

HARLAN MISTRIAL
COST IS $350,000

Jury in Labor Conspiracy Case Stood 7 to 5 for Defense, Report.

LONDON, Ky., Aug. 2.—(AP)—The federal government and the defense in the eleven weeks Harlan anti-labor conspiracy mistrial spent an estimated $350,000 without a decision whether a conviction is possible on a criminal violation under the Wagner labor act.

Court attaches made the estimate after Federal Judge Ford late yesterday discharged the hopelessly deadlocked jury which had deliberated 9 hours and 53 minutes.

Brien McMahon, chief of the government counsel, announced today FBI men would go back into Harlan county immediately to stay until the next trial. He said the number was uncertain but that it would not be the same crew that conducted the pre-trial investigation.

When the jury was discharged McMahon moved for an immediate retrial. Judge Ford set September 17 at Lexington as the time he will hear the government motion.

Thirty-nine individuals, many of them former peace officers and 16 corporations were tried on charges they conspired to prevent unloading of the Harlan coal fields under the labor act.

While there were no exact figures available from the defense and government on the cost of the trial, the prosecution had estimated expenses during the trial would run around $100,000. Court attaches estimated the defense had spent more.

Jury Foreman L. E. Johnson, a general store proprietor, told the judge the jury stood 7 to 5. Individual jurors said later seven were for acquittal and five for conviction. Of the seven voting acquittal, court attaches said they understood reliably four were Clay county men.

During the trial Judge Ford reprimanded several Clay county men for "rambling" back and forth near the rooming houses where jurors lived with one of the defendants. He told them to stay away from the house and then had federal marshals to rope over a wide area around the place.

SENATOR LEWIS TO RESIGN NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Senator James Hamilton Lewis (D., Ill.) said today he intended to resign from the senate next year in order to devote his full time to private business.

Lewis said he would continue to serve in the next session of congress but would quit in time for nomination and election of a successor in 1940.

He told reporters he would have resigned this year except he desired to remain in congress to support President Roosevelt.

In 1930, Lewis said, a "new president" would be elected and the issues will be different.

The Illinois senator, 72 years old, entered public life as a member of the Washington state legislature 40 years ago. He was first elected to the senate in 1913 from Illinois. His present term in the senate, his third, began in 1935.

Lewis told reporters he had "obligations I am compelled to recognize" in private life and added he also believed others should be given an opportunity to receive the honor of election to the senate.

In private life, Lewis is a lawyer.

Uncle Sam Finishing Up World's Biggest Earth-Filled Dam

As Fort Peck Dam across the Missouri river in northeastern Montana nears completion the thing about the great public works project that impresses the visitor is the vastness of the job the government is wading up. The picture above shows the project, largest earth-filled dam ever built, stretching for nearly four miles across the rolling valley of the Missouri. The main fill will be 8500 feet across and will rise 231 feet above the river bed. Seen in the center of the photo are the openings to the four diversion tunnels that will carry the normal flow of water around the dam and on down the river after the reservoir fills up to form a lake 175 miles long and 15 miles wide in some places. The railroad spurs seen in the picture are part of the 57 miles of track used to carry supplies.

CONTROL OF RELIEF VOTES IS CHARGED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The senate campaign expenditures committee said today it was "certainly organized efforts have been made and are being made to control the vote of those on relief work" in the Kentucky senatorial primary.

Calling the situation "deplorable," the committee also said contributions had been sought and obtained from federal employees "in behalf of one of the senatorial candidates."

"It is equally certain," the committee asserted, "state officials charged in part with the distribution of federal funds for old age assistance and for unemployment compensation have been required to contribute from their salaries and of their services in the interest of another candidate for the United States senate."

The candidates for the democratic senatorial nomination in Kentucky are Senator Barkley, the floor leader, and Gov. A. E. Chaney.
