hits as Portland won 7 to 1. The Angels nearly lost their record of being the only coast team that hasn't been blanked this season. Liska kept them scoreless until the ninth when Stutz was sacrificed home with the only Angel run after hitting a two-bagger.
