

DALADIER ACTS TO STRENGTHEN RULE

"Economic Mobilization" of France Ordered; Trouble With Italy Looms.

PARIS, Dec. 1—(AP)—Premier Daladier, having broken labor's effort to wreck his government by a general strike, announced today he intended to call parliament into session December 8 and demand from it approval of his policies. In government circles it was believed the premier would muster sufficient strength to override the opposition of the communists and socialists, who backed yesterday's abortive strike as a protest against his economic decree laws. Daladier, undisturbed master of the situation, has ordered a three-year state of "economic mobilization" for the nation to carry through his program. For parliamentary support he counted on a majority composed of his own radical-socialist party and groups further to the right. The premier also considered punitive measures against labor, socialist and communist leaders of the abortive one-day general strike. He planned a cabinet meeting to discuss punishments.

It was considered possible evidence of Italian territorial ambitions in France's north African possessions had much to do with the premier's decision to seek a new parliamentary majority. Shouts of "Tunisia! Tunisia!" by Italian deputies yesterday with Premier Mussolini looking on was taken by French officials to mean France was facing a determined fascist campaign for control of the north African protectorate.

Foreign office sources reported France was considering a formal protest against the Italian campaign. Daladier conferred with Foreign Minister Bonnet and high officials met at the foreign ministry throughout the morning. Many observers considered the development a serious setback to resumption of friendly relations and it was known some of Daladier's close advisers had recommended recall of ambassador Francois-Poncet for a "vacation."

Foreign office circles said Britain was concerned and would support France "indirectly." It was believed London and Paris already had been in informal contact on possible measures to let Italy know of their disapproval.

Tax Burden Mounts
The new French financial program, drafted by Finance Minister Reynaud, puts a heavier tax burden, both in time and money, on the average Frenchman. He must pay more to support the cost of government and, although the 40-hour week is kept "in principle," he must work longer hours, if necessary, to increase the national income.

The premier's friends and the conservative right jubilantly announced the general confederation of labor, which ordered the unsuccessful general strike, was losing thousands of its boasted membership of 5,000,000.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE DATED IN ROSEBURG

A meeting of the Roseburg Boy Scout committee has been called by Dr. E. J. Wainwright, chairman, for Monday evening, December 5th at the chamber of commerce, at which time Robert H. Hayes, deputy regional scout executive of Portland, will be in attendance to confer with local scout men. Matters to come before the committee will include plans to hold a scout camp at Wolf creek next year, suitable observance of Scout Anniversary week in February and other activities of the year, and a definite plan of financing the program for 1939.

Mr. Hayes is a former scout executive of the Blue Mountain council, with headquarters at Walla Walla, Wash., who has served for the past two years on the regional staff supervising the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho and portions of Montana, Wyoming, Utah, California and Alaska. Due to his wide experience in scout work, Mr. Hayes will be able to offer many concrete suggestions for making our scouting in Douglas county more effective. All scout leaders and committeemen are urged to be present, both from Roseburg and outlying communities.

This meeting will take the place of the regular monthly meeting of the committee.

PICKUP FOR TURKEY TRADE PREDICTED

PORTLAND, Dec. 1—(AP)—A limited number of turkeys was purchased here today for immediate use at 20-25 cents for toms and 22 cents for hens.

Handlers said trade would pick up next week with heavy movements east for the Christmas season. The eastern caravanserai was reported heavy and prices relatively cheap.

FARLEY SETTLES PATRONAGE ISSUE

PORTLAND, Dec. 1—(AP)—Oregon democratic leaders were advised today James A. Farley, national chairman, had agreed to recognize Frank Tierney, state chairman, and Howard F. Latourrette, national committeeman, in dispensing patronage. Farley, meeting with western democrats at Chicago, was quoted as saying Congressman Walter M. Pierce of La Grande, the state's only democrat at congress, would act only in the second district. Reports from the Chicago conference said the national chairman was informed failure to distribute patronage properly had disrupted the party's campaign for the general election.

COUNCIL SIDES WITH GARBAGE CHUNKERS

PORTLAND, Dec. 2—(AP)—The chunkers have the city council on their side.

These humble folk who comb their livings from the garbage dumps protested recently they were getting ruined and unfair competition from WPA workers and others on some form of relief. A chunker will have none of relief but he wants the pellets to stay away from his garbage pile. A referee, according to information imparted to the council, was "rich compared to us."

Yesterday Commissioner Ralph Clyde was instructed by the council to see that only deserving people picked scraps from the dumps hereafter.

COLONIST BATTLES FOR FARM LIBERTY

Matanuska Settler Wants to Avert "Service" Fee to Co-Operative.

PALMER, Alaska, Dec. 1—(AP)—Rugged individualism vs. government paternalism will be the issue in the next few days when a successful Matanuska colony farmer goes into United States district court to fight for his agricultural independence.

The farmer is Walter Pippel, Col. O. P. Ohlson, president of the Alaska Rural Rehabilitation Corp., which directs the federally-sponsored colony, said Pippel had made $11,000 in the last two years. The dispute is over whether Pippel can operate independently of the colony's marketing cooperative. He and three other farmers recently became embroiled with the colony management on this issue as Pippel did his own marketing at Anchorage and other Alaska railroad points.

The corporation contends that Pippel's original contract with the government, by which he came here from Hennepin county, Minn., in 1935, bound him to remain in the cooperative marketing system. Otherwise, according to the contract, he is free to sell or dispose of his property, subject to that clause.

Under the colony plan, farmers get all proceeds except five per cent deducted for marketing services. In Pippel's case, this would amount to $550 for the last two years. The case will be heard before Judge Hellenenthal sometime this month.

Colony Held "Success"
Ohlson said that this year the colonists marketed all their products in towns along the railroad and to railway and mining communities and could have sold more. He called the colony an "unqualified success and fully justified." Of the 17 established tracts, he said only 12 now were unoccupied, and that the corporation has a waiting list of from 2,500 to 4,000 applicants, virtually all farmers in the United States.

The present colonists, he said, have fine homes and all the benefits of a modern center, with schools, a hospital, a creamery and other facilities, in marked contrast with conditions that existed in their former homes in the midwest. Ohlson said a colony agent now was in the States buying 110 cows to be sent to the colony this winter.

DRUNKEN INDIAN KILLS 1, INJURES 5

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 2—(AP)—A young Indian, who ran amok in the Eastend district last night, killing an Indian woman and injuring five other persons, including four women, was hunted today by squads of detectives.

The Indian, believed by authorities to have become temporarily crazed from liquor, killed Mrs. Marie Hawthorne, middle-aged Indian woman, and attacked Dan Hajwan, white, in Hujwan's Prior street cabin.

He then went to the woman's cabin, a few blocks away and attacked the woman's daughter, Dorothy Sam, 16, and Mrs. E. Klean, a neighbor. Later Mrs. Roy Shepherd and her daughter, Betty, both of Cloverdale, were attacked by a man answering the Indian's description as they crossed an Eastend park on their way to visit friends.

Most seriously injured was Hajwan, who had a split head and could not be questioned at a hospital, and Mrs. Shepherd, who suffered a fractured skull and scalp lacerations. Mrs. Shepherd's daughter received scalp injuries but her condition was not believed serious. Mrs. Shepherd said the man struck them with a piece of two-by-four lumber, fleeing after leaving them on the ground.

Breaks Quarantine

ALTON, Ill.—Three-year-old Kenneth Clifford Long learned there was one way he could leave a quarantine home without being reprimanded. Kenneth, kept close to home because his brother had diphtheria, was playing on the porch. He leaped 100 feet over a banister and tumbled to the ground. Now he's in a hospital.
