Wool Hood Will Cap Your Other Knitting Triumphs

By NEA Service

NEW YORK.—Knitting needles are clicking busily again. And, oh, ever then not, the hands that make them click these days belong to college girls. Campus wardrobes will include quantities of handsome. No, the least important among these is the hood, for daytime as well as evening.

One of the sweetest and most universally becoming angora hoods is extremely simple to make. Materials required are: 5 balls of fuzzy, soft angora wool, each ball weighing one-half ounce; one pair No. 1 knitting needles (3½ mm. size); one pair No. 2 (2¾ mm. size); one and five-eighths yards of grosgrain ribbon, 2 inches wide.

GAUGE: 6 sts make 1 inch; 12 rows make 1 inch. Starting at back edge of hood, with No. 1 needles, cast on 26 sts. (Uneven rows are right side of work.)

1ST, 3RD, 4TH AND 6TH ROWS: K across. 2ND AND 5TH ROWS: P across. These 6 rows constitute the pattern. Repeat pattern once more.

13TH ROW: Increase 1 st. in every 5th st across (31 sts). Work 11 more rows.

25TH ROW: Increase 1 st in every 6th st across (36 sts). Work in pattern until there are 84 rows in all (rows may be easily counted by multiplying the number of ridges by 2). Piece should measure 7 inches.

BREAK YARN at end of 84th row, leaving work on needle. With free needle, starting at lower right-hand corner, with right side of work toward you, attach yarn and pick up 42 sts along the edge of piece just completed, working from neck edge to upper right corner where yarn was broken. Join work at corner and proceed in pattern across the 36 sts on needle.

THEN, HOLDING right side of work toward you, pick up 42 sts along edge to correspond to opposite side. There are now 120 sts on needle. Work in pattern over these sts for 72 rows (about 6½ inches). Do not bind off.

CUFF (TO BE WORN TURNED BACK): *K 1 row, p 1 row) 5 times, then K 1 row. Now (k 1 row, p 1 row) twice, k 1 row. Repeat from * once more. Bind off. Turn under the last rib and tack lightly, on wrong side, to the 2nd of the wide ribs.

NECK BAND AND BERTHA: Holding right side of work toward you with No. 2 needles pick up 142 sts all along lower edge of hood and work in ribbing of p 2, k 2, for 2 inches, increasing 1 st in every other st on last row (213 sts). Then work in ribbing of p 3, k 3, for ½ inch.

Perfect for the college girl's wardrobe is this flattering angora hood—so simple to knit that even a novice will have no trouble making it. The cuff is turned back to give a halo effect, and the neck and bertha are held snugly in place with grosgrain ribbon.

CHANGE to No. 4 needles and continue in ribbing of p 3, k 3, for 3 more inches. Bind off in ribbing, very loosely, to allow for bottom flare.

PRESS BERTHA lightly, spread ribbing at outer edge. Fold to rest, and ribbing to measure 9½ inches. Place the center 9½ inches of ribbon directly over neck band, on inside, and sew ribbon to ribbing along both edges. Tie ends into a bow. Turn cuff to right side of hood.

Blankets, of course, must be clean, but it's a back-breaking task for any woman to get them so. It is easier, more economical and sensible to send them to this modern laundry where they will be washed with soft water, and mild soaps. And neither you nor the blankets will have that washed out look!
