Bees as Mirrors

REPORTS on the recent national spelling bee in Washington suggest the possibility of an international handbook of no little value, which might be entitled "Spelling Bees Around the World." It may be just another one of those summer notions, but the feeling persists that a collection of reports on spelling bees of foreign countries might provide an illuminating study of national habits of thought, political influences, and ideological backgrounds.

School kids from every part of the country batted the dictionary around in Washington. The kinds of words they were and were not familiar with likely mirror the background of the average American child.

The word that brought the first fatality was "despotic."

The first of the last four survivors went down under "proletariat." An unfamiliar distinction in America.

The next defeat was at the hands of "protocol." Every European child knows that protocols grow on trees.

And what was the last word that every little American knew and spelled without hesitation, just before the finalists started dropping?

"Raspberry!"
Obviously, the handbook idea's worth considering.

The Citizenship Market

"DESPITE the recession, the government believes that American citizenship still is worth $10."

That was the opening sentence on a news story from Washington on the tabling of a bill to lower the fees on naturalization papers.
Of course, you read a little further on that the bill was tabled after it was learned that a reduction would deprive the government of several hundred thousand dollars income, but, still, it does suddenly make you wonder: How much, specifically, is citizenship worth?

Now how was the price ever determined in the first place? It went from $6 to $20 in boom days, and then dropped to $10 in 1931.
But maybe it isn't actually so hard. You probably just weigh citizenship papers in the hand, as if you were weighing—say—a ballot—a blank check—a birth certicate—a copy of the Bill of Rights.

Catch 'Em Young

IT'S breath-taking, the number of remarkable ideas people get that provoke the reaction: "Now why didn't somebody think of that one before?"

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford university, got a good one the other day. He suggested that the training of automobile drivers begin in childhood.

Which is certainly worth giving a whirl, at least.

But first, as long as education seems to be turning its attention more and more to practical matters, why not childhood training in:

Appearing at ease with a raincoat and overcoats on a sunny afternoon?

Guessing a woman's age without seeming to evade the issue?

Reading the news of the world without growling audibly?

Laughing at the opposition's political jokes without laughing too hard?

Wearing a new haircut as if you'd always had it?

In the supreme court crisis that he was nominated by a vote of nearly two to one over his New Deal opponent.

And, by way of rubbing it in, Republican candidates polled nearly twice as many votes in the Iowa primary as Democratic candidates.

GILLETTE of Iowa was condemned to the block because in the vital test he refused to stand with Roosevelt to wreck the supreme court. He was saved by a higher power—the VOTERS.
America has reason to rejoice today.

CATCHER MUFFS 3RD STRIKE, LOSES GAME

Freitas Scores Lone Tally to Win for Sacramento; Beavers Beat Seals.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.— (AP)—Pitcher Freitas struck out and won a ball game for the Sacramento Solons to give them a four-game lead in the Pacific Coast Baseball league today.

By virtue of Freitas' ability to score a run after he had officially struck out, the Senators defeated the Hollywood Stars, 1 to 0.

Hollywood's Tom fanned Freitas but the third strike slipped out of Catcher Outen's hands and Freitas was off to the races. He beat the peg to first by a step. Then Utility Outfielder James smashed a double, sending Freitas to third from where he scored on a sacrifice outfield fly by Adams.

By scoring the only run of the game and fanning nine of the opposition, Freitas won his tenth game of the season and tied Salvo of the San Diego Padres for strikeout leadership of the league. Each has 74 to his credit.

In another Coast league game yesterday a four-run uprising in the third inning was enough to give the Portland Beavers a 5 to 3 win over the second place San Francisco Seals.

Los Angeles scored five runs in the ninth inning to overcome a four-run Seattle lead and win, 8 to 7. Going into the eighth inning, the Angels held a 3 to 2 lead.

San Diego made it three straight over the submerged Oakland A's when they clubbed three pitchers for 15 hits, to win, 14 to 1.

USE OF GAS LITTLE AFFECTED BY TAX

The rate of gasoline tax in the different states does not appear to seriously influence consumption.
Reports from the states to the bureau of public roads show that for the last two years the greatest increases in consumption—with two exceptions—have been in states with tax rates above the average.

In 1937, 12 states increased their gasoline consumption by more than 10 per cent. In 10 of them the tax ranged from 4 to 7 cents. During the year four states increased the rate of tax by 1 cent, so that the average rate for the United States rose from 3.55 cents in 1936 to 3.91 cents in 1937. Rates of tax ranged from 2 cents in the District of Columbia and Missouri to 7 cents in Florida, Louisiana and Tennessee.

The six states—New York, California, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio and Texas—in which consumption exceeded a billion gallons each, are all in the 3- or 4-cent tax zone. Nebraska and Tennessee were the only states that did not report 1937 consumption exceeding 1500,000 gallons.

Of the 31,797 cars which came into the state during the first five months this year, 14,571 were from California, and 6,859 from Washington.

There have been cars from every state, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Canal Zone, Philippines, Cuba, China, Mexico, Malay States and Canada.

The total number of cars to enter the state so far this year is about 1,600 more than for the same period last year.

JEWS TO BE TOPIC OF CHURCH SPEAKER

Dr. George W. Hunter, of the American-European Fellowship will speak Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist church in Roseburg on European conditions, especially among the Jews according to prophecy. He will use recent slides of Europe and Palestine to illustrate his address.
Dr. Hunter says, "The nations driving the Jews out of their countries are being used as a whip by the eternal God, looking toward the final restoration of the Jews to Palestine." Dr. Hunter is a firm believer in the ultimate fulfillment of every prophecy. He is reputed to be a very interesting and forceful speaker.

CLEVELAND INDIANS BLANKED BY GROVE

Lefty's Hurling Backed by Foxx's Batting; Giants Defeat Cubs.

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Lefty Grove is the big leagues' only 19-game winner so far this season, having reached that point in what looks like a 25-game year by blanking the Cleveland Indians, 8-0, yesterday.

Foxx drove in two runs behind Lefty's elbowing and contributed his 15th homer of the year, which put him five up on his nearest rival and kept him on a par with his 1932 mark of 58, the record for right-handed batsmen.

While the Sox were taking their series, 2 games to 1, from the American league leaders, the National league spotlight remained focused on Chicago, where the New York Giants made it three straight over the Cubs, largely through some more of that special Cub brand of master-minding.

With the score tied in the ninth inning, two out and two Giants on base, Grimm summoned Rookie Bob Logan to relieve Carleton.

Bob lived up to his record in full, as he gave up a hit to the first batsman, walked the second to force in a run, and finally was tagged for another hit, scoring two more. By the time Russell rushed in to put out the fire, the Giants had the ball game sewed up, 8-5, and pulled a game and a half in front.

In the only other National league game, the Pirates clubbed Turner for ten hits and topped the Bees, 5-3, behind Mace Brown's fine relief pitching. The Dodgers and Cardinals were rained out.

The Yankees whipped the Chicago White Sox, 5-3, principally through Dickey's seventh homer of the year.

Joe Gordon, celebrating his return to second base, smashed a triple in the sixth to score what proved to be the winning run.
This left the Yanks double-locked with the Red Sox in the American league's second place, 31 games back of the Indians.

Rookie Lodigiani clouted a homer with the bases loaded and paced the Athletics to an 8-5 win over the Detroit Tigers, ending Kennedy's run of nine straight victories. DeShong and Appleton pitched a four-hit between them and the Washington Senators sank the St. Louis Browns, 6-4.

The article stated that adult rab-the shoulders, but it failed to add that the free hand should be placed under the animal in order that too great a weight may not be sus-
