"Test Pilot" Has Star Triumverate In Stirring Roles

Gable, Loy, Tracy Open on . . . Screen in New Aviation Epic.

Acclaimed by aviation experts the most authentic aviation story ever filmed, "Test Pilot," starring Clark Gable, Myrna Loy and Spencer Tracy comes to the Indian theatre Thursday for a three-day engagement.

Based on an original story by Lieutenant - Commander Frank Wead, the story is steeped in colorful traditions of the men who are building the future of aviation, test pilots who try new ships before they are approved.

Thrilling flying sequences, filmed with nine ground cameras, and nine aerial cameras for a new type triangle. Clark Gable, in the title role, is divided between his love for Myrna Loy and his love of flying. The conflict between his wife and his job is the basis of a plot which incorporates scenes from national air races, testing of new planes, riotous night club sequences and touching romantic scenes between Gable and Myrna Loy.

Victor Fleming and Louis D. Lighton, director and producer respectively of "Captains Courageous," were reunited in making Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's first aviation picture in more than two years.

Paul Mantz, co-pilot and navigator with Amelia Earhart, served as technical advisor on the picture. He was assisted by Ray Moore, nationally prominent racing flyer, as many of the scenes in the picture are centered around the National Air Races at Cleveland.
