LOCAL CRAFTSMEN WIN 4TH AT MEET

The Roseburg Future Craftsmen represented Roseburg high school at the junior safety congress held in Portland last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The first all team finished fourth in its contest, with twelve schools competing. The team was composed of L. Hill, captain; C. Dunning, R. Forty, R. Loomis and K. Enander.

Lawrence Hill won first place in the public speaking division, speaking on the topic "Safety First." He received a beautiful Conklin writing set (pen and pencil) for the award, as well as the blue ribbon. Hill was also elected vice-president of the state organization for the ensuing year.

The boys, accompanied by their vocational coordinator, Bruce Melis, visited the state capitol en route as well as making several sight seeing trips in Portland, including one to the battleship Oregon, Swan Island airport, public market and other points of interest.

into local newspapers throughout the country, but the important role played by the local newspaper is especially appreciated in connection with such an event as the Ward Week sale.

"For the last 6 months our buyers have searched the markets of the nation and placed huge orders so that factories could make substantial price reductions for this sale. Our bureau of standards has put this merchandise through the most rigid tests to assure us that it would give the finest service."

"But without the newspaper to tell our story all this preparation would have been in vain."

As an example of the confidence placed by Wards in the newspaper, Mr. Farris cited the large advertisement appearing in this issue.

luncheons by the Douglas county chamber of commerce was unanimously voted yesterday at the meeting held at Carl's Tavern. Each of the 20 persons present was called upon to express his opinion whether the luncheons should be continued each Monday during the summer season, and all spoke favorably.

The discussions were conducted under the supervision of Steen Johnson.

The matter of the annual Roseburg Rod and Gun club banquet was discussed, and the chamber of commerce voted to give full possible cooperation.

Requested enforcement of the DeMolay convales scheduled for Roseburg next year was unanimously granted.

WARD WEEK SALE OPENS TOMORROW

"A store without a newspaper in which to advertise is no store at all."

This is the brief but meaningful statement made today by Jack Farris, local Montgomery Ward manager, in announcing the Ward Week sale beginning simultaneously tomorrow in all Ward stores throughout the country.

"Our newspaper advertising is just as important as any link in the long chain of events that takes place in our merchandising program," said Mr. Farris. "All year around, of course, the greater bulk of Ward's retail advertising goes
