W.C.T.U. BENEFIT LUNCHEON HELD AT CHAMBERLIN HOME

Mrs. C. A. Chamberlin very graciously entertained at a lovely one-hundred o'clock luncheon at her home on West First street Thursday.

Miniature pictures of Frances Willard were cleverly used as a decorative motif on the table. Covers were placed for Mrs. Binger Laird, Mrs. Paul Blakeley, Mrs. Maude Hagen, Mrs. Nova Ware, Mrs. H. L. Hudson, Mrs. Edith Ackers, Mrs. W. Fisher, Mrs. Emma Truab, Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. Duff, Mrs. Anna Carson, Mrs. Earl Azeo and the hostess, Mrs. Chamberlin.

This was the first of a series of luncheons to be given by the members of the W.C.T.U. to help complete the union's quota for the Frances Willard Centenary Educational fund, with which the national and state branches will continue to enlarge and intensify its educational program.

Mrs. Earl Azeo presented the highlights of the five-year five-point program as carried out by this state and Douglas county. She stated that as a result of the first point, "Spiritual Education," many new prayer hands have been organized and much interest has been created in searching the Bible for temperance and tithing truths.

Under the second or "Alcohol Education" point the state has had Miss Dora Young, a graduate of the Alcohol Education seminar at Evanston, Illinois, teach in the state colleges and normal schools for two months last fall and one month in 1937. By this method of training the one million teachers in the three hundred colleges and training schools, the W.C.T.U. hopes to reach the thirty million pupils and students from the twenty-five million homes.

A set of scientific reference books has been placed in the state library and in the libraries at O.S.C., U. of O. and the three normal schools; broadcast of three radio record sets and many regular broadcasts by members, two of these radio record sets were released through the local station; placed twenty-five road signs, one such sign is on the Pacific highway north of this city; the county being responsible for its erection; brought to the state three motion pictures produced by the National and shown in various parts of the state, one the "Beneficial Reprobate," the other the "Junior High School" and the "Douglas county Sunday school convention"; had Mr. and Mrs. James Kilop with his car, "Safety on Wheels," in state four days with two hours spent in Roseburg and many minor projects giving desirable results.

To continue with the above program point the county executive at a recent meeting chose Rev. S. Raynor Smith to present the same to the civic clubs, Mrs. W. M. Campbell to the P.T.A.s and Women's clubs; Mrs. T. B. Busenback to the granges and the general officers to the Missionary and Ladies Aid Groups.

The third point "Character Education" reminds members to ally with every effort put forth by churches, schools and other agencies for the promotion of character education and to lend influence to help create an aggressive community attitude against social evils. The "citizenship education" point urges the study of understanding the principles and workings of government, attend political meetings, and be informed about local conditions.

Through the "peace education" point the study of the principles and proceedings of movements aimed toward world peace, and writing letters or sending telegrams to congressmen when any question of international relations is being considered, also to improve all opportunities to develop friendships with persons of other countries.

POET'S CORNER

SONNET OF LOVELINESS
By Rosemary Larson
You ask what is this thing called loveliness:
Not one, nor few, but all may tell
It may be low-hung moon and mist
of night,
A profile that does perfect mold possess,
A picture of a woman's tenderness,
A blend of colors, rare, on canvas bright,
Or words that down the ages shed
their light,
Or chord of music lingering to tarry.

And so contributes each to the vast sum
Of beauty that man's gentlest keeper is:
Each in the heart fulfills its need-
er role;
But time may tell, God's altering hand may come,
Yet loveliness, true, great and deeper is
A face through whose eyes shines
a richer soul.

RADIO PHONE CALL IS FORESTRY IDEA

PORTLAND, Feb. 13.—(AP)—The forest service radio laboratories here said yesterday they had developed a radio "telephone call" arrangement relieving operators of the necessity of "standing by" for messages.

Harold K. Lawson, laboratory head, said the new device included a buzzer, receiver and transmitter like those on telephones. When operators wish to talk on emergency sets, the buzzer sounds, the receiver is lifted and the call taken, eliminating necessity for keeping receiving instruments "open" continually.

Lawson explained that although the set was switched on and tuned in on the master station at all times, it made no sound unless the receiver was picked up. He said this allowed the operator at the receiving station to do other work away from the set, going to it only when the buzzer called him there to receive a message.

The device was developed for use on portable forest service sets where it would be impractical to have an operator continually on duty. Lawson said the buzzer, similar in action to a telephone bell, would be heard a considerable distance.
