

ELKS KEEP LEAD OF SOFTBALL LEAGUE

National Guard Handed 7-5 Defeat; Dunham's Downs Safeway, 17 to 2.

The Elks softball team clinging to the top rung of the city league ladder today by virtue of a 7-5 win over the National Guard nine at Finlay field last night. Played before the largest crowd of the season, the Elks edged out a narrow victory in a very closely contested game. In the nightcap, Dunham's continued on the trail of the league leaders with a convincing 17-2 decision over Safeway.

Hindale's Oilers, who are battling it out with Safeway for "squatters' rights" in the league cellar, dropped their eighth game out of nine played last night at Sutherland when they lost, 13 to 5.

The losers tried gamely to skip out their second win of the season, displaying an outburst of power in the first inning to score three runs on two hits. Henry, lead-off man, poked out a long homer for the first score. Sutherland tied the count in its half, then pushed across four in the third and four in the fourth to sew up the game when the Hindale infield collapsed. Hits were fairly even, 11 to 8, but the 16 Hindale miscues proved their undoing.

PICKETS BATTLE WISCONSIN POLICE

fight was on. Before it was over, four officers were taken to county general hospital for treatment of injuries. Four others were given first aid at the scene, and later were taken to hospitals. None was seriously hurt.

The disorder followed by a few hours Governor Julius P. Healy's rejection of a request by Sheriff Edward J. Milton for national guardsmen to police the factory.

Union Demands Rejected

The United Automobile Workers (CIO) union formally called its members out on strike yesterday after they had been on a "work holiday" 15 days in an attempt to force signing of a new labor contract.

Otto H. Falk, chairman of the company's board of directors, said removal of the 1935 contract was offered the union, and the company could not accede to demands for a union or closed shop, check-off system and a joint contract to cover the operations of the West Allis, Pittsburgh and Boston plants.

PLANT, Mich., June 13.—(AP)—Members of the two United Auto Workers unions clashed today at the gates of Fisher Body plant No. 1 but after a brief fight they broke up and all other units of General Motors corporation in Flint and Saginaw opened for the day.

One man was knocked out and several suffered bruises but police, who broke up the struggle, said no one was severely hurt.

The general Motors strike was called last week by the U.A.W.-A.F.L. headed by Homer Martin. The U.A.W.-C.I.O. has opposed it from the start and its members have been crossing the picket line in Fisher No. 1 supplier Buick division with bodies. The Martin union is considered relatively strong in Fisher No. 1.

The U.A.W.-A.F.L. called the strike to enforce its demand for recognition as a bargaining agent.

MOVING THIS WEEK—Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Mercer and daughter, Janet, and son, Robert, are moving this week from 212 Rice street to 601 Riverside drive in Laurelvood to make their home.

Visit at Mercer Home—Miss Isabel McLeod, librarian in the public school system in Portland, and her sister, Mrs. H. O. Pfander, II, stopped over in Roseburg to spend Monday visiting their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Mercer, en route to San Francisco as delegates to the national convention of the American Library association. They will attend the Golden Gate fair while in San Francisco and upon their return to Oregon will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Mercer and children, Janet and Robert, and other relatives from various points in Oregon, at Twin Rocks, Ore., for a family reunion.

Mrs. Pfander and small daughter, Janet, recently arrived in the states from Hawaii. Janet remained in Portland with relatives, while her mother is on the trip to San Francisco.

Jersey City Hears Relation of Unions

Speakers Stress Triumph Over Hague in Battle for Free Speech.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 13.—(AP)—The American Civil Liberties union gave over this midweek of Mayor Frank Hague to the CIO and other unions today after a mass meeting which Roger N. Baldwin, ACLU director, said demonstrated freedom of assembly.

Baldwin, designated a "red" by Hague with whom he battled for many months over the definition of civil rights, spoke in Jersey City for the first time last night, telling a crowd in Journal Square that once the freedom of assembly was demonstrated the ACLU "has no further interest in Jersey City."

Baldwin was one of many speakers, including Socialist Leader Norman Thomas, who addressed an audience estimated by ACLU officials at between 10,000 and 15,000 in its first street meeting since Hague, national democratic leader, was enjoined by the supreme court from prohibiting open-air meetings.

Thomas, who was ejected from Journal Square 14 months ago when he attempted to speak without a permit, told the crowd "it's a great thing the supreme court has done. . . . We have won the right to discuss. Now let's use it."

Thomas Hooted, Jeered

The former presidential candidate was the target of the only incident which marred an otherwise orderly meeting. As he left the square with Dorothy Dunbar Bromley, New York newspaper columnist and ACLU director, a crowd, mostly youths, hooted and jeered.

They were silenced by squads of the same police who aided in the ejection of Thomas last year. The police, present in large numbers, quickly admonished hecklers in the crowd during the speeches.

BRITAIN CONTINUES PEACE BOND EFFORT

By the Associated Press

Britain today urged Moscow and Berlin for reactions to reiterations of willingness to negotiate settlement of Europe's problems.

Foreign Secretary Halifax coupled an indication of that willingness with a restatement of British determination to meet force with force, made yesterday in the house of lords.

Soviet Russia's reaction may determine the fate of British efforts to bring the soviet union into a three-power mutual assistance pact with France and Britain.

These efforts entered a new phase with the sending of William Strang, British foreign office expert on eastern European affairs, to Moscow as a special envoy to attempt speeding up the negotiations.

An editorial in the communist newspaper Pravda indicated Russia would continue to insist on a three-power guarantee to Estonia, Latvia and Finland, some of the main points which have held up conclusion of a British-French-soviet agreement.

The editorial intimated such guarantees would be demanded whether the Baltic countries asked for them or not.

Watching for German reaction to the foreign secretary's speech, British learned from Adolf Hitler's newspaper Voelischer Beobachter that nazis still considered return of former German colonies necessary before "lasting peace" could be attained.

Reports increased in Rome that Italy was pressing nationalist Spain for a military alliance.

Only One Disturbance

Only one disturbance occurred during the closure. C. A. Shaffer, co-owner of a beer parlor which at first failed to join in the shutdown, reported that a bartender, not employed in his place, threw a large glass ashtray into a row of glasses across the bar. He said a patron's arm was cut. Shaffer closed briefly after that incident, but police who investigated were disinclined to believe the episode connected with the closure.

Union labor disavowed any responsibility for the shutdown.

Then the problem of the next republican president may all be preventing normal healthy recovery from turning into a run-away boom. At the risk of his very reputation he must be prepared to put on the brakes in time, and if he fails we will be facing the truly desperate situation of another bust. # LEWIS RAPS LABOR RECORD OF CONGRESS provisions already existing to help the unemployed get out a living."

The C.I.O. president asserted that congress had done nothing to restore jobs, improve provisions for taking care of the jobless, preserve civil liberties, or provide more rigid enforcement of labor laws.

"This is a record labor must ponder long and carefully," he said.

Wagner Act Periled

Lewis told the board members he would show them proof the American Federation of Labor and representatives of big business had "conspired" to destroy the Wagner act. He said he had proof "which no vague and categorical denials can wipe out."

Discussing the organization campaign, Lewis said there still are 20,000,000 unorganized wage earners in the United States.

"We have only begun the job of organization," he said. "We cannot rest. We are a vital labor movement and there is no stopping or no rest for us until all who work for a living in this country have a union for their protection."

Accuses A.F.L.

Lewis linked his discussion of a new organizing drive a charge the A.F.L. had struck "foul blows" during the rivalry between the two organizations for supremacy in the labor field.

"The C.I.O. will not long tolerate that policy," he said.

The prospects of a new C.I.O. organizing campaign, timed to keep pace with accelerated activities in such industries as aircraft and shipbuilding, were regarded by some labor leaders as a definite sign labor peace still was several months distant.

If the board orders a large scale drive, it will be fulfilling Lewis'

Board Change Demanded.

President William Green of the A.F.L. told the house labor committee today the present membership of the labor relations board should be displaced "to restore confidence and respect in the minds of millions of American workers."

Green urged adoption of amendments to the Wagner act sponsored by the A.F.L. and submitted by Representative Barden (D., N. C.). One of the proposals would abolish the present labor board and provide for the appointment of a new one.

Partiality to C.I.O. Seen

Through his testimony Green contended repeatedly the board's administration of the Wagner act had shown partiality toward the C.I.O. He recalled the A.F.L. had support-
