THELMA ESTHER MADISON BECOMES BRIDE FRIDAY OF HOMER CLAY LADD

A delightful late-summer affair was the marriage of Thelma Esther Madison to Homer Clay Ladd, last Friday morning, at 10:30, August 26th.

The bride, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Madison, of Kellogg, at whose home the wedding took place, was attired in a beautiful formal gown of pale green satin and carried pink and blue bouquets, with pale yellow snapdragons and asparagus ferns, tied with gold ribbons.

Attending her was her sister, Mae Louise Madison, in a formal pale pink tulle gown. Virginia Preston Anderson at the piano, in formal gown of pink lace, played the wedding march and later joined the bridal group, of which were Thelma, Homer, and Edgar, both Maxine Haddock in formal gowns of pastel blue, were also attendants.

The beautiful, impressive ring ceremony was read by Rev. Paul Jones of Elkton and witnessing the nuptials, besides the bride's parents and little brother and sister, Jimmie and Lorna Belle, were Mrs. Anna H. Madison, of Kellogg, and the following from Kellogg and Elkton: Mr. and Mrs. George Madison, and granddaughters, Donna and Darlene, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Madison and son, Gale, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Madison and son, Laurence, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mode and sons, Francis, Dale, Donald and Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ladd and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Rader.

After congratulations, the bride's mother, assisted by Mrs. Frank Madison, Mrs. Roy Ladd and Mrs. Boyd Rader, served lovely refreshments, after which the couple departed, amid a shower of rice for a short honeymoon trip over the McKeanie pass.

The bride, a graduate of Elkton high school, class of 1937, has spent most of her life at Kellogg, except for a few years in Roseburg, where she attended the Fullerton school and high school.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ladd, of Drumnigh, Okla., high school graduate and student of Tulsa, Okla., business college, has been a resident of the Kellogg vicinity for the past two years.

A week ago Mrs. Ladd was the honor guest at a delightful bridal shower given by Mrs. Max Bauer and attended by the Kellogg and Elkton ladies, who presented Mrs. Ladd with many useful and beautiful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ladd will reside at Elkton, where they will be at home to their many friends.

MISS EDNA LONG AND CLEO PETERSON MARRIED AT PRETTY GARDEN WEDDING

In the beautiful garden of the W. A. Long home on Umpqua avenue, Miss Edna Long, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Long, became the bride of Cleo Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Peterson, of Junction City, Sunday, August 28. Dr. Charles A. Edwards performed the ceremony at three o'clock in the afternoon.

The garden was especially beautiful with numerous blossoms and bouquets attractively arranged about the lawn. The ceremony was performed before a huge lattice heart decorated with fall flowers and evergreens.

Mrs. Clinton Gorthy sang, "The Sunshine of Your Smile," followed by "Marche Nuptiale" Wedding March, played by Miss Vera Gorthy. The bride was lovely in a long blue tulle afternoon gown and carried a colonial bouquet of red Brunner roses. Mrs. Doris Long acted as matron of honor and was charming in a gown of blue net over pale blue silk. Kent Peterson, of Junction City, acted as best man to his brother.

A reception followed the ceremony and the beautifully decorated and tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride. Winifred Coffell, Doris Maynard, Mrs. Barbara Long, Mrs. Doris Long, and Vera Gorthy, wearing afternoon long frocks in pastel shades, served.

Guests attending the wedding included Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Edwards, Mrs. Carl Jorgensen, of Edgemoor, Mrs. Ted Kowalski, of Monmouth, Mrs. H. P. Roovers, and Jens, Elsie and Helga Roovers, Elsie and Ellen Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Peterson and Kent Peterson, all of Junction City; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Long, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hansen and daughter, Ruth, and son, Bobbie, Mrs. William Stilling and son, William, George Long, Rob Lindstrom, and Mrs. Fred Long, Mr. and Mrs. Art Long, Mrs. Clinton Gorthy and Jean, Miss Vera Gorthy, Mrs. Jean Long and daughter, Norma Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Aldred Kemp and sons, Elwyn and Ronald, Mr. and Mrs. M. Kemp, of Glendale, Mrs. Karl Benedick, Miss May Sebring, Miss Winifred Coffell and Miss Doris Maynard.

Mrs. Peterson was graduated from Roseburg high school in 1938 and Mr. Peterson, who is a nephew of H. T. Hansen of this city, attended school at Junction City and is now employed at the Hansen Chevrolet company here.

For her going away costume the bride chose a gray suit with matching accessories. Following a wedding trip to the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will return to Roseburg to make their home.

Elizabeth Williams Becomes Bride Of Wilbur R. McKee of Michigan at Beautiful Ceremony in Roseburg

One of the most impressive and beautiful home weddings to be solemnized in this city took place Thursday afternoon, September 1st, when Miss Elizabeth Williams, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Williams, of Roseburg, became the bride of Wilbur R. McKee, of Ann Arbor, Michigan, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. Robinson McKee, of Seattle. The double ring ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father, Dr. H. Robinson McKee, at four o'clock in the afternoon at the attractive home of the bride's parents on South Pine street, in the presence of nearly one hundred relatives and friends. The occasion marked the thirty-fifth wedding anniversary date of the bridegroom's parents.

The ceremony was performed before the fireplace, which was banked with broadleaved evergreen laurels, cottonaster and laurustinus outlined with pale pink zinnias. Sprays of ivy entwined the large mirror over the fireplace, while the mantle center bouquet of pastel zinnias, orchids, roses and coral gladioli was artistically flanked by white gladioli bouquets and triple candelabras holding white tapers. Tall standard each holding seven tall ivory tapers, were placed at the ends of the long white satin pillow at the base of the improvised altar. Miss Gertrude Dolan, assisted by Bill Wharton, had charge of arranging the decorations.

Mrs. H. R. Norbas and Miss Betty Shoemaker, dressed in frocks of one, lighted the candles, preceding the ceremony, Miss Evelyn Gibson, who was recently graduated from Cincinnati Conservatory of music, sang "Love You," by Grieg, and "Because," by D'Armando, accompanied by Miss Gladys H. Strong at the piano.

With the opening strains of Longfellow's Wedding processionals, played by Miss Strong, with Miss Elizabeth Church accompanying on the violin, the bride and groom entered the living room by way of the attractive winding stairway and advanced to the candlelit altar. Miss Strong played softly throughout the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a long white gown with long white satin wedding gown with a white redingote and short lace train. The Elizabethan collar was fastened high at the throat line with tiny sprays of orange blossoms, while round satin buttons and satin loops from the throat to the waist fastened the redingote. The sleeves, full at the shoulder to the elbow, were close fitting at the wrist and fastened with tiny sprays of orange blossoms. Her wedding veil, which was worn by her cousin, Mrs. Howard Hall at her marriage, was of fine tulle, fashioned fingertip in length and fitted to her head by a Juliet cap and coronet of seed pearls. Her slippers were of silver. She carried a long spray of gardenias on a white ribbon (the gift of Mrs. A. J. Young). The gardenias were attached to satin ribbons tied with sprays of lilies-of-the-valley. She also carried a white linen drawn-work handkerchief, which was carried by her mother at her wedding.

Mrs. Jack McPharmid, of Seattle, a sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and was lovely in a floor-length frock of blue and rose chiffon over blue silk. She wore a pink rosebud in her hair and carried an old-fashioned Colonial bouquet of pink roses and swansons, Carolyn (Miss) of Portland, and Sally Ann Spores, of Salinas, Calif., (seven-year-old second cousins of the bride), were charming flower girls. They wore matching rose-colored tulle frocks, fashioned floor length with rows of ruffles and off-the-shoulder puffed sleeves. Their bouquets were Colonial and contained asters and zinnias enclosed with lace. James T. Morgan, of Ann Arbor, Michigan, acted as best man to the bridegroom. The men in the bridal party wore white flannels and dark coats.

The bride's mother wore an attractive formal afternoon frock of flowered chiffon and a corsage of orchid gladioli buds. The bridegroom's mother wore aqua blue chiffon with a corsage of coral gladioli buds.

The guests were received by Mrs. W. F. Chapman with Miss Dorothy Dale Jackson in charge of the guest book and Miss Margaret Page in charge of the rooms containing the many beautiful wedding gifts.

The wedding reception followed the impressive ceremony. The serving table, covered by a gorgeous lace cloth, centered by the beautiful three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom, was cut by the bride, Mrs. A. J. Young and Mrs. Carl E. Wimberly poured.

Assisting in the serving and about the rooms were Mrs. H. H. Turner, Mrs. Charles S. Collins, Miss Ethel Williams, of Portland, Miss Betty Shoemaker, Miss Frances Louise Wimberly and Miss Barbara Ann Turner. Those assisting were gowned in lovely afternoon frocks of pastel colors.

During the reception Miss Margo McKee, of Seattle, sister of the bridegroom, sang, "Calm As the Night," by Bohm, and "Indian Love Call," from Rose Marie, by Friml, and Miss Gibson sang, "At Dawn," by Cadman and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," by Victor Herbert, accompanied by Miss Strong at the piano.

Out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. H. Robinson McKee, Miss Margo McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McPharmid, Mrs. Essie McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hall, all of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams, Mrs. J. Williams and daughter, Miss Eleanor, all of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Harris Spores, of Salinas, Calif.; Leonard Williams and Miss Louise Jennings, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Parker, of Oakland, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, of Port Angeles, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gibson and daughter, Miss Evelyn, and son, James, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Osborn, Miss Lydia Winkler, all of McMinnville; Mr. and Mrs. Hal McNair, of Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kennett, of Klamath Falls; O. D. McAllister, Mrs. Nancy Towers, Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Sether and daughter, Miss Betty, all of Eugene; Miss Lola Martin, of Cove, Oregon; Miss Barbara Cliff, of Silver Lake, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osborn, of Astoria; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Harris, of Marshfield; Miss Alice Clement, of Beaverton; Harry Rowe, Jr., of Chicago, and Wayne Hartwell and James T. Morgan, of Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Williams of this city and had made her home here all of her life. She was graduated from Roseburg high school in 1932. She was prominent in musical circles here as a very talented pianist, having presented in numerous recitals and assisting on music programs and entertainments. She attended Linfield college at McMinnville, where she majored in music and English and was graduated there in 1936. She taught in the high school at Rickreall a year and this past year taught in the high school at Palo Alto, Oregon. During the summer months, she has been visiting her parents on South Pine street and has been the inspiration for a large number of charming shower parties. The bridegroom was graduated from Duluth, Minn., high school in 1923 and from University of Des Moines in Iowa in 1926. He did graduate work at University of Washington and obtained his master's degree in history, and will continue his work there this fall.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a tulle of black heringbone tweed. Her hat, gloves and bag matched her burgundy-colored blouse. She wore a corsage of gardenias. Following a wedding trip to Crater lake, Mr. and Mrs. McKee will return to Roseburg for a short stay, before leaving by automobile for Ann Arbor, Michigan, to make their home.

FOR FRESHMAN WARDROBE

The skirt at left is the kind that smart college girls love. It is of sturdy flannel in a warm shade of gray box-pleated at the front and shown with a stunning, absolutely correct cardigan jacket in rust flannel. At right is a trim, two-piece classroom frock in plaid wool. The skirt has a panel of knife pleating in the right side of the front. Here are two campus "musts." The c's cives can come later.

MRS. CLYDE FULLERTON COMPLIMENTED AT CHARMING SHOWER PARTY

Mrs. L. L. Wimberly, Mrs. Adrian Fisher and Mrs. L. C. Cummings were hostesses at one of the most charming parties of the week, when they entertained at a seven o'clock dessert-supper and shower party in compliment to Mrs. Clyde Fullerton, at the former's lovely home, "Pine Ridge."

The dessert-supper was served in the beautiful garden, which was attractively lighted with colorful Japanese lanterns. Following the dessert-supper, the guests enjoyed the evening hours in the Wimberly home. Gorgeous bouquets of zinnias, dahlias, marigolds and gladioli were beautifully arranged about the rooms.

Lovely gifts were presented to Mrs. Fullerton, guest of honor, from Mrs. L. L. Wimberly, Mrs. L. C. Cummings and Mrs. Adrian Fisher, hostesses, Mrs. J. A. Hart, Mrs. J. B. Hennesey, Mrs. T. R.
