"Drums"

Another colorful chapter of "Drums" reaches air listeners on the Pacific coast, 5 to 5:30 p. m. over the Mutual-Don Lee Broadcasting system. The program originates through WCHL, New York City. Mutual affiliates in the metropolitan "Drums" is a radio program adapted from James Boyd's book of that name. It is a best selling anti-war novel concerning a young man of Scotch parentage who cannot decide which side he should join during the revolutionary war. Constance Brown adapted the book for radio presentation.

"Broadcast of Light Opera"

Besides the harmonious, religious selections of other years, the program embraces a gospel message by Dr. Charles B. Fuller, widely known minister, who organized the highly popular Old Fashioned Revival Hour some years ago and successfully broadened the listener audience to one of transcontinental proportions.

"George Jessel" in Thirty Minutes in Hollywood At the request of Edwin A. Halsey, secretary of the United States senate, George Jessel will repeat his dramatic re-enactment of the heroic deeds of Haym Salomon, the Philadelphia banker, on Jessel's "Thirty Minutes in Hollywood" program reaching air lanes Sunday, June 12, 2 to 2:30 p. m. over Mutual-Don Lee system.
