

FIGURES ON WPA PAYMENTS GIVEN

Fifty-nine cents out of every dollar earned by workers on WPA construction projects goes directly to the worker, either as a lump sum or as a check, and the remainder is used for the purchase of materials and other items.

The remainder of the wage dollar, according to the bureau's findings, is expended for such necessities as medical care, household operation, furnishings and equipment, transportation, recreation and other items.

The bureau's analysis disclosed that workers who found employment on WPA projects during the past six years earned wages totaling $1,295,452,000, and spent practically all of this amount in their communities.

The study showed that wages paid by private contractors to workers on WPA construction since 1933 bought more than $388,000,000 worth of foodstuffs; more than $339,000,000 worth of clothing; $191,000,000 worth of housing, and paid for $138,500,000 worth of coal, electricity, water, paint, house repairs and other items necessary for running a household.

These wages bought $53,000,000 worth of refrigerators, furniture, rugs and carpets, curtains, beds and other home furnishings. They purchased $109,000,000 worth of automobiles, tires, gasoline and oil, and bus, train and street car transportation. More than $65,000,000 flowed into the industries and businesses operating movies, sporting events and other recreational enterprises. More than $50,000,000 went to medical institutions, physicians, surgeons and druggists. Some $75,000,000 went into savings, insurance, investments and other expenditures.

In a report to President Roosevelt, summarizing the bureau's study of wage expenditures, Public Works Administrator Harold I. Ickes pointed out that these figures indicate "the direct economic benefits which flow back to the community that build a project."

PUT INDUSTRY IN TVA SAYS HOOVER

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 5.—(AP)—A suggestion the TVA could develop a new market for its power and eliminate competition with private industries was left in the heart of the Tennessee valley today by former President Herbert Hoover.

After delivering a commencement address at Lincoln Memorial university at Harrogate, Tenn., the ex-president conferred here last night with out Tennessee republicans before boarding a train for New York.

"I think the government should try to permeate the metallurgical industries to come into the TVA area," Hoover told interviewers. "That is the key to the success of TVA."

At the small mountain college a graduating class of 51 heard the former president declare that the "greatest danger to American democracy lies in government coercion to force cooperation from the people."

Recovery, Vandenberg said, can not be accomplished "under restrictive laws which stifle initiative, penalize thrift, discourage aspiration, throttle investment, kill confidence and harness the forward activities of citizenship in the straight-jacket of arbitrary government control."

Vandenberg made his declaration in a commencement address at Spurgeon university, where he received the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

AUTO FINANCING METHODS ATTACKED

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(AP)—The federal trade commission told congress today some financing companies have permitted automobile dealers to impose exorbitant charges and have practiced "serious deception or even direct defrauding of the purchaser." No companies were named.

These allegations were contained in a commission report on the motor industry.

The report surveyed policies followed by manufacturers in distributing motor vehicles and accessories, and in retail sales.

In its review of financing practices, the commission said its principal objection was that in advertising a so-called "six per cent financing plan," some larger companies did not make clear "that the finance charge rates were not interest rates and that the interest rates implied in the charges were nearly twice as much as six per cent per annum on the unpaid balance of the money borrowed."

The report added, however, that the plan was, in effect, "a substantial reduction" from interest and finance charge rates in general use "just previously."

To protect automobile purchasers from over-charges, the commission suggested retail automobile dealers be required to furnish each purchaser with an itemized invoice showing in detail the components of the cash sale price.

The commission also disclosed numerous dealers had complained that the largest three manufacturers coerced and forced them to purchase large stocks of accessories and replacement parts.

JAPANESE POINT CHINA MISDEEDS

SHANGHAI, June 5.—(AP)—Japanese made public today a report which had been submitted to United States officials citing a number of cases of alleged misuse of American flags and property by Chinese troops.

The report expressed the navy's regret that "owing, unfortunately, to numerous cases of damage to American property as a result of bombing by naval aircraft since January, Americans appear to have gotten the impression the Japanese navy is ignoring property rights of third powers."

It declared Japan was taking all possible precautions against such damage but that this sometimes was difficult due to Chinese misuse of the American flag. The Japanese produced photographs allegedly showing a pillbox constructed in front of the Methodist Episcopal church at Nanchang and wire entanglements in front of an American oil plant at the same place.

The report requested Americans to take all possible precautions to prevent Chinese from using their properties for military purposes or from constructing military establishments nearby.

A treaty embodying non-aggression clauses was signed with Lithuania, a third Baltic state, soon after Germany's annexation of Poland.

lake area. Salt creek would be used as a natural canal for three and a half miles. A diversion dam would be constructed on the creek at the Gold Lake outlet. A short tunnel would be bored through the divide into Odell lake. From Odell lake the released storage would find its way into the Deschutes river and the Wikipup reservoir.

Engineers reported flood control and irrigation projects in the Willamette basin had eliminated nearly all objections for turning Wadwa lake water into the central Oregon farmlands.

TREASURY OFFICIAL URGES TAX CHANGE

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(AP)—John W. Hanes, undersecretary of the treasury, told the house ways and means committee today the administration had a "duty" to make any tax changes that might be necessary to stimulate business.

"Wherever we find," Hanes, a former Wall Street broker, said, "that the tax system may be operating against the necessary incentive and is interfering with legitimate and necessary enterprise, it seems plain to me it is our duty to correct the situation."

Hanes endorsed in full the tax recommendations made recently by Secretary Morgenthau. They included removal of "tax irritants" such as the undistributed profits tax and the capital stock and excess profits taxes.
