WAGNER ACT FACES FURTHER CHANGES

Revisions So Far Fail to Satisfy All Critics of Labor Regulations.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—The labor board regulations failed today to satisfy some critics of the Wagner act, and as a result further changes appeared imminent.

1. Senator Ellender (D., Ia.), predicted further revision of the board's rules, including a proposal to assure both employers and workers at least 10 months of freedom each year from disputes between unions.

2. Two house members who declined use of their names said the board would be asked to authorize an investigation of the labor board, despite the procedural change, with a report next January on proposals for altering the Wagner act.

3. The AFL renewed its demands for changes in the act. Joseph A. Padway, its general counsel, called yesterday's revision an "an AF of error" but said the federation wanted all its proposed amendments written into law.

4. CIO leaders made no formal comment, but let it be known they were opposed to the revision. Senator Ellender, an administration supporter on the senate labor committee, said among proposals he had submitted to the board was the following one which its members regarded favorably:

"That after a union has established its right to represent a company's employees and has obtained a year's contract with the company, the board should entertain no petitions from a rival union until a short time before the contract expired.

"This would assure at least 10 months of non-intervention by the union which lost in the original election conducted to determine proper bargaining," Ellender said.

He predicted that the board also would announce shortly rules of evidence which attorneys for many business men have advocated.

POET'S CORNER

ONLY A ROSE BUSH By MALINDA ODERKIRK There's a rose that some one planted By a path, on down the street. It was a kind deed thus to plant it Near the tread of many feet.

It grows there in all its beauty; And its blossoms—fragrant, gay—Cheer the patient and the weary. Take their loneliness away.

For to some it brings fond memories Of far off lands and sunny skies; While to others, tired with waiting, It brings new light within their eyes.

Blessings on the one who planted Sweet love's emblem, with such care. May each bud be an inspiration, May each blossom be a prayer.

SIDE GLANCES

"Please, father! Is one fly worth all this?" Topsy's 'Puppy' Has Feathers

Nestled into softness of "mother's" back, an orphan finds complete contentment. Topsy, cocker spaniel owned by A. E. McCaskey of Huntington, W. Va., adopted the chick when her litter of puppies died. She treats the little bird with tender care, transpo it gently in her mouth.

SHORTAGE CASE AT SALEM NEARS JURY

SALEM, June 22.—(AP)—The larceny trial of former Deputy County Treasurer W. Y. Richardson, charged with taking $22,500 in county funds, was near the jury today, as opposing counsel prepared their final arguments to the jury.

Richardson denied on the stand today that he had told the grand jury that both he and former County Treasurer D. G. Datzger, who is under similar indictment, might have been responsible for the shortage. The state then called the seven grand jurors, who testified that Richardson did make the statement to them.

Asked by his attorney to explain why he concealed the shortage, Richardson said: "I wasn't positive about my work, whether there was a shortage or wasn't. I felt it wasn't my duty to report it and that it was the duty of Mr. Datzger. I wasn't positive about it."

"Still you saw the shortage increase from year to year and was not positive about it?" Special Prosecutor Francis Marsh asked. "I was not positive, no," Richardson replied.

TAX COLLECTIONS EXCEED ESTIMATE

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(AP)—The treasury announced today tax collections to date, with ten lucrative days to go, already had exceeded President Roosevelt's January estimates for the fiscal year which will end June 30.

Quarterly, June income tax payments were a big factor, it disclosed, in pushing fiscal year revenue well beyond those estimates.

At the beginning of the year, the president estimated federal revenue would total $5,520,170,000 including $2,685,000,000 from income taxes. With the 10 heavy collection days yet ahead, the treasury said that on June 20 it had collected $5,566,450,550, including $2,148,070,130 in income taxes.

Because expenditures, which on June 20 totaled $5,975,938,588, were lagging behind the budgeted $9,592,325,000, officials expect the deficit on June 30 to be approximately $500,000,000 less than the $4,972,259,000 anticipated five months ago.

Although income taxes were the big surprise to the budget makers, other branches of federal revenue also exceeded estimates, indicating the evaluations of 1938 and early 1939 business, upon which the estimates were made, were too gloomy.

WAR REFERENDUM SPLITS AFL MEET

EUGENE, June 22.—(AP)—An unexpected snag was encountered in this morning's session of the Oregon State Federation of Labor convention when a resolution designed to put the labor group in support of the war referendum bill drew hot debate and was finally tabled.

Trouble on the motion began when the committee on law and legislation returned a report advising non-concurrence. After lengthy debate which was stopped by a call for the previous question, the committee's report was voted down.

Opponents to the measure brought up the tabling motion, however, which was passed in an effort to speed up proceedings. The question should come up before the end of the convention and indications are that it will be passed in spite of strong opposition.

The other 22 measures which were considered by the session were dispatched with a minimum of discussion. The expected split over the question of opposing the CIO, the Workers' Alliance and the Commonwealth federation, failed to materialize. The committee, headed by Gust Anderson, Portland, submitted a substitute measure, not quite as strongly worded, which reiterated the federation position in regard to these organizations. It passed without a dissenting vote.

Questions of labor attitude in regard to the WPA came in for some discussion when a measure requesting an increase of the number of skilled laborers on these projects was rejected as "irrelevant." The delegates approved resolutions which criticized WPA encroachment upon private industry, and which expressed opposition to WPA competition with garment industry.

GLIDER CONQUERS CONTINENTAL TASK

MAGDALENA, N. M., June 22.—(AP)—Captain Peter Hiedel, 35-year-old glider pilot, rested today at the ranch 13 miles west of here where last night he set down his motorless craft after a 300-mile trip from Winslow, Ariz., the first glider to conquer the continental divide.

En route from the west coast, Hiedel, a member of the German embassy staff at Washington, laid claim to an unofficial American glider altitude record of 17,600 feet.

A graduate, seeking a job, sent out 31 applications in bottles. The firm which hired him replied in nautical terms. If he's ever fired, he'll probably just get a note: "Man overboard."

7-MILE PARADE TO FEATURE REUNION

Oregon Legion's Pageant at Salem Will Show 8,000 on March.

SALEM, Ore., June 21.—(Special.)—A parade over seven miles in length is being planned for the second day of the American Legion department convention to be held in Salem on August 10, 11 and 12, according to Major H. F. Pound who is in charge of this particular part of the general program.

It has been estimated that there will be around 8000 marchers in the convention parade. Among these will be a battalion of rifle-men, the band and drum and bugle corps from the Seventh Infantry stationed at Vancouver, a battalion of the 162nd Infantry from Portland with their band and 11 other companies of Oregon national guard outfits. Each of these military units will bring along complete equipment. It is estimated that there will be over 1000 soldiers in the line of march and this section alone will add greatly to the central theme of the convention, "national defense."

In addition to the military units there will be delegations from the 114 posts in the big parade as well as from the various auxiliary units. Then to add to all of this will come 30 bands and drum corps from various sections of the state.

There will be many other delegations from other patriotic orders, while numerous civic marching groups will be on hand with their bands. Then will come the many beautiful decorated floats. It will be a gala evening on the second day of the convention as this spectacular parade winds its way along the streets of Salem and passes in review through the athletic field of Willamette university.

MEDALS GIVEN TO PHONE HEROINES

SALEM, June 22.—(AP)—Two telephone operators who stuck to their posts during the Pilot Rock flood on June 22, 1938, were presented medals today by Gov. Charles A. Sprague.

The operators, Mrs. Maud Gilbert and Miss Erlene Gilliland, both employees of the Independent Telephone Co. of Pilot Rock, were given Vail medals, awarded annually by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. to telephone employees throughout the nation in recognition of courageous and outstanding service.

Cloudbursts struck near the town of Pilot Rock a year ago today. Swollen streams swept through the town, flooding many buildings including the telephone company office.

"Despite the danger of grave personal injury, the continued telephone service to the public at great personal inconvenience and under hazardous and extremely trying conditions," said a certificate presented to each of the two women.
