

GREENBERG CLOUTS 3 HOMERS IN 1 DAY

Detroit Slugger Now Five Up On Part-Way Mark Set by Babe Ruth.

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

They've plugged up the hole in Hank Greenberg's bat, and the big fellow is firing at Babe Ruth's record again.

For a couple of weeks there, Big Hank might just as well have been battling with a toothpick for the ground he was picking up in chasing the Babe's all-time mark of 60 homers in one year.

But in the last two days, the St. Louis Browns' pitchers rolled into Detroit and showed Hank the hole in his stick, through which enemy elbows were throwing their special tomes. Hank promptly plugged it up and busted five choice offerings of the Brownie flingers out of the park in two days, to bring his season four-base total to 41.

Three of these round-trip tickets came yesterday as the Tigers clicked for a doubleheader victory, 8-7 and 7-4, and accounted for eight of the 15 Detroit runs.

Passes Ruth's Mark.
The net result of Hank's fire-works was to boost him considerably in front of Ruth's record again. Ruth didn't clout his 41st in 1927 until his 123rd game, and had only 36 at his 193rd.

Thus, Hank is some five up on the Babe, a margin that may turn the trick if he holds it through September 1 and can continue the cannonading through the final month of the season, as Ruth did with his gaudy 17 in September '27.

Fox's Clouts 33rd.
The double win yesterday also boosted the Tigers to within a game of fourth place in the American league standings, since Washington's Senators, current holders of that spot, dropped a 4-3 ten inning decision to the Boston Red Sox. Jimmy Fox, that other home run specialist, whacked his 33rd in that engagement.

The league-leading Yankees, however, weren't bothering much about such lowly spots as third and fourth place, for they whipped the Athletics, 5-2, on Chandler's six-hit pitching, to climb ten games in front in the junior circuit race. The second place Cleveland Indians were thumped, 7-2, by the Chicago White Sox.

HAL TURPIN BLANKS SACRAMENTO TEAM

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Los Angeles and Sacramento were like the anchored balloons—neither able to make headway—today in their race for top of the coast league standings.

The anchors were the San Diego Padres, who defeated Los Angeles 7 to 3 last night, and Seattle's rising Suda, victorious 2 to 0 over Sacramento. The results left Sacramento still 3½ games behind the Angels.

San Francisco split a doubleheader with Portland, taking the first game 3 to 2 but dropping the second 2 to 1.

Babich fanned 10 Oakland players as Hollywood clubbed out a 4 to 1 win over bottom-place Onka.

Hal Turpin, the "nothing ball" hurler from Yoncalla, Ore., beat southpaw Alker in a pitching duel as Seattle made it three straight over Sacramento and edged up to within half a game of third place San Francisco.

Gibson, with the aid of one-third of an inning relief pitching by Hal-lou, kept Portland in hand in the doubleheader opener while the Seals gathered nine hits off Liska to win.

Shores, allowing three hits, lost a heart-winger to Portland's Ken Douglas in the seventh inning second game. Third baseman Jeffries drove in Portland's two runs with a double in the third frame. Douglas kept the Seals' five hits spread and an error accounted for the only run against him.

'Fair's Unfair,' Cry Fair Exposition Pickets

With their theme the "Fair's unfair," Golden Gate Exposition "theme" girls picketed offices of the Exposition in San Francisco, protesting an edit from the Fair management that henceforth no "leg" pictures would be used in publicizing the exposition. "No more legs," firmly said the fair management. "Phooey," said the girls. "The Tower of the Sun has no sex appeal."

First Link in Central Valley Project Completed

First section of the mighty Central Valley Project in California to be constructed is the initial four-mile section of the Contra Costa Canal, a part of which is pictured here. This view shows a big dragline excavating a section from Rock Slough on the San Joaquin River to the site of the first pumping plant near Oakley. The canal ultimately will extend 40 miles, and the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation has started work on the next eight-mile section.

Only a couple of Joe E. Brown's could do justice to the harmonica on which the two lovelies—Paula Patton, left, and Mercedes Sana—try out a few swing notes at the Music Industries Trade Show in Chicago. The 320-note harmonica was shown with $2,000,000 worth of instruments at the show. Three thousand music dealers attended.

HOW TO WIN CUSTOMERS and Influence People

Newspaper reading begins in childhood, when parents "read the funnies" to their children, and continues on through life as one of our most persistent daily habits. Little wonder, then, that newspapers influence people.

The intense interest of newspaper readers in local and telegraph news, in picture pages, sports, comics, editorials, and advertising, provides advertisers with their greatest opportunity to win the attention of prospects, to convert them into customers and friends.

With newspaper advertising you can command the attention of every "able-to-read" member of the family, of nearly every able-to-buy" family in your trading territory.

Use this newspaper to win new customers and to influence people favorably toward the commodities and services you have for sale.
