SACTOS, SEALS WIN PLAYOFF OPENERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The underdogs held the upper hands today after initial games in the Pacific Coast baseball league Shaugnessy playoffs for $10,000 in prize money.

The Sacramento Senators, who wound up in third place in the league standings at the end of the scheduled season, were outflung 19 to 14 by the Los Angeles Angels, league pennant winners, but won the game, 10 to 6, by piling up an early lead.

San Francisco's Seals, who got into the playoffs by two percentage points, nipped the Seattle Suda's pitching sensation, Freddie Hutchinson, for nine hits to win, 4 to 2. Koppal outpitched Hutchinson, but fallon, the Seals' relief pitcher who has pulled more than a score of games out of the fire for them this season, was called upon in the eighth to put down a Seattle rally in the eighth when Koppal lost control. A two-bagger by Hawkins which sent two runners home, gave San Francisco its margin of victory in the sixth inning.

Games tonight: San Francisco at Seattle. Sacramento at Los Angeles.

O'CONNOR LOSES IN DEMO CONTEST

Charles F. Hurley, Curley had accused the governor of having failed to cooperate with the new deal.

Curley, veteran of bay state political wars, will meet Leverett Saltonstall, former speaker of the state legislature, in the general election. Saltonstall won the republican nomination in a landslide which gave him almost three times as many votes as his three opponents combined.

Townsendite Defeated Former Sen. W. Warren Barbour won the democratic nomination in New Jersey, defeating George O. Pullen of Trenton, Townsend plan advocate, and C. Dan Coakley, Jersey City engineer.

William H. J. Ely, former New Jersey works progress administrator, won the democratic senatorial nomination without opposition. Sen. John Milton did not seek another term.

Mrs. Madeline Edison Shaine, daughter of the late Thomas A. Edison, lost her bid for the republican congressional nomination in the 11th New Jersey district. LaFollette Far Ahead Wisconsin progressives put Gov. Philip La Follette far out in front in his campaign for a fourth term nomination. Despite efforts by some politicians to consolidate the La Follette opposition, Robert K. Henry, fusion candidate, trailed his republican opponent but was ahead in the democratic gubernatorial contest.

In the Wisconsin contests for senatorial nominations, Rep. Thomas Amble trailed Herman L. Ekorn on the progressive ticket and Alexander Wiley led a field of six for the republican designation. Sen. F. Ryan Duffy was unopposed for democratic re-nomination.

Wisconsin republicans led in total votes for the first time since the La Follette group organized the separate progressive party in 1934.

Except for New York's two senatorial seats, its governorship and a small number of house seats in other states, the major parties' lineups for the general election were completed by yesterday's balloting. The remaining nominations will be made by conventions.

Both New York senatorial seats are at stake this year because Senator Wagner's term expires and the death of Senator Copeland left a vacancy.

Other N. Y. Results In New York primaries, Vito Marcantonio, labor leader, friend of Mayor La Guardia, and former republican representative, won in the labor party and republican primaries but lost the democratic contest to Rep. James J. Lanzetta.

In upstate New York, Wallace E. Pierce, Plattsburgh attorney, won the 31st district republican nomination for the house seat vacated by Minority Leader Bertrand H. Snell, retired.

Rep. James M. Mead, democratic gubernatorial possibility, defeated John E. Kralliz, in Buffalo's 42nd district, while Reps. Bert Lord, Walter G. Andrews and John Taber defeated Townsend plan advocates in republican primaries.

RESULT IN N. Y. UPSETS ROOSEVELT'S FORECAST

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was 100 per cent wrong in his prediction on the outcome of primary voting in New York's 16th congressional district, in which Representative John J. O'Connor lost his fight for democratic re-nomination but was nominated by the republicans.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said today the president predicted last night O'Connor would win by about 500 votes in the democratic race over James H. Fay and lose in the republican contest to Allen Dulles.

The president thought there was nothing to crow about in the New York result, Early added, and did not regard it as a victory.

MIDNIGHT BELL, DADO WIN BATTLES

STOCKTON, Calif., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Little Dado of Manila, California's bantamweight titleholder, used an effective left hand to win an easy 17-round decision from Jimmy McCusker of Bozeman, Mont., last night.

McCusker, Montana state champion, won the 6th, 8th and 10th rounds, but the points piled up by Dado's with the aid of his disturbing left, were too much to overcome. Dado weighed 114; McCusker, 116.

Midnight Bell, 161, Portland, Ore., stopped Johnny Foster, 165, Oakland, in the third round of the six-round semi-final match.

CZECHS YIELD TO PEACE PROPOSALS

(Continued from page 1) scathing denunciation of league of nations powers at Geneva, said Russia stood ready to back up any collective action in defense of Czechoslovakia with arms and men.

In what he left unsaid, however, assembly delegates saw a statement unless France fight for Czechoslovakia under the terms of the French-Czechoslovak agreement, soviet Russia would do nothing to help Prague.

He accused Britain and France of avoiding a "probable war" today in return for a certain and large-scale war tomorrow."

He declared flatly: "Our war department is ready immediately to participate in conferences with representatives of the French and Czechoslovak war departments in order to discuss measures appropriate to the moment."

While he spoke, new troop movements were reported in Germany and the phrase "Germany cannot wait longer and will not wait longer" appeared repeatedly in German morning newspapers.

A continuous stream of trucks rushed through eastern Germany taking troops to undisclosed destinations. Germany apparently was getting ready for the final act in the Czechoslovak drama.

Czech populace angered At Prague, capital of Czechoslovakia, crowds in the main streets were in an excited mood and the authorities were worried about the reaction of the Czechs to the definite news that the republic faces loss of considerable territory.

In the streets there were shouts of "rather war" and "we want a dictatorship."

A crowd estimated at more than 5,000 person staged a noisy demonstration in the main thoroughfares of the capital.

They cried: "Long live the army," "long live Czechoslovakia." Thousands of persons crowded into the entrances of buildings and in windows of hotels and business establishments to cheer the marchers.

The demonstration marked the first time in the crisis that the populace had given a mass, public expression of their feeling of solidarity behind the nation's army.

Fearing violence, owners of business establishments prepared to close iron gates and doors to protect their businesses from possible damage.

The feeling in Prague turned from one of uneasy calm to one of tenseness.

2ND PLACE BATTLE IN AMERICAN WARM

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. Associated Press Sports Writer. Even the Yankees' record losing streak can't stir up much interest since the New Yorkers have clinched the pennant. The fans won't be excited about the National league race until the teams are able to come out from under their umbrellas and play a few games.

But in the meantime the Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians are stirring up quite a lively pair of private battles.

Second place in the American league is their main stake and their leading representatives at the home plate, Jimmy Foxx and Earl Averill, are quite in the thick of the fight for the batting crown.

The Red Sox, returning to action yesterday after having had two straight doubleheaders washed out, regained a little lost ground by walloping the St. Louis Browns in both ends of a bargain bill, 12-8 and 7-2. The Indians took a single game from Washington, 9-1.

The only other game played saw the Yankees establish a new record for Joe McCarthy's managerial regime by losing their fifth straight game, a 5-4 decision to the Chicago White Sox. It was the first time since McCarthy took charge in 1931 they had dropped so many in a row.

The entire National league program again was rained out along with the Athletics-Detroit game in the American. It didn't make much difference in the senior circuit race this time, for the teams still can play the games off in doubleheaders if the rain stops today.

RIVER HEARING IN ROSEBURG DATED

processing walnut and filberts in the Umpqua valley would be erected here next summer and that the Pierce Freight lines were working for a lower tariff for hauling the nuts to Eugene for processing this fall.

The matter of the "camel's hump" on the North Winchester street entrance to the highway had again been referred to the state highway commission.

The secretary reported that Fred Hurd, who started his canning plant through the auspices of the Roseburg chamber, will can nearly 500 hundred tons of Bartlett pears next year.

Information concerning the next forum dinner, jointly sponsored by the Douglas County Conservation council, the chamber of commerce and the Lions club, to be held at the Umpqua hotel on Wednesday, September 28, was announced. All civic clubs and the general public are invited. Dr. E. J. Walmseeff will lead the discussion for the council.

Park Plan Errored. Paul Geddes, chairman of the park committee, made a full report of their recommendations to the directors, and explained the plan plan work out. The directors unanimously accepted the report and endorsed the proposal and requested that he present it to the city council at the next regular meeting.

The directors went on record fully endorsing and supporting the winter sports committee, of which Mervyn Bell is chairman.

The group voted against any diversion of the gas tax money for any purposes whatsoever.

FLOODS DEAL LOSS TO EAST STATES

Losses were heavy. Little Hope for Break. And still there was little hope for a break in the weather.

New York City's weather bureau said five inches of rain had fallen in the metropolis since Saturday. Philadelphia received an even greater dose with 11 consecutive days of rain, an official measure of 5.68 inches, most of it in the last three days. Neither New York nor Philadelphia, however, reported any serious damage.

New Jersey also was drenched, and at Atlantic City small vessels were advised to stay in port for at least another 24 or 36 hours.

Meanwhile the tropical hurricane which had threatened the east coast of Florida, swirled northward in the Atlantic, holding a menace to shipping north of Wilmington, N. C.

Meteorologists thought it likely the hurricane would not touch the coast but would be close enough to cause dangerous gales and high tides.

The southwest also had a taste of stormy weather. Presidio, Tex., a border town, reported the lowlands of the Rio Grande flooded as cloudbursts fed its tributary, the Rio Conchos, in Mexico. Thousands of acres of rich valley cut-on land, flooded last July and replanted to wheat, were under water.

Who's Afraid of October 3, 1927?

Nobody, of course. Can't even remember that day, can we? So, we must have mastered its problems in our stride—and life went smoothly on.

Yet, there was a time when some people feared October 3, 1927, because some people always fear the future.

Now—Today is here. What a thing of promise to Americans is each new day! Opportunities beyond the dreams of our forefathers. Comforts and conveniences beyond the reach of peoples of other nations. Each day providing well-earned moments of leisure to plan our personal contributions to America's tomorrow.
