A Military Route

To those of as located on the corkscrew section of the Paci-highway between Cottage Grove and Ashland, the suggestion that rebuilding it is of military inportanco, is a mighty welcome The Pacific highway is an important military route. It is the defense artery of the coast. The Eugene Register-Guard details the uggestion rather fully in the folthat newspaper recently:

"If the Pacific highway is to be rebuilt and modernized swiftly plement to the funds now avail able from state and federal sources for this work. The most obvious source for such addition al appropriations would be the billion dollar budget which President Roosevelt has proposed the new program of national defense. The military importance of the Pacific highway cannot be disputed. Mechanized army units this coast will be limited in their effectiveness unless this ma jor route is swiftly and completely rebuilt.

"Much of the road between Port land and Eugene has been modern ized, though the Albany-Jefferson section is still obsolete. The Ashland Siskiyou Job is nearly com plete; Rice hill and Turkey hill have been corrected this side of But the Canyonville Grants Pass section and the Cottage Grove-Yoncalla sections remain as costly impediments to modern traffic. Hitler Not Crazy, as Branded; Knows Where He's Going

By JOHN T. FLYNN

NEA Service Staff Correspondent The favorite term for Hitler In this country now is "madman." It is of profound interest to watch low this "madman" moves with infexible logic toward his goals.

More than two years ago severat volumes appeared in Europe (not ably Ernst Henri's "Hitler Over Europe") in which Hitler's book were based partly on Hitler's book but also upon Lummerable statements made by him since he came to power. At the time il worde a word prophecy then made has been fulfilled in abundant measure and now we see Hitler preparing to fulfill the others.

The core of the Hitler policy, according to these abayles, was not be grained by the absorption of Austria. They can the oil fields of Rumanis and the grain fields of the Czechoslovakia. ## Daily Devotions

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

How great is the sum of truth available to us and yet in the midst of it all how foolish and ignorant we may remain. The task of applying wisdom to our lives and profiting by that rich store of it that is available, is one that we so often fall in achieving. Considering all that we have heard, all the sermons we have listened to, all the books we have read, all the wise things we have heard all the sermons and the same than the same say, we ought to have a truer understanding, a fuller knowledge, a riper experience than we have. Does the trouble lie in failure to apply our hearts unto knowledge to make truth and wisdom, the things to live by. In the midst of the world, our God, where opportunities for learning the truth and living it are so many, we know that we have fallen far short of the possible and have poorly used the chances that were ours. We ask Thy forgiveness for Jesus sake, Amen.

STUDENT CLUB SETS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Anactte Calkins, president, an mounced to the home 'economics cluls of the Roseburg senior high achool at its regular meeting Tuesday that a Christmas party would be held Tuesday. December 29, in the gym, for members of the club. The girls drew names and discussed the party. *Mary Nancy Roberts, vice-president of the club, is in general charge of arrangements. The girls were urged to pay their dues and to sign up for one of the major committees of the club as soon as possible. SALEM. Dec. 14—(AP)—Oregon taxpayers are footing a bill that already is big enough and more taxes should not be levied. Senator-elect Howard C. Belton of Clackamas county told the legislative interim committee Tuesday. He suggested the use of funds already available in preference to increased taxation.

C. C. Chapman told the committee it would be necessary to raise additional relief funds or reduce materially the number now on relief roils, particularly in Multhomah county. He advised against any property tax increase.

Glenn C. Wade proposed a any property tax increase.

Glenn C. Wade proposed a gross income tax, patterned after that of Indiana and a few other states as a means of financing oldage assistance and to offset property levies. He estimated this tax would yield $50,000 blennially. The committee indicated it would recommend a 10-point program to the 1939 legislature but withheld details.

AORTLAND, Dec. A refinancing operation involving nearly half a million dollars in past and present building opera-

A refinancing operation involving nearly half a million dollars in past and present building operations at Oregon State college was consumated by the state board of higher education at its regular Decembler meeting here today.

The plan, involving bonds on the memorial union building, health service building and the new chemistry building, and the new chemistry building and the new chemistry building and the finance committee. It will also release $1 of the present $5 student building fee for any future purpose, and will make possible early completion of certain units of the memorial union building, it was announced.

The refinancing operation was in two parts. In one, the proposed loan of $275,000 from the PWA on the $500,000 chemistry building project, was changed to a bond issue handled by the board directly at lower rates of interest. In the other the outstanding bonds on the memorial union building and the health service building, totaling $211,000, were lumped together under a refunding program, also at lower rates.

Each block of bonds is secured by $2 of the $5 student building fee, freeling $1, formerly applied to the health service project, for future use.
