IDEA OF COALITION BEGINS TO VANISH

Anti-New Deal Demos Not Likely to Have Backing of Republicans.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER. WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP)—Organized republican support of conservative democrats in this year's elections appeared today to be fading from the realm of political possibilities.

Although keeping the way open for anti-administration democrats to line up with them, republican leaders apparently have decided to fight their battles in all states behind their own party candidates.

A month ago coalition tendencies were evident in at least three states—Missouri, Utah and Indiana. Reports circulated in republican circles here that conservative democrats seeking election to the senate from those states would be supported aggressively by members of the party normally in opposition.

But two powerful republican groups have changed the situation. These are the county officeholders, whose political careers begin and end in the "grass roots," and the party's national leadership as represented by Chairman John Hamilton.

Reaction Develops. The "grass roots" reaction against coalition developed first in Missouri. Some of the state republican leaders there had been inclined to back Senator Bennett Champ Clark, frequent critic of Roosevelt policies, who has strong support for democratic renomination in August.

Since that time, however, former Governor Henry S. Caulfield and others have entered the race for the republican nomination. Democrats from the "grass roots" for party uniformity and an active campaign, in the opinion of republican leaders here, mean that such republican support as Clark may get will come from individuals and not from the party organization.

A similar situation, they say, exists in Indiana, where Senator Frederick Van Nuys hopes for some republican backing. Van Nuys lost the support of the democratic organization in his state after opposing the Roosevelt court bill last year.

Chairman Hamilton has emphasized repeatedly the theme that while republicans would be happy to have the support of anti-administration democrats, they should not give up their republicanism.

Visitors at the Mrs. L. C. Devore home Thursday were Mrs. Devore's nephew, Chester Moore and wife of Center City, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Newbert of Alameda, Calif., who were returning home from a vacation trip to Rainier park and other points north.

MOTOR CAUTION ON JULY 3-4 STRESSED

A Fourth of July holiday free from traffic deaths in Oregon is the objective of a campaign announced by Secretary of State Snell, who pointed out that more lives are lost on the highways than at any other spot during the national holiday.

"This is not to be regarded as a special campaign, separate from our year-round safety endeavors," Snell declared. "But since the Fourth of July presents such a serious traffic problem, with thousands of motorists simultaneously planning long trips, I feel it is important that the need for safe driving should be particularly stressed at this time."

Snell asked organizations to give some consideration to traffic safety over the Fourth of July. He reported that Oregon newspapers and radio stations are cooperating in bringing the need for safety before the public, and that the national safety council has organized a drive throughout the nation with the same purpose.

STRIKE PLEDGED BY RAILWAY MEN

Proposed Wage Cut Won't Be Accepted; Jobless Insurance Approved.

NEW YORK, June 27.—(AP)—Two thousand railway workers—including delegates representing 26,000 other railroad employees on 12 roads—pledged today to strike rather than submit to a wage reduction.

At a meeting yesterday protesting a proposed 15 per cent wage cut, they adopted resolutions endorsing a strike if necessary to avert the reduction, and condemning railroad management and high salaries for executives.

"We are not in sympathy with this sort of mismanagement and certainly in no mood to donate to the railroads 15 per cent or any part of 15 per cent of our present inadequate wages," the strike resolution read. It was forwarded to the officers of the railway brotherhoods.

Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia told the group, which included members of 21 railroad unions, that he doubted that a wage cut could be made.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt approved today an act establishing a separate system of unemployment insurance for the nation's 900,000 railroad workers.

The measure substitutes a single national system for benefits states now pay in conjunction with the social security program.

The act provides benefits ranging from $1.75 to $3 a day with a maximum possible annual payment of 80 times the daily rate. It must be made operative before July 1, 1939.
