INSECT PEST FUND HELD INADEQUATE

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP)—Control of grasshoppers and other insect pests this year, an agriculture department expert told "the house appropriations committee, would cost $850,000 more than congress has appropriated for the purpose.

E. A. Rohwer, assistant chief of the bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, said the $2,834,517 already available was not enough for adequate campaigns against grasshoppers, Mormon crickets, white fringe beetles and other pests.

This testimony was made public when the committee introduced today a bill to meet deficiencies in government departments.

So far, Rohwer said, the bureau has allocated $1,986,000 for grasshopper control, $477,177 for Mormon crickets, $321,340 for white fringe beetles and $50,000 for army worms. He submitted requests for $819,220 for grasshoppers and $131,298 for Mormon crickets. Rohwer estimated the $1,976,013 furnished for grasshopper control last year by federal and state contributions had saved crops worth $102,288,177. Grasshoppers destroyed crops valued at $65,827,215 last year, he said.

Rohwer said the bureau did not expect emergency outbreaks of chinch bugs or screw worms, believing "the farmers themselves can take care of it during the coming season."

Visit at Coast—Mrs. J. F. Barker and daughter, Mrs. Broadway, of this city, and the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barker, and their son, John, of Seattle, spent Sunday at Marshfield visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gil-lespie and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dunham. Mr. and Mrs. Barker and John left yesterday for their home in Seattle, following their vacation here visiting his mother, Mrs. Barker, and his two sisters, Mrs. Broadway and Mrs. L. W. Jasse.
