TITLE BOUT FAILS TO ENTHUSE FANS

Apostoli - Corbett Contest Looks Like Dud From Money Standpoint.

By DREW MIDDLETON NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The local boxing business never was more lull than this week with two self-styled middleweight "champions" fighting for the title and a third middleweight beefing loud and long that he and he alone is the head guy of the division.

The commission didn't recognize Hostak as champion because he had won the title from Freddie Steele, also one of the commission's problem children. It did order Apostoli and Corbett to get together and blessed the union with a title.

Only Title In Sight The title at stake is about all the fight has at present. Apostoli, after looking like a warned-over amateur for a few days, is beginning to move and he still has a long way from being a great 140-pounder. Besides, he looks bad against southpaws.

Time Produces Notable Changes in Lives of Ten Prominent Men Who Gained Front Page in World War

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Ten front page figures of then (Armistice day, 1918) and now telling a striking story of Europe's twenty-year post-war era.

King George VI of England—Twenty years ago he was the bachelor Prince of Wales serving with the British army in France. Today, with his American-born wife, the former King Edward VIII awaiting the Armistice day reunion in Paris with his brother, the Duke of Gloucester. The latter is the first of the royal brothers to pay him a formal call since Edward abdicated in December, 1936.

Adolf Hitler of Germany—The day firing ceased, in his own words, was "the blackest day of my life." Then and there he decided to enter politics in a struggle that has brought him into a dominating position in Europe. Now the Fuehrer of eighty million Germans. Hitler then was a Bavarian corporal lying in Passau hospital suffering from the effects of gas.

Prime Minister Chamberlain of Great Britain—When the war ended Chamberlain, virtually unknown politically, was preparing for an election campaign which won him his first seat in parliament in December, 1918. Now a world leader, bent upon "peace in our time," he will stand tomorrow with his king observing two minutes silence at the Cenotaph.

Field Marshal Goering of Germany—Today famed as Hitler's right hand man, he reluctantly laid down arms twenty years ago. On the first Armistice day as he said, "but I can't tell what they are in advance because it wouldn't be fair to the people who pay $4.10 a seat."

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 17.—(AP)—California's varsity players can expect to play a full afternoon of football Saturday when the Bears clash with Stanford here, Coach Allison announced today.

OREGON WALNUTS, PEARS SET MARKS

Yield of Apples Increased, Potato Crop Exceeds Expectations.

PORTLAND, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Oregon's late fruit and nut season, topped by record walnut and pear crops, was listed "entirely satisfactory" today from the standpoint of production.

All crops equalled or exceeded last month's forecasts, with the most favorable change occurring for walnuts and cranberries.

Good yields in eastern Oregon irrigated sections sent the potato harvest above earlier expectations. Reports compiled by the Federal bureau of agricultural economics included:

APPLES—Crop up slightly. Estimates of 4,142,000 bushels compared with 3,900,000 last year and the ten year average of 4,590,000. The commercial crop was about $2,500,000 against 2,154,000 in 1937 and 2,905,000 for the ten-year average. Favorable weather conditions aided in coloring. Worm damage, however, was heavy in some districts.

New Records Set PEARS—Record high established. Estimates of 4,326,000 bushels compared with 3,550,000 a year ago and the ten year average of 3,900,000.

WALNUTS—Record crop produced. Although nuts were slightly smaller, the crop was of fine quality with the percentage of culls less than average. The estimate of 2,900 tons exceeded by 700 the largest previous crop, 3,200 tons, harvested in 1935. A disastrous freeze after 1935 set the industry back several years.

Two Slips PHILADELPHIA—Harry Ginsberg, 11, raised his arm to get a cookie jar down from the pantry shelf—and dislocated his shoulder. The same hospital that put it back in place treated Miss Matcella Gobel, 19, for a dislocated jaw. She had yawned too widely.

Fun, Funds, Feast Reward Grangers For Cooperative Raising of Porker

Griffin Creek grange in Jackson county hit upon a novel plan for raising funds recently, and every one had a lot of fun besides.

At the suggestion of the Ways and Means committee, headed by Sister Jane McClary, the grange voted to buy a little white pig, raise it temperately and give a dinner when the pig was ready to be eaten.

After securing the pig the question of choosing a suitable name confronted the Griffin Creek grangers, who finally begged other granges of the county to come to their aid, and nearly every grange responded with suggestions. A committee chose three names most suitable for a young lady pig and a vote of the grange finally decided the matter. "Griffinella" was selected and two free tickets to the dinner awarded to Sister Ruth Williams of the Gold Hill grange for sending in the name.

Reached 275 Pounds Griffinella headed out with various grange families until she topped the scales at 275 pounds and other granges were kept advised as to her progress. She was exhibited at a barn dance and people came from far and near to view the pig of Griffin Creek.

When "Griffinella" was butchered one ham was reserved for a Christmas affair and such surplus parts as the liver, spareribs, head-cheese and some of the loin were auctioned off at a grange meeting. The remainder was ground and made into country style sausage.

Thursday, October 27, a supper of sausage, muffins, baked potatoes, salad, applesauce, home-made pies and coffee was served, 250 people enjoying the supper and program followed by dancing.

During the program letters from President Roosevelt and Governor Martin were read, the president and the governor regretting inability to help the grange out "Griffinella".

The profit from the supper will go into a grange hall building fund started last fall.

Half of America's families receive less than $22 a week, half receive more.

Frederick III, of Prussia, once killed a 60-point stag and pinned the antlers high. Later they came into the possession of Frederick William, who traded them to the king of Saxony for a regiment of six-foot grenadiers.
