Illustrations

SOME time ago Dorothy Thompson, noted writer who has a wide knowledge of European affairs, made an apt illustration of current theories of government.
 Communism, she said, may be illustrated as follows: If you owned two cows the communist state would take them away and give you a quart of milk as needed.
 The fascist state would let you keep the two cows, order you to milk them regularly and would take away the milk.
 The socialist state would take away one of the cows and give it to somebody else so that more people could have cows.

To the above is added that under the new deal the plan would simply be to kill one of the cows.
 With reference to the latter, an unkindly soul adds that after the new deal had killed one of the cows it would butcher it and send the meat to Brazil or to China.

Such illustrations are, of course, semi-comic but there is enough of the fundamental reasoning of the various governmental philosophies to cause serious thought.

Our own country with more unemployed than in any other country on earth, has pursued a doctrine of scarcity. The idea seems to be to encourage LESS production so that prices will be thereby artificially raised—making the realists for the unemployed who can buy very little anyway.
 cost finally more than they can afford to pay. There is something about that theory which sounds like the idea of killing one of the cows.

A Gold Watch and Work

RETIREMENT is an insult to a man who is still capable of doing his work and wants to do it.
 Retirement, intended as a reward, often turns out to be a punishment. Entertained idleness is seldom fun.

A brokerage firm in New York deftly removed the ailing from one retirement the other day, and many firms might do their employees and themselves a considerable favor by following suit in appropriate cases.

The time had come to retire a man who had served the regulation period to make him eligible, but he had started with the firm as a boy, and now he was only 42 —scarcely ready for the wheel chair yet. He didn't want to stop work, and the firm didn't want to make him stop, but it did recognize its obligation to reward 30 years' service in some way.

So the man was put on a pension, and given a gold watch, and dined, and slapped on the back—and then informed that if he felt like coming down to work the next day he could, but if he didn't want to he didn't have to. At last reports the man was still coming down to work.

From here, that looks pretty sensible. The firm retains an asset, and the man's service is rewarded with a feature extended as a privilege, instead of a penal term.

would try was useless and wasted
 in his time.

THIS is the point:
 Men do not achieve by THEMSELVES ALONE, but by the aid and the cooperation of OTHER MEN working with them toward the same objectives.

WHAT a truly abundant life we might achieve if, instead of FIGHTING each other, men could learn to COOPERATE COM-PLETELY!

BARBS

A cook who sued a farm hand for divorce the other day charged he often sank his teeth into her arm in fits of rage. It seems she didn't want to go on feeding the hand that bit her.

The two psychologists who lived together in a cave for 33 days to make tests came out with the announcement they couldn't agree on their findings. It doesn't take that much living together for a lot of people to find they can't agree on anything.

Now that somebody has designed a woman's pocketbook that can be worn as a hat, why doesn't somebody design a woman's hat that can't possibly be worn?

Italy is sending two cruisers around the world this summer to demonstrate her naval strength.
 It's certainly going to be humiliating when they run into those Atlantic war games.

America, it is disclosed, sends 41 million false teeth abroad every year — to enable European politicians to send back 41 million false political doctrines.

LETTERS to the Editor

BUYING OF OUTSIDE FRUIT, SWIM POOL PLANS DISLIKED

Hello, Roseburg taxpayers:
 Did you ever read "Acres of Diamonds"? And feel sorry, and pitied the foolish man who left his farm, which was later discovered to be the richest diamond field ever known, to travel in foreign countries in search of diamonds?—the very things which were in his own backyard? It was too bad the man didn't wake up and look around to learn what he already possessed. But isn't that like us Roseburg citizens? Will somebody someone city us and say "foolish people, what a dumb trick you pulled." All right, folks, set down and figure out two main issues confronting us today. (Boy, am I going to have a lot of people on my neck!) Figure in black and white, because if we don't we will be nominees for the next political office—the deflation of which in some one who has a beautifully built dream, but hasn't torn it up by figuring whether it will be the best and profitable way to lead us to a promising future. You will agree with me, won't you, that Roseburg is hit worse financially this year than any year during the depression. I know most of the merchants will say "that's right," we must do something, we must have a payroll." All right, why not build what we have in our own backyard? We have a cannery that must send out of town to bag enough fruit to can. Why can't we raise fruit? Because we can't hire men off our WPA roll to help us harvest that fruit. Did you know it was harder to get a man to help in the hay harvest today than it was in war time, when we didn't have the men? We have a fortune in fruit and vegetables in our own back yard. Why aren't we cultivating that? Have you bought a can of fruit from our cannery? If you want a nice dessert that is healthy as well as delicious, buy a can of our home-canned prunes instead of buying expensive pineapples, dates, bananas, that are shipped in from foreign countries. Come on, let's hoe out the weeds from our acres of diamonds.

I noticed in the paper that Roseburg is just waking up to the fact she needs a swimming pool, so she is spending several thousand just for a lot, by the way tearing down a beautiful little home created by one of the best artists Roseburg will ever know.

Some time ago I woke up with one of those funny dreams and I ran excitedly around collecting information and reasons why we never had a swimming pool. The chamber of commerce showed me just how expensive that would be and how little benefit it has been for other cities. But I never figured out they had ever done anything to help Roseburg build anyway. So I sent out half a dozen letters to investigate the matter elsewhere, and went to different leaders of organizations to find what they were doing. Then, I went to our mayor, a fine fellow, a man who really cuts work his and our problems in black and white. The result was: Why not take the money we are paying for our lot away from the river and buy a place on the river, and next year the new sewer system will be in operation, so we can have a clean, healthy place for swimmers, besides a place for our families to go picnicking, etc. Do you know how much it will cost us to keep up the swimming pool, let alone build it? If we pay the same price per gallon of water that we pay to water our few flowers around the house, we will be pouring a big pile of money in the pool every time we fill it. How foolish, when we have the prettiest river in any state in our own back yard. Wouldn't it be fun to build that park on the river with diving boards, boats and floats. Did you ever see a canoe race? Wouldn't you like to?

Shall we build our own prosperity or shall we move out of town or go on the WPA roll? Sincerely, B. HAGAN.

ANGELENOS REACH TIE FOR TOP SPOT

Santos Beaten 3 Straight Mainly Through Work of Statz and Lillard.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—(AP)—If Arnold Statz and Gene Lillard took a nice long vacation, say until the end of the present Pacific Coast league baseball season, the Sacramento Solons would be delighted.

These two gentlemen, center-fielder and pitcher respectively for the Los Angeles Angels, have been a pain in the neck for the Solons since they started their current series with the Angels. Statz and Lillard, between them, have been responsible for three straight Los Angeles wins and have pushed the Angels into a tie with the Senators for first place. Last night Lillard fanned 11 and won a 6-to-1 victory while Statz continued his sensational fielding to cut off possible Sacramento runs.

Tuesday Statz punched the winning run across and then later saved the day for the Angels with a sensational catch. Wednesday Lillard went in as a pinch hitter and with a triple sent two runs across the plate to tie the score and Statz followed with a single to put the winning run across.

Lillard limited the Solons to eight hits last night, one of them a homer by Marshall which robbed Lillard of a shutout. Lillard has won 13 games and fanned 119 this season.

Freddie Wins 14th
 Seattle's Freddie Hutchinson won his 14th game of the season when Seattle annihilated the Hollywood Stars, 15 to 3. It was a real ball game until the fifth inning, when the Seattle batters got the range of Tost and before the inning was over 10 runs had crossed the plate.

Salvo, San Diego's pitching ace and strikeout king of the league, won his 16th game when the Padres faced the San Francisco Seals for the third straight time, 11 to 2. He fanned eight to raise his strikeout total for the season to 121.

Portland nosed out the Oakland A's, 2 to 1, when an Oakland error and a two-bagger brought one run home in the third and three hits another in the fourth.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 14.—(AP)—The strange experience of Robert Austed, 15, and Robert Watson, 11, who went huckle-berrying near Trail, B. C., and shot a grizzly bear with a .22 rifle and a badger with a big-game rifle was related here today by Capt. Roy D. Brown, Watsons' uncle.

The "stranger than fiction" story was substantiated by the carcasses with the bullet holes showing which rifle had killed which beast.

The boys took their guns along and a camera when they went into the hills but hid the heavier 30-30 rifle and the camera under a tree while they started to climb a steep hill after berries.

The berries were thick and the boys busy when Watson saw the grizzly, which later weighed 800 pounds at Trail, heading toward the same huckleberry bush.

Without considering his risk, Watson told his uncle, he seized the small shot rifle and fired at the bear. The shot entered the brain just under the ear and the bear fell pawing frantically. Two more shots, delivered at close range, killed the bear.

LEFTY GROVE'S ARM SUDDENLY "DIES"

Shutout Prospect Ends as Great Hurler Is Unable to Even Grip Ball.

By SID FEDER
 Associated Press Sports Writer.
 They had Jean Lefty Grove in a hospital today with a "dead arm," and the rumor started the rounds that Old Moss may not pitch any more this year.

Of course, there's no definite word yet that the greatest south-paw of his generation is on the shelf, and first reports from physicians indicated things may not be as bad as at first suspected. But when a pitching arm, particularly a 38-year-old pitching arm, can't even hold a ball, let alone fire it across, you can look for almost anything.

Bad Break for Boston
 It would be the toughest kind of a break for Lefty, for Tom Yawkey, and most of all, for the Boston Red Sox, if the ailing souborn that sent the Great Grove to the hospital yesterday should keep him on the sidelines.

Grove, with his fast one gone but his pitching "brains" working better than ever, seeped headed for one of the greatest campaigns in his 11-year career. Yesterday's 12-1 walloping the Sox handed the Detroit Tigers was the pitcher's 14th win of the season, even though Wilson had to finish. With the campaign just about half over, and Lefty showing no signs of letting up, it's reasonable to assume he might have won 28 games, which, they'll tell you, is fair to middlin' flugging.

It was positively weird the way it happened yesterday. There was Lefty, going along great, tossing shutout ball. All of a sudden, in the fifth inning, his salary wing folded. There was no muscular reaction. He couldn't even grip the ball.

"I've never had such an experience before," he related afterward. Physicians wouldn't even hazard an opinion until, as they explained, they completed long diagnosis and extensive X-ray examination.

Pirates Stretch Lead
 The unfortunate collapse of Lefty's arm was the top development of a big league program that saw the Pittsburgh Pirates pull half-game in front of the Giants in the National league race, and the Yankees remain at the head of the American league flag chase.

The Pirates scored twice in the ninth on a wild pitch to tie, and then won out 3-2 in the 11th over the Dodgers. The Giants dropped a 1-0 decision to the Cincinnati Reds, with a pair of errors producing the only run in their third straight defeat.

Shortly afterward, Manager Terry announced indefinite suspension, without pay, for his No. 1 catcher, Harry Danning, who has been ailing several days. Although Terry said it was for breaking training, mystery surrounded the whole business.

Henrich's homer sparked the Yanks to a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns in a game cut to seven innings by rain. There was no change in the standings, however, since Cleveland whipped the Washington Senators 5-1.

Bryant tossed a three-hitter and Leo a five-hitter as the Cubs clouted the Phillies twice, 3 and 5-1. The Boston Bees fired a 16th bombardment and trampled the Cardinals 10-5. The White Sox topped the Athletics 5-8.

FUGITIVE TWINS NABBED IN CHASE

WALLA WALLA, July 15.—(AP)—Washington and Oregon state and county officers returned Buck and Frank Lank, 18-year-old twin brothers from Rockford, Ill., here last night after a wild chase through fences and fields in the western part of the county.

Sheriff C. A. Woodward, Walla Walla, said the boys were suspected of a holdup at Tyler, Spokane county.

The Lanks jumped from their automobile near Burbank after Sheriff Woodward followed them from the Snake river bridge. One of the youths, the sheriff said, carried a pistol and their automobile bore stolen license plates. The sheriff watched while Ed Herrington, Burbank, called assistance.

Sheriff Robert Goad and deputies from Pendleton, Oregon state police from as far away as Baker, and a Walla Walla air enthusiast joined the chase and the Lanks surrendered.

FINLAND LIKELY TO GET 1940 OLYMPIAD

Spartan Simplicity Sure to Prevail If Games Go to Northland Area.

By GAYLE TALBOT
 NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—Now that Japan has tossed in the towel, with 1940 Olympic games are almost certain to be conducted in Helsinki, Finland, a city of 200,000 in the far north, only a brief reindeer drive from the Arctic circle.

The site, if approved by the international Olympic committee at a special meeting to be called by its president, Count Lathour of Belgium, will supply in great quantities the basic simplicity that the Olympic folks have been wanting to get back to.

When the Finns originally bid for the 1940 games, and lost
