Inadequate Information

ONE of the values of the publicity concerning the proposed improvement of the Umpqua river for navigation was the attracting of attention to the really enormous timber resource of this valley.

So far as the South Umpqua News of Riddle is concerned it was a wasted effort. The South Umpqua editor says in his editorial on the subject: "In the South Umpqua working circle, the government holds about 10 million feet as against some 2 million feet privately owned." He merely left off three naughts. The figures are BILLIONS.

By way of illustrating just how much timber there is in the South Umpqua district, forest service timber inventory and sustained yield capacity figures reveal the fact that four mills the size of the big mill in Glendale could operate in Canyonville or Riddle FOREVER! That is what the sustained yield principle of forest management means—as much timber is produced by growth as is removed by lumbering operations. The annual sustained yield capacity—meaning the amount of timber that can be cut annually without depleting the total supply—in the South Umpqua district is, according to the U. S. forest service, 127 MILLION board feet.

The inadequacy of the South Umpqua editor's knowledge and understanding of the Umpqua valley's great timber resource is discouraging. The fundamental principle underlying the request that a navigation project on the Umpqua be studied, is the hope that such navigation can and will be provided so that the timber can be marketed with least waste. Without such transportation the lower grades of lumber must either be left in the woods or burned on the slab dump because the freight differential against us bars the marketing of cheap low grade lumber.

The South Umpqua News editorial concludes with this paragraph: "There is another angle, too. If the river shipping were developed, it would mean that much less for the railroads. We wonder if the gains made would compensate for the big amount of taxes which the railroads now pay."

That comment is so patently absurd that it seems a waste of time to discuss it. Obviously if great mills operate in this valley and the population is increased several times over, the railroad will be greatly benefited. At least 20 per cent of all lumber would move by rail even if water transportation were available. Then there would be passenger and miscellaneous freight traffic vastly greater than at present.

Electrical Brainstorms

THE age being fairly cluttered with extraordinary disclosures in the field of science, the mind of man has accustomed itself to taking even the most awesome of them in its stride. Except for the discoveries that concern the mind of man.

An encounter with a mirror continues to be a fascinating experience. So have a fascinating experience:

That the brain throws off electrical impulses is probably not news to you. But consider this: A "super wave" of electricity which the brain produces has been discovered. It has been determined that it changes its poles from time to time, like a self-reversing direct current generator. It has been found also that the pattern of the wave can be changed at will by injections of glucose. And abnormal patterns found in the brains of persons with mental disorders can be produced artificially in normal persons.

In short, science is getting so chummy with man's mentality, and can fool around with it on a physical plane so successfully, that—well—gosh!

The vision of a citizen of the future equipped with switches and dials, and dependent on operators and repair men, arises.

Let's keep on for a while picturing the mental and physical as having nothing much to do with each other. Just now, it all being so sudden, the old-fashioned notion is much, much more pleasant.

QUITE a group, of course, gathered around this exhibit of nuggets washed from the earth, and when questioned afterward each member of the group confessed to an itching of the fingers and an odd, prickling sensation along the spine.

Why does the sight of raw gold affect us like that—for it DOES so affect most people.

If one of these instruments the doctors use had been attached to the arm of each person gazing at Lloyd's bottles of gold, it would have registered a considerable increase in blood pressure.

THERE'S something primitive and elemental about raw gold. Perhaps, unconsciously, we associate with the sight of it all the blood that has been spilled for gold since the world began.

BRUTON'S REACH FIRST PLACE TIE

Defeat of Ward Softball Team Puts Winners Up With Hustlers.

Results Sunday

Bruton's Heels 29, Ward's Wallopers 10.

Bruton's Heels took an unexpectedly easy win, 29 to 10, from Ward's Wallopers in a softball game played yesterday afternoon at Umpqua park as one of the feature sports attractions at the salmon bake, to go into a tie with Haskins' Hustlers for top position in the City Softball league.

Sunday's contest was the play-off of a tie game between the two teams played some time ago when darkness called a halt in the eleventh inning with the score deadlocked at 3-all.

Sloppy defensive work on the part of Ward's nullified the effective pitching of Green, who finally gave way to Morris, who fared no better. Moore finished the game and was pounded freely by the hard-hitting Heels, who suddenly found their "long-lost" batting eyes. Kidder turned in a well pitched game for the winners, though he found himself in a peck of trouble in the fourth inning, allowing Ward's to shove across six runs before the rally could be stemmed. The Heels' big inning was also in the fourth when eight runs crossed the plate, though they scored in every inning.

Boyd Bruton's victory makes Thursday's game with Hal Haskins' Hustlers assume increased importance, providing both nines come through with earlier-in-the-week wins. Both teams will be boasting six wins as against one setback, each aggregation having lost to the other, and the winner of the final meeting will more likely emerge as the champion of the City Softball league. Interest in this contest is already at a high pitch, and a large turnout of fans is expected.

Other games on tap for this week find the Hustlers mixing it up with the Fern Hoppers tonight at 6:30. Tomorrow evening will see Bruton's Heels and Ward's Wallopers meeting for the final time. Thursday night the two league-leaders, Haskins' and Bruton's, fight it out in the big game of the season and on Friday, the Fern Hoppers from the forest service will make another attempt to post their first win, this time at the expense of the Wallopers from Wards.

SUTHERLIN

SUTHERLIN, June 20.—Dave Cooper, who has been seriously ill following an operation for appendicitis at Mercy hospital in Roseburg, is improving but will not be released from the hospital for about two weeks.

Miss Alberta Wilson, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Robertson, will leave Sunday for summer school at Corvallis.

Marion and Margaret Siglamund returned home Monday from Portland where they had been visiting. They enjoyed the Rose festival while there.

SACRAMENTO STAYS AT LEAGUE'S TOP

Twin Bill Taken From San Diego; Portland Loses Two to Seattle.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—(AP)—Sacramento Solons, statistically speaking the weak hitting sisters of the Pacific coast baseball league, topped the circuit by four games today thanks to a couple of left handed pitchers and the general course of events.

In the first place the Solons took a pair from the San Diego Padres, 3 to 1 and 1 to 0, while the Hollywood Stars took the second place San Francisco Seals twice 4 to 2 and 2 to 0.

The double win yesterday gave Sacramento five of its seven games with the Padres. Walker limited the Padres to seven hits in the first game and a run in the sixth inning while his teammates put counters across once in the first and twice in the eighth innings. Freitas blanked the Padres in the abbreviated nightcap giving up four hits. His teammates reached Chaplain for seven safeties.

Wilkie, who relieved Hermann, the Hollywood castoff, who was knocked out of the box by his former teammates, lost the opener for himself when he forgot to touch first base on a toss from Boss in the sixth inning with two away. After that an infield hit sent two runs across to give the Stars their first win of the day.

Given dazzling support afield, Tost handed the Seals their second shutout of the season in the nightcap. He pitched four-hit ball.

Beavers Beaten Twice

Seattle won its first series in its half million dollar baseball plant by taking a pair from the Portland Beavers, 4 to 3 and 3 to 1. It gave them four out of the six games played. In both games the Seattle pitchers stepped in with timely hits to win their own games.

In the opener Barrett smashed a single in the seventh inning to break a tie and score Stranfe, who had doubled. It proved the winning run. In the nightcap Turpin limited the Beavers to five hits and in the second inning connected for a sizzling single that brought two runs across the plate and gave him his margin of victory.

The cellar champion Oakland Acorns showed enough improvement Sunday to enable them to split a pair with the Los Angeles Angels. The Oaks won the opener, 4 to 3, and the Angels came back to win the second game, 3 to 1.

N. Y. RACKET CHIEF DRAWS FIVE YEARS

NEW YORK, June 20.—(AP)—Jacob "Gurrah" Shapiro, known to New York police as their current "public enemy No. 1" faced today a three-year prison term and a $15,000 fine, the penalty of trying to control the fancy fur dressing industry.

The little fat man wept as sentence was pronounced in federal court and lamented that "they don't go after the little fellows—they go after big shots like me because the publicity I get is worth fifty million dollars."

Climaxing a 23-year career of crime—100 arrests, with only four convictions—he, with others, the government charged, decided to "get in" on the local $75,000,000-a-year fancy fur dressing industry.

They set up a price-fixing combine and forced manufacturers to join, testimony showed, and if the manufacturers hesitated, they got beaten, slugged, even slain. Acid was thrown, plait-glass windows were broken, shops were bombed.

The three-year sentence was the maximum under the law—on a top of a previous two-year term for similar strong-arm stuff in the rabbit-fur industry. Judge Moskowitz said he wished it could be more.

Shapiro's conviction by a jury Friday marked another victory for Prosecutor Amen, the government's number 1 "racket-buster" with a record of some 200 convictions.

MOVIE SHOWS FIRE FIGHTING METHODS

A motion picture, demonstrating the new "one-lick" method of fighting forest fires is nearing completion and will be released in the near future, according to K. P. McReynolds of the Roseburg headquarters of the Umpqua National forest. Mr. McReynolds assisted in making the "shots" in the Tillamook area last April, and has spent considerable time in Portland recently where the cutting work is nearing completion and sound track added. Titles are still to be inserted.

When the film is complete it will be sent to the head office at Washington, D. C., where it must be approved before being released to be used in the training of fire fighters and for other educational purposes.

The action was provided almost entirely by members of the All-Oregon camp at South Umpqua Falls, the company having moved to the Tillamook area where a small fire was deliberately set and fought with the newly developed method.

This style of fighting forest fires follows production methods in large factories, each man having a particular job to do. They follow in line, each man performing his task and progressing at a fairly good pace, and by the time the crew has passed over a designated area there has been constructed a complete fire break.

LAKEVIEW WOOL BIDS EXCEED 18 CTS.

PORTLAND, June 20.—(AP)—Producers offered 11,000 fleeces at Lakeview Friday in the season's first sealed bid wool sale.

Approximately 1500 fleeces were sold. Bids ranged from 18 to 18 3-8 cents.

Daily Devotions

By DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

There is a triumphant note in life David lived, when the psalms were written men had a mighty faith in a God who did things, who manifested Himself in the world and in the lieves of men after a tremendous fashion; a God who was, too, truth and goodness and abounding mercy. Surely, since the revelation of God in Jesus Christ, we ought to have even greater and more glorious thought of him in our day. What our religion is like, and what it will be able to do in the world, will depend always upon what our thought of God is. A great God begets a great religion. Thou, O God, art a mighty God and a King over all the earth we would worship at Thy throne and rejoice in Thy greatness, Thy goodness and Thy love. Help us to walk in Thy fear, to rejoice in the thought of Thy goodness and Thy truth all the day. Amen.

VANDER MEER HAS ANOTHER BIG DAY

Cincinnati Wins 14-1 As Great Hurler Allows Bees Only 4 Hits.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Cincinnati's remarkable Johnny Vander Meer, who couldn't make it three no-hitters in a row yesterday but came close enough to give the Boston Bees a good scare when he let them down with four blows to win, 14-1.

The victory put the Reds in a third place tie with Pittsburgh. The Reds, however, were almost as good as in second place because one of the games they lost — to St. Louis, May 14 — was protested and President Frick upheld the protest, ordering the game re-played. However, the National league asked the game be listed as lost by Cincinnati until August, when it will be re-played.

Brooklyn fans saw a couple of good ball games as Pressnell's flinging and slugging spurt gave the Dodgers a 6-2 opening triumph over the Chicago Cubs. Bryant stopped the hitting, however, giving only one blow up to the ninth, and the Cubs won the nightcap 4-3.

League Record Set

Vander Meer, who pitched two consecutive hitless games, finally was touched in the fourth inning yesterday when Garms singled. He made a new National league record of 21 2-3 consecutive no-hit innings, just short of Cy Young's major league mark of 23 that has stood since 1904. And he went 32 innings before he was scored upon.

Boston lost a chance to win when the second game was rained out in the last half of the fifth.

Pittsburgh's Pirates put on a terrific clouting spree to wallop the Phillies, 14-4 and 16-3. Three homers by Rizzo and two by Waner marked their 34-hit attack.

Giants Lose Doubleheader

The New York Giants took a double beating, their second of the season, from St. Louis and had their lead cut to three games. A 12th-inning single by Stripp carried the Cards to an 8-7 opening victory and they won the nightcap, 4-2, behind Henshaw, although Ott hit a homer in each game.

In the American league the Boston Red Sox moved into second ahead of the slipping New York Yankees by splitting a twin bill at Chicago while the Yanks lost one game and tied another at St. Louis. After Walker's homer had given the White Six a 3-2 victory, Foxx and Bagby paced the Red Hose to a 6-1 triumph. The Yanks had 22 men left on base as they went down to the Browns, 10-9, then played a 7-7 eight-inning tie, halted by darkness.

The league-leading Cleveland Indians celebrated Connie Mack day by trimming Connie's Athletics, 5-4, in one big inning. Washington's six-run first-inning beat Detroit, 10-6, and returned the Senators to fourth place.

TROJANS WIN 4TH TRACK-FIELD TITLE

MINNEAPOLIS, June 20.—(AP)—Southern California won its fourth consecutive national collegiate track and field championship here Saturday, scoring 69½ points to Stanford's second-place total of 38.

Oregon figured conspicuously in the meet when Mack Robinson, negro sprinter from U. of O., scored a major upset by winning the 220-yard dash in 21.2 seconds. George Varoff, Oregon's pole vault star, tied with two others for second place at 13 feet, 10 inches, when U. S. C.'s Loring Day won with 14 feet, 2 inches.

Three N. C. A. A. records fell. Gil Cruter, Colorado, and Dave Albritton, Ohio State, tied at 6 feet, 8¼ inches in the high jump. Louis Zamperini, U. S. C., won the mile in 4:08.3. Walter Mehl, Wisconsin, won the two-mile run in 9:11.1.

JOE LOUIS SAYS HE'LL WIN QUICKLY

Champ Declares He'll Bat Max's Brains Out; 8-5 Odds Favor Him.

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, June 20.—(AP)—The golden rain continues to pour down on the box office. Mike Jacobs becomes hoarser by the hour as he croaks "plenty of tickets left," and the long-awaited return fight between Max Schmeling and Joe Louis for the heavyweight title is only three night away.

Louis, the 24-year-old negro champion, still declares he will bat Schmeling's brains out in "not more than two rounds" as he does a final bit of loafing around his training camp at Pompton lakes before the weigh-in Wednesday noon.

Schmeling, the same maddeningly confident German who interrupted Joe's sensational career with a 12th round knockout two summers ago, winds up his preparation with four leisurely rounds of boxing at his high camp in Speculator.

Things otherwise are reaching a focus. Fifteen thousand "ringside" seats are being knocked together at the Yankee stadium, and the fistic experts, gathered here to represent newspapers over most of the civilized world, are beginning to look drawn and haggard as the time in which they can "guess right" grows shorter.

Old Bomber Re-Lives

A lot of them jumped to the Louis banner yesterday as Joe wound up his training in a savage onslaught on his negro spar mates. He looked like the old Brown Bomber, as full of poison as a cobra, and a banner delegation from Harlem whooped it up.

"I'm coming out fighting—or else there wouldn't be no fight," Joe told his interviewers, ominously.

Schmeling didn't sound particularly impressed when told that Louis still was threatening to skin him alive.

"Yah?" he queried politely. "Dots very good. If he doesn't change his mind I will be champion quicker."

Odds on Louise 8-5

The odds on Louis to retain his title still are running 8 to 5 and better, and indications are that this is going to be one of the big betting events in fight history.

Louis' admirers are banking heavily on the fact that no heavyweight champion ever has regained the throne, as well as on the accepted premise that Louis, as the defending titleholder, is more likely to get the nod if the fight goes the distance and is close.

Schmeling's loyal following quotes another popular fistic adage: "Once you whip a man, he's whipped," inferring that the negro hasn't forgotten the brutal punishment Schmeling gave him before.

Counting the money taken in yesterday, the advance sale was, roughly $700,000, and Promoter Mike Jacobs continued to sing of a million general admission tickets will be dollar gate. Then thousands of thrown on sale Wednesday evening at $3.50 a head.

KAVANAGH TRANSFER AROUSES PROTEST

PORTLAND, June 20.—(AP)—A protest against the transfer of E. N. Kavanagh, assistant regional forester, to Ogden, Utah, was filed with the United States forest service by the Oregon Wild Life federation.

W. J. Smith, federation president, declared Kavanagh's transfer would be a "grave error," since he "has worked cooperatively with stockmen and sportsmen and the state game department for years and has achieved a state of harmony between the groups."

Smith called Kavanagh one of "Oregon's most valuable servants.

WOMEN STRUCK BY CAR LITTLE HURT

Mrs. W. G. Rochester and Mrs. M. H. Noyer suffered minor injuries last night when they were struck by an automobile driven by Fred Scherner, according to a report from Chief of Police John Duer. Scherner was backing his car on Pitzer street when the women were knocked down, it was stated, the car passing over both of Mrs. Rochester's legs, while Mrs. Noyer suffered a similar injury to one leg. Neither was seriously hurt, it was stated.

UTILITIES BUYING FORMULA SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(AP)—The PWA made public today a list of 49 proposed power projects which are being held up here temporarily pending clarification of national power policy.

Officials consider that these projects might be in competition with existing private utilities. PWA's problem is to find a formula for offering the utilities a "fair and reasonable" price for the properties.

If an acceptable price was agreed to, presumably the municipality interested would take over the private plant. If no agreement was reached, the PWA would approve the necessary construction loans and grants.

The question of just what kind of practical formula may be worked out has been turned over to Thomas G. Corcoran and Benjamin V. Cohen, President Roosevelt's two young advisers. If they are successful in evolving a well-defined policy it may be made the basis of a new presidential pronouncement in power.

Reflections

Wade Into It!

Frank W. Long

Have you ever watched a man walking against a strong wind? What did he do? Didn't he bend forward, with head low and arms close to his body and wade into it? That wind represented opposition to him; it represented a force which he must overcome to attain his objective.

The worthwhile things of life are to be found when you Wade Into Them. The reason is that so few people are willing to expend the energy necessary to reach them; the job above you is harder than the one you have, it requires study at night when others are spending their time frivolously; sturdy manhood is attained by self-imposed discipline, a willingness to forego degenerative habits for more wholesome ones. Without strife, without conflict life drifts to an indeterminate destination.

Your goal lies ahead of you! You will reach it if you are willing to Bend Your Head Low and Wade Into It!
