MISS BATES LEAVES FOR CONVENTION

MYRTLE CREEK, June 27.—Southern hospitality will combine with mountain scenery and historic sites in a week's convention for Miss Marjorie Bates, Myrtle Creek, Ore., who left June 24, for Hot Springs, Va.

Miss Bates will attend the 33rd annual convention of Kappa Kappa Gamma women's fraternity, to be held at the Homestead, one of the largest and most exclusive of southern hot springs resorts.

The convention is the first in the south for Kappa Kappa Gamma, one of the oldest of women's fraternities. Founded in 1870, Kappa now has chapters in 72 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada, alumnae associations extending from London to Honolulu and a total membership of about 28,000.

Among prominent members are Dorothy Canfield Fisher, author; Helen Wills Moody, tennis champion; Mary Kinsbury Simkhovitch, director of Greenwich House and author; and Nellie Lee Holt Bok, Philadelphia educator and peace leader.

Announcements will be made of the recipients of the three graduate fellowships, undergraduate scholarships and foreign exchange scholarships. Celebrations of Dominion Day in behalf of Canadian Kappas of the 150th anniversary of the constitution of the United States, and of the founding of Phi Beta Kappa at William and Mary college on Virginia day are features of the week's program.

A real southern mammy breakfast and a cotton ball will be highlight festivities.

Following the convention, Kappas will tour Richmond, Williamsburg and other historic Virginia points. Many will go on to Washington.

ington, D. C., and New York City. Miss Bates, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Bates, will represent Beta Omega chapter at the University of Oregon, Eugene, where she was a junior this year. She is chapter president. She has been active on the campus this year as president of Gamma Alpha Chi, women's national advertising honorary, member of the girls' rifle team, and was chosen as ideal co-ed of the campus.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES PICKNICK HELD AT UNION CREEK CAMP

The postal employees of southern Oregon held a picnic at Union Creek camp ground Sunday and was attended by a large crowd. The picnic was held at the river and was a very successful one. Among those attending were the postmasters from Medford, Jacksonville and Ashland and among the interesting remarks of Frank DeSousa, postmaster from Medford, were history of some of the earlier postoffices of Oregon. The first postoffice was established at Danville, across the river from Rogue River and about half mile down the river. The office was established Oct. 19, 1852, and the first postmaster was Wm. Green "T" Vault. The office was established and discontinued three times and finally discontinued Dec. 2, 1872. The ex-postmaster died in 1869 and his grandson still lives in Medford. Jacksonville office was opened on Feb. 18, 1854. Ashland Mills, now Ashland, opened May 17, 1855. Phoenix on Jan. 3, 1857. Grants Pass March 22, 1865. Linkville, Dec. 11, 1871. Eagle Point April 25, 1872. Central Point the same date. Brownboro Feb. 13, 1873. Sams Valley, Feb. 13, 1873. Woodville, Feb. 8, 1874.

Mrs. Ella Eaton, postmistress at Jacksonville, won the prize for the cachet used for Airmail week. She displayed several from different offices.

J. H. Fuller, postmaster from Ashland stated that he had heard from 27 different offices called Ashland in different states and that the one in Ashland, Ga., had been going for 50 years and that one man was postmaster for 25 years and that his son was postmaster for the last 25 years.

Representatives were present from Portland, Corvallis, Eugene, Roseburg, Bend, Klamath Falls, Medford, Ashland, Jacksonville, Salem, Marshfield and North Bend. The members from Bend were advertising their rodeo to be held July 4.

The clerks and carriers will hold their convention in Corvallis over labor day and will be attended by a large crowd.

Those attending the picnic from here were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Paul McGowan.

NEW YORK VISITORS ARE GUESTS OF MRS. NATALIE VOYT

Mrs. Natalie Voyt had as guests at her apartment home at the Hotel Rose for a few weeks her sister, Mrs. Francis Lewis Bledsoe and daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Bledsoe, and Miss Margaret Abel, all of New York City, New York, and Miss Anne Mousset, of Washington, D. C.

The visitors made the trip west via automobile and during their stay in Oregon, will enjoy numerous trips to points of interest. Mrs. Voyt entertained her guests at a delightful fried chicken dinner yesterday in the attractive garden of Brand's on the North Pacific highway.

Creations of Art With Needlework

By RUTH ORR
PATTERN No. 587

A set of ship and anchor's make this chair set complete and attractive. A linen back ground embroidered in colors that blend with your room is very practical, and with a yard of material and few skeins of cotton, you will have an extremely rich set, which will also protect your furniture.

The pattern envelope contains both iron transfer design for back piece, 14 x 16 and two arm pieces, 7 x 14 inches each, complete easy-to-understand, illustrated directions, also what materials and how much you will need, color suggestions and illustrations of stitches used.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 587, and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address: News-Review Needlework Department, Roseburg, Ore.

The 27th annual convention of the Oregon state chapter, P. E. O. Sisterhood, opens Tuesday with chapter AE of Hood River and chapter AH of Portland as hostesses groups at St. Helens hall in Portland.

Mrs. G. V. Wimberly and Miss Adeline Stewart, of Roseburg chapter, are voting delegates from this city and Mrs. B. A. Young will also attend the convention.

There are 61 chapters in Oregon, each entitled to two delegates, who will represent approximately 1700 members in the state.

Mrs. Chelle Stevens Wright of Colorado, supreme president, is to arrive Tuesday morning. Mrs. Veda Jones, of Portland, who is vice president of the supreme chapter, will share convention honors with Mrs. Wright and will be the main speaker Tuesday afternoon. Her address is to be followed by memorial services conducted by Mrs. J. E. Drummond. Also Tuesday afternoon, the two new chapters, Roseburg and Pendleton, will be presented by Mrs. C. H. Madden, state organizer, and chapters delivered by Mrs. Jones in behalf of the supreme chapter.

There will be an open session Tuesday night, with Mrs. Ella Braly of McMinnville, first vice president of the state chapter, presiding. Two major projects, the educational fund and Cottey college will be presented at this time.

Prominent on Wednesday morning's program will be the address by the supreme president, who will have for her subject "The Star That Rises." At this session also officers will give their reports. The afternoon session will feature the welfare and trust fund, which is in charge of the second vice president, Mrs. Orah H. Buhl of Albany. Mrs. R. A. Harcourt will entertain with a reading.

At 7 p. m. Wednesday, the B. I. L. husbands of P. E. O. members, will give an informal banquet at the neighbors of Woodcraft hall, H. W. Bruck, chairman. The main speaker will be C. A. Sprague of Salem. Reservations are in charge of Mrs. George Holmes, who requests that they be made at an early date.

The highlight Thursday morning will be a talk on "Application" by Mrs. Thomas A. Verdenius, past president of the Portland council. The afternoon will be occupied with routine business and election and installation of new officers.

In order that delegates may get acquainted better, the Portland council will sponsor a tea Tuesday afternoon following the business session, announces the council president, Mrs. E. W. Moreland. The tea will be held at St. Helens hall and all P. E. O. members are invited. The music chairman, Mrs. A. W. Gusey, will present the Eugene trio, Mrs. Lora Ware, cello; Mrs. Roxanna Waldorf, violin; and Mrs. Esther Payne, pianist. All three are members of chapter AM, Eugene.

SWASTIKA BORNE IN FRANCE BY NEGROES

BOSTON (AP)—Adolf Hitler might not be interested in this, but the Nazi swastika emblem was carried into battle by the only American Negro artillery brigade, the 167th, to serve in the World war.

The swastika was chosen as an ancient symbol of good fortune, says the brigade's wartime commander, John H. Sherbourne, now an attorney here.

"Those were magnificent men," he recalls, "well-disciplined, cheerful, excellent troops. They came from Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio and Indiana, and in the ranks were all the specialists I needed, such as wireless operators and draftsmen."

"They could sight a gun better than white men," he added. "Our brigade had only 200 horses and mules instead of 2,000, so those men sometimes pulled the guns anywhere up to three miles into position."

The brigade went into action October 15, 1918, along the Meuse river at Pont au Mousson north of Nancy. It was under fire until the armistice.
