ONCE more Oregon Journalism is honored by a Pulitzer award, this time to R. G. Calvert, associate editor of the Morning Oregonian, for his editorial published in October entitled "My Country 'Tis of Thee." That editorial was adjudged the best American newspaper editorial of the year 1938. Mr. Calvert's great honor is well deserved for the editorial, which was reprinted in the News-Review immediately following its appearance in the Oregonian, was truly excellent.

In 1934 the Medford Mail-Tribune was given the Pulitzer award for the most disinterested and meritorious public service rendered by an American newspaper during the year. The award to the Mail-Tribune was as stated in the certificate of merit: "for its campaign against unscrupulous politicians in Jackson county, Oregon."

The Pulitzer prizes in Journalism and letters were established by the late Joseph Pulitzer in a bequest to Columbia university, New York City, and have been awarded annually since 1917 by the trustees of Columbia university upon recommendation of the advisory board of the school of journalism at Columbia, which was also founded and endowed by Mr. Pulitzer.

Awards to newspapers and journalists are made under five classifications: Public service, reporting, foreign or Washington correspondence, editorials and cartoons. Awards are also made each year for the best novel, play, history, biography and volume of verse.

The prize winning editorial written by Mr. Calvert dealt dramatically and forcefully with the advantages of American citizenship when compared with citizenship in some of the other countries. It was an inspiring subject fit to bring forth genius and a great editorial—it did both.

and Germany: STOLE AUSTRIA.

That isn't a good excuse for gobbling up a free neighbor, Germany just WANTED Czechoslovakia.

HITLER's theme was getting back what the Nazis Germany was cheated out of by the treaty of Versailles, and the case he made out was not unbreakable.
He pointed out rather tellingly that what he has accomplished in the way of restoration of Germany has been brought about WITHOUT WAR.

THE thing for Americans who heard Hitler's speech, or read it in full, to decide is whether they want to go to war (or permit themselves to be maneuvered into a position where they will HAVE to go to war) to back up the admitted injustices of the treaty of Versailles.

That is a question that ought to receive a lot of thoughtful attention in this country, for it is TRE-MENDOUSLY IMPORTANT to all of us.

Senator Hattie Caraway, speaking of the European situation, advises us to keep our mouths shut.
The Nazis and fascists will claim anything that's open.

When transmission of fascistic newspapers falls from time to time, leaving out sections of printed matter, father will be used to it. Now he picks up his evening paper and finds the family has cut holes in it.

A Lorain, O., postman estimates he has walked more than 119,000 miles. The pity of it is that most of it has been to deliver statements and circulars.

Oregon released 72 educational movies last year. Wasted effort, unless the state runs cartoon comedies with them.

A magnificent total of 39 people witnessed an early season baseball game in Columbus, Ohio. By straining your ears, you could faintly hear the roar of the crowd.
Only the umpires were happy.

People refuse to try new fruit invented by a horticulture expert.
Well, it took man a long time to become convinced that a pickle is really a cucumber.

An Illinois legislative committee reports that double feature movies are bad for the health. Of the theater managers—who have to try to sell people on a single bill now and then?

Farmers can't be expected to stay out of war any longer. The grasshoppers are coming!

Now that summer is approaching, a good thing to do is to get well fitted, this is once we put it over on the coal dealer.

TIMBER PURCHASED
FROM CHURCH HERE

Ringer Olmhouse of Myrtle Creek has purchased from the First Christian church of Roseburg the cedar timber on a tract located in the Myrtle Creek area.
It was reported today. The land, devoted to the church several years ago, was purchased by Henry Atten, but the timber was removed with the understanding that it must be removed within a specified period of time. The timber is to be sent by Mr. Olmhouse and will be delivered to the new pencil mill at Myrtle Creek.

Will Go to Meeting—Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Bailey plan to leave tomorrow for Salem to attend a meeting of prune growers Friday.
They will then go to their summer place at Charleston, Ore., to spend the weekend fishing.

COAL OUTPUT PRICE LOWS IN WEST SET

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP)— Tentative minimum prices at this mine for soft coal produced in the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast states were published today by the national bituminous coal commission.

The commission said the prices are subject to revision after a final hearing at Denver, beginning May 19, and will not become final until that time.

The coal act provides that prices must be set at levels to yield an average cost of production within the price area.

The prices included: Washington, Oregon and Alaska: $3.22.
