

YANKS AGAIN LOSE TO DUTCH LEONARD

Cincinnati Also Defeated, Mainly on Errors; Bees Downed by Giants.

By JUDSON RAILLY.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Washington Senators show a run out of the Yankees on one hit in the first inning yesterday. Then every time New York scored, Washington committed the error in the same inning until by the fifth frame the Senators had it won 7-5.

Dutch Leonard, the 29-year-old knuckleballer, got credit for his fourth victory without defeat against the Yankees this season although he allowed all New York's runs and had to be removed for a pinchhitter in the fifth.

Yankees' Lead Reduced

The combination of New York's defeat and the Boston Red Sox's fifth straight victory reduced the Yankees' lead to five and a half games, the shortest margin since July 11.

Boston came from behind again in leading the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5, getting three runs of six singles in the sixth inning.

Bridges hit the Detroit Tigers to a 4-3 triumph over the Chicago White Sox with a seven-hit sixstrikeout performance which shut out the Sox until the ninth.

Cincy Errors Costly

Like the American league leaders, Cincinnati's pace-setters in the National circuit also were spanked, 6-1, by the Chicago Cubs. Three of the runs which caused Derringer his seventh setback were unearned as the usually faultless heavy combination of Frey and Myers ran into a bad day.

Milton of the Giants returned to form with a five-hit pitching show which stopped the Boston Bees, 6-1.

The best baseball, as often happens, came from the bottom of the standings as the Brooklyn Dodgers and Philadelphia Phillies divided a doubleheader. In taking the first game 3-4, Hamilton of the Dodgers had to pitch three-hit ball to better a four-hit effort by Beck.

The Dodgers started out to win the second game too, but the Phillies' post-up batting instincts burst out with seven runs in the sixth inning for an 8-4 triumph.

U. S. Army Planes Demonstrate 30 Years' Progress

At top—On the thirtieth anniversary of the day the U. S. army bought its first rickety military plane, those sleek streamliner bombers roared over New York in connection with commemorative maneuvers by 1500 planes all over the country. In this unusual photo the bombers give the illusion of an aerial train.

Lower photo—Dramatically illustrating the advance in aviation, 22 tons of metal in the shape of a U. S. army "flying fortress" roared 2500 miles across the country, from Burbank, Cal., to New York, in 9 hours and 14 minutes, thus setting a new army record. BENNETT-CAREY GO MAGNET FOR FANS

Advance Reports Indicate Record Crowd at Card Here August 16.

Roseburg boxing fans are to be congratulated on the opportunity to see Dallas Bennett and Rex Carey headlined in a championship battle, according to Dr. Paul Dutton, chairman of the Portland boxing commission, 17, 18th St. In a letter to the News-Review, he states that he plans to attend, along with many other outstanding fight fans from various parts of the state.

"I have received a letter from my friend, Harry Eagles, who informs me Roseburg is to have a boxing show on the 16th featuring Dallas Bennett against Rex Carey in the main event," Dr. Dutton writes.

"I wish to take this opportunity to recommend this as a very good match," he continues. "Bennett knocked out Young Pirpo here in Portland and has made other good fights, while Carey was fought in this city four or five times and has not lost a fight here. My heartfelt congratulations to the boxing fans of your city in getting such a good main event. I hope to have the chance to attend the show. Should I be unable to go, I am sure I will be missing a real fight."

Record Crowd Looms

Fight fans from Eugene, Corvallis, Marshfield, North Bend, Empire, Newport, Coppsville and Lakeview have written for tickets, the local promoters announce, and the larger boxing crowd in Roseburg history is expected.

This match also has the boxing fraternity buzzing with interest, according to word received here. Jack Connors of Tacoma, one of the best known trainers on the coast, has reported he will be on hand. Connors has managed such boys as Freddie Steele, Eddie Britt, Jack Macomber and others.

Among other prominent fans expected are Nels Ironman, Marston field policeman and promoter, who in his day was a widely known heavyweight fighter; Frank Smithers, Victoria, B. C.; Al Morse, matchmaker for the Portland commission, and a carload of Portland fans, planning a fishing trip on the North Umpqua following the battle.

The appearance of Freddie Steele, ex-middleweight champion of the world, at the arena for the bout is also adding to the interest of fans.

Grudge Fight Included

Another great bit of news was announced today when the promoters reported that the Vallier-Brahmer grudge fight is on again.

The promoters had been given notice that Vallier had been kicked out of town, and so reached Gene Mann against Brahmer. Vallier, however, returned in last night with news that he wasn't giving anyone an opportunity to fight, and that he was going to be on the card if he had to pass

SAFEMAN DEFEATS ELKS' TEAM, 16-15

Game Decided in Last Half of 9th Frame; Hancock's Slaughter Guard.

The old dope bucket got kicked for an "inside loop" last night at Friday field when the lowly Safeway team, one jump out of the cellar, knocked over the second-place Elks team, 16 to 15, in a heavy-hitting, wild-scoring affair, for one of the biggest upsets of the season in the city softball league.

In the opener, the Hancock Oilers came through with an easy 19-6-7 win over the National Guard for their second victory of the week.

Although the schedule has no games filled for the local diamond tonight, softball fans will have the opportunity of witnessing a triple-bill, with the league-leading Dunham Transformers opening the activities at 6:30 o'clock against Sutherland, to be followed by a "kings" game between the Hancock Oilers and Azalea. The final contest will be Boucock's against Oakland. Both out-of-town games were transferred to the local field because of the lack of lighting facilities there.

In the Safeway-Elks embryo, runs were worth no more than a "dime-a-dozen," with 21 posted in the seven innings of play to keep the scorekeepers in a state of frenzy. The Grocerymen were definitely "on" last night as they reached the Elks' star buster, Al Merrill, for his solid defense. Carl Pomeroy, winning pitcher, was in plenty of hot water most of the game, despite the fact that he gave up only 8 hits, for his teammates committed 12 miscues in the field.

Game Won in Ninth

With the files out in front, 15 to 14, as the Safewaymen came to bat in the last half of the final inning, Merrill was greeted with strikes by Harry and D. Stevenson. After C. Stevenson's fly-out, Eagles crashed out another hit which brought Marty across to tie the score. Mode walked, Puckett struck out, and then little "AT" Atterbury, the hero of the hour, cracked out a single to score the win.

After the Guardsmen took an early lead in the first inning with a home run, the winners came back to tie in the seventh. Hoyt, winning pitcher, blanking them until the sixth.

BEAVERS DEFEAT SUDS, QUIT CELLAR

By The Associated Press.

Those unrepentable Portland Beavers were back out of the Pacific Coast league baseball cellar today after knocking over the first place Seattle club before the second largest crowd of the year at Seattle.

Before 15,192 paying customers, the Beavers whipped the home club 11 to 2 to drive up two notches into sixth place and trim Seattle's lead to four and one-half games.

The Beavers got 19 hits off three Rainier pitchers and were hot from the start, getting three runs in the opening frame, aided by Seattle errors. They bunched four hits in the eighth.

Thomas pitched the route for Portland, giving up 12 hits. Les Webster led off on the Seattle mound, gave way in the fourth to Selway, and Sorcery took over in the ninth.

Bonetti Wins Own Game

The league's leading pitcher, Bonetti of Los Angeles, limited Oakland to two hits as he shut out the Oaks at Oakland, 1 to 0, for the Angels' first win of the week.

Bonetti battled the Los Angeles' lone run, smacking home Collins in the second inning.

At Hollywood, Sam Francisco's Seals helped sink the Hollywood Stars into the cellar by beating them, 5 to 2, on a testifying homer by Stony with one on base.

Honus runs by Griffith and Adams, the factor with one on base, gave Sacramento a 3 to 2 win over San Diego at Sacramento. Then, San Diego double, outpitched Seals in a duel between the two left-handers.

SERIAL STORY BORDER ADVENTURE

BY OREN ARNOLD

COST OF CHARACTERS

BETTY MARY TOBIAN—Pretty young Border Patrol service secretary.

SHERIDAN STARR—Handsome Border Patrol officer.

HOPE KILDARE—Starr's fellow officer, also a bachelor.

LUIS' BARRRO—Mexican smuggler.

Yesterday Betty has no chance to slip away, but she slips three white sheets on the hillside and signals. The officers see them! Next morning the sheets are still up. Barrro is gone!

CHAPTER XXIII

When 10 o'clock and then 11 passed and the time slipped emphatically on toward noon, Betty Mary began to realize that she had not acted foolishly when she had laid three sheets to scrubby trees hoping smugglers might see them. Surely, if help were coming it would have come long since, she reasoned.

So despite engulfed fear, then in the Barrro kitchen, she had done more manual labor in the past 12 hours than she had done in a whole year before. She had washed countless pieces of china and silverware after having the laundry. She had peeled and chopped onions, had crushed dried peppers that stung her nostrils and eyes, had stirred a great cauldron of greasy chili that became appetizing as it became assailed her. The fat cook, impersonal slave driver, saw to it that she worked hot as long as she had to. Indulgences he let her strictly alone.

At 11:15 she stopped for a kitchen window for a breath of fresh air and saw a bewhiskered, old Mexican man drive up in a creaky cart pulled by two burros. He stopped near the kitchen and began unloading firewood. One of Barrro's armed guards cursed him for his reason whatever, but the lumbering old man just bowed his head, crossed himself, and said nothing. Betty Mary felt sorry for him.

Presently the unwhiskered, auto-motally chugged up in the kitchen door. Eyes vigilant for a chance to escape, Betty Mary went out to see it. In the car, a sort of covered truck, was a bearded beef, the great slab of meat still warm from animal heat. The fat cook stopped in the door.

"What is this?" he demanded of the driver, belligerently.

"La carne," a scowling, little man whined. "Is the meat ordered from Puerto Blanco. Some Barrro order. Por favor, I need meat, because he cannot pay his debt in money."

"Ah!" growled the cook. "Bring in. You, muchacha, help him. This last command was addressed to Betty Mary, who was standing

$5 CASH PRIZE

And Other Merchandise Awards for the Best Answers:

Here are a few well-known slogans used by some breweries in their advertising. Do YOU think they are TRUE or FALSE, and WHY?

For the best answers we will give $5.00 cash, first prize; a case of A-ONE BEER, second prize, and a carton of LIME COLA, DR. DIXON or TONE UP, third prize. Here are the slogans—

- NON-FATTENING—In your opinion, can ANY beer be non-fattening, and why?
- STARCHLESS—Is it possible for any beer to be entirely starchless, and why?
- EXTRA DRY—Do you think it possible for any beer to be Extra Dry, which means that the sugar has been completely fermented out?
- EXTRA PALE—Do you find that beer labeled Extra Pale is any lighter or paler than most good beers, or tastes any better?
- WRITTEN GUARANTEE—In your opinion, should not ANY advertised product carry a Money-Back Guarantee, backed up by the producer?
- IT'S THE WATER—In your opinion, is pure water important as one of the ingredients in the making of good beer?
- SLOGANS—Are you influenced by advertising slogans, or by some specific claim made, or are you governed by your taste?

Contestants will be awarded prizes in Jackson, Josephine, Douglas, Lane, Klamath and Lake Counties. The judges will be named in subsequent announcements, who in turn will choose the winners. All answers will remain the property of this company.
