POET'S CORNER

THE BOWL

By G. M. LEEPER

That lovely bowl
Was broken by broken,
The bowl that held
So many things—
Roses, red roses,
Not just common ones
And lovely, perfect,
Pure white roses,
The ones that grow
Where lovely ladies walk
Lovely, divine—
And that bowl, it's broken,
The bowl that had held
So many things,
Severe to tinkle and ring,
To the touch of finger tips,
Long tinted and tapering;
And the hands so lovely
That arranged the roses;
Nothing but the finest
The bowl ever held,
For the finest
Were none too good,
But it was broken—
And would not ring
With that clear note
Of purity,
Yes, that's the way it was
Someone had broken the bowl
That had held so many things;
Fine rare fruits, so sweet
It had been filled many times
And ladies had smiled
Across the bowl full of flowers
But now it was broken, a broken,
It should never have happened;
Folks are so careless!
And the bowl was such a rare lovely thing,
It would be foolish to mend it;
It would be just a dull piece of clay
Without that sweet little answer
To the touch, that ring of purity,
That only the finest have,
But some careless person
Had broken the bowl
That had held so many things;

Roses, red and white,
Not just common roses;
Ah no, those long slender buds,
So fragrant and rare,
So lovely and tinted
As the fingers that gathered
And then the bowl,
It was quite worthy
To hold the flowers
And the fragrance of them
Seemed to have pierced the glass
And even after it was broken
That bowl so rare,
The fragrance of the roses
Still linger there.

DEFENDANT GIVEN SUPPORT CHANCE

Vernon Moore, recently arrested on a non-support charge, was ordered held for the grand jury, following appearance in the justice court but was released from custody upon his own recognizance.

Moore, who made voluntary appearance following notification of the charge against him, told the court that he was employed as a woodcutter and had been unable to pay the $20 per month order by the court. He stated he had paid from $5 to $15 per month, according to the money he could obtain, and that it was impossible for him to increase the amounts in view of his present circumstances.

Because the amount was not the sum specified by the circuit court, he was ordered held for grand jury investigation. His subsequent release was accompanied by instructions to provide all possible support money for his minor children until the grand jury can act upon his case.

BIG FISH LANDED AT DIAMOND LAKE

Fly fishing, which has been only fair at Diamond lake so far this season, is showing some improvement, according to word received from George L. Howard, concessionaire, Hugh Brown of Applegate, Oregon, took a 74-pound rainbow on a bucktail coachman fly this week. Mr. Howard reports, the largest fish of the week was a 9-pound, 6-ounce rainbow taken by C. D. Dillan, Los Angeles, who also caught a four-pounder. Dr. Paul Holbeck, Los Angeles, reported in with a 5-pound, 4-ounce trout.

Trolling is definitely good, Mr. Howard reports, with excellent catches being made on spinners baited with worms. Good success also is reported on rainbow and red-head trout. Stream fishing is very good in the Diamond lake area, Mr. Howard reports. He also sends word that mosquitoes, very troublesome earlier in the season, are practically all gone.

TENNIS FINALISTS BATTLE TONIGHT

Finals in the men's city tennis doubles tournament will be played at 6 o'clock this evening by Louis Miles and Royd Bruton against Ivan Hatfield and Rex Applegate. In the semi-final round, Miles and Bruton won from Hines and Boucek, 6-2, 6-3, and Hatfield and Applegate defeated Kinzel and Dunning in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4.

ROSEBLOOM TAKES ON PASTOR TONIGHT

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 5.—(AP)—A clever old man who fought 360 professional bouts in 15 years and won most of them, Maxie Rosenbloom, meets clever young Bob Pastor in a ten-round bout here tonight.

The 34-year-old and bald-headed Rosenbloom insists the bout will be his last ring appearance.

For Rosenbloom, always the possessor of a flare for theatricals in the ring and out, plans to give himself entirely to histrionics hereafter. He has been playing character roles in pictures and is an entertainer at a night club bearing his name.

The odds were 10 to 8 Pastor would win and there were many who thought the 23-year-old New Yorker, whose chief bid to fame is the fact he stayed the limit against Joe Louis, current heavyweight champion, might score one of the few knockouts recorded against Slapsie Maxie.

Rosenbloom will hold a weight edge of approximately seven pounds going into the ring at around 190.

PADRES KEEP COAST FLAG RACE KNOTTED

(By the Associated Press)

The San Francisco Seals desire to stay in third place and the San Diego Padres' efforts to pull them out of it is keeping the Pacific coast baseball league leadership tied in a big knot.

They made things decidedly unpleasant yesterday for the Los Angeles Angels and Sacramento Senators, joint leaders of the circuit.

The Seals trounced the Angels 6 to 3 for their 13th victory in 14 games. Aging Win Ballou, who leads the circuit's pitchers, although he can't hurl a full game, came to the relief of the Seals to check an Angel rally in the eighth inning.

Salvo, San Diego speed ball artist, stopped the Senators 6 to 1 for his 18th win of the season. He fanned 13 to run his strike-out total up to 165.

Smart base running by Hill robbed Nicholas of a shutout as he hurled the Hollywood Stars to a 5-to-1 victory over the Oakland Athletics. Nicholas allowed only five hits but he made a mistake when he walked Hill in the second. Hill raced to third on an infield out and then stole home.

Six two buggers and two home runs paved the way for 12 to 0 shutout by Seattle over the Portland Beavers. Gregory limited the Beavers to four hits. He fanned seven and issued only a pair of walks.

LEAGUES' LEADERS SLATED FOR CLASHES

Giants vs. Pirates, Yanks vs. Indians on Baseball Schedule Today.

By SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Another of those "turning points" that have had this season swinging along in a groove somewhere between a merry-go-round and a streak of lightning, pops up in both major leagues today.

The New York Yankees, enjoying their gaudiest western whirl of the year, tangle with Cleveland's persistent Indians in a series for the American league leadership. And the New York Giants, doddering along 53 games off the National league pace, make a last-ditch stand in their own grounds against the front-running Pirates of Pittsburgh.

By virtue of hanging an 8-4 beating on the Detroit Tigers yesterday while the Tribe's tilt with the Red Sox was rained out, the Yanks invade Cleveland with a 24 game lead. The Giants were blanked 6-0 by the Chicago Cubs and, although the Bucs lost 4-3 to the Boston Bees, Terry's Terriers were left seven games back on the all-important losing edge.

Both of the three-game sets are opening with pitching surprises. The Giants, coated with whitewash yesterday for the second time in three days and the 12th time this season, are lifting the suspension on Cliff Melton, southpaw, who will start against the Pirates. Traynor's hired hands are bringing Rookie Bob Klinger off the hospital list for his first outing since he discovered he couldn't pitch off a sore arm on July 24.

The victories for the Cubs and Bees comprised the only business transacted in the National league yesterday. The Cub conquest was registered on a six-hit flinging job by Lefty Larry French, while Macfayden did the honors for the Bees.

Beaten twice by the Athletics on Wednesday, the Chicago White Sox reversed the proceedings yesterday. Thornton Lee's six-hitter took an 8-2 decision in the opener, and the whole club ganged up for a 17-hit attack for a 7-3 edge in the nightcap. Kelley's steady hurling and Honura's four hits gave the Senators an easy 10-4 win over the Browns.
