VETERANS ADMINISTRATION MEMBERS ENJOY POTLUCK LUNCHEON

The Gray Ladies' Corps of the American Red Cross have been serving in town this week on Roll Call duty, but a few have been generous enough to give us time also. We have had the pleasure of the company of Mrs. L. W. Josse, Mrs. A. H. Mounford, Mrs. Velle Broadway, Mrs. Edward Hines, Mrs. Thomas Parkinson, Mrs. Jack McCallister and Mrs. Ray Parslow.

Monday's picture show was "Holiday," a lively piece of acting which demonstrates that all work and no play leaves one, if not dull, at least undeveloped in certain potentialities of his nature. A measure of amusement and frolicking is wholesome expression. The Cheerful Cherub says.

"Common sense is good to have. But never let it master you. For then it might deprive you. Of the foolish things it's fun to do."

The popularity of our card parties is steadily increasing. We are indebted to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary for sponsoring an especially pleasant one Tuesday evening. The players were reluctant to leave when the clock pointed to the closing hour.

Wednesday was Stag Night, and little entertainment equipment is needed when down town members of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Disabled American Veterans come on to visit with veterans here. On several occasions reunions have been effected between men who served in the same outfit overseas, who have not seen each other for twenty years.

People who think the Penrod stories interest juveniles only are reminded of the father who, having been requested by the mother to see if the book would be a suitable present for the son, sat up half the night to read it through. Nobody here felt it childish to laugh at "Penrod's Double Trouble," which was one picture show Thursday night.
