

Sunday Churches at the

Daily Devotions

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

How many men and women through all the centuries have found strength and courage and uplift through meditation and fellowship in the house of God? If this privilege does not mean much to us, it might be worth our while inquiring as to why it does not. Sometimes it would seem that going to church were worth while if for nothing else than it brought us out of ourselves and gave us thoughts and impulses and desires that would not come through any other process, and certainly fellowship in worship may bring to a man's spirit something that is very useful and yet very helpful. Dear father, give us an appreciative spirit of the opportunities of life. May we always be in the spirit of gratitude and worship, and may we grow strong and courageous in waiting upon Thee. We ask it in Jesus name. Amen.
