

SUSPECT FREED BY ERROR IN FILING

Alleged Slayer Gets Away at Portland, "Pal" at Eugene Confesses.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 20.—(AP)—One man accused of an Iowa slaying signed a confession in a Eugene jail today but a companion, similarly charged, was free because a Portland police bureau attendant placed his fingerprints in the wrong file.

Captain of Detectives John J. Keegan said Francis Welch, accused with Fred Osterreider, 21, of slaying Harold J. Dreher in Mason City at Des Moines, Ia., July 18, served a ten-day sentence here last month for vagrancy under the name of John Little. He was released before the misfiled fingerprints were recovered and checked with information from Iowa.

Osterreider was arrested at Eugene on charges of stealing and burning railroad ties. In a signed statement to Lane county Sheriff C. A. Swarts today he said he aided Welch and a man identified only as "Slim" to get Dreher under a bridge and rob him of one dollar.

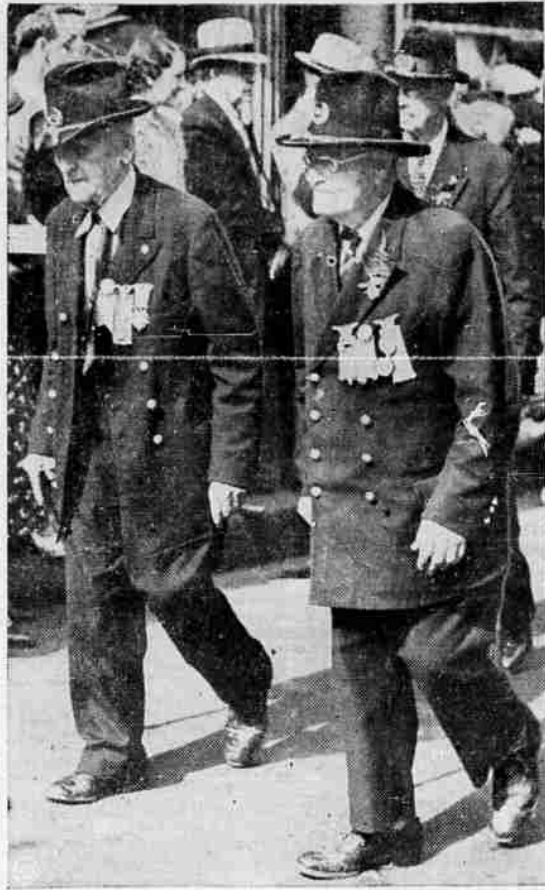

The trio, the youthful prisoner related, stole Dreher's automobile and planned to drop their victim outside the city limits. Osterreider said Dreher jumped from the car and "as he was going through the door Welch, who was sitting in the back seat with him, shot him. The gun was a .35 calibre that we got in the robbery of a flop house at Minneapolis."

The youth told the sheriff they found $19 in a pocketbook beneath the floor matting. They abandoned the automobile in Council Bluffs and went to Omaha by streetcar where they learned Dreher was dead.

Welch and Osterreider fled to Portland and Seattle, the statement said, and then continued to Eugene after Welch completed a city jail sentence.

He was unable to provide information on Welch's whereabouts or identify "Slim."

The Last March?

Their pace is slower—but still as veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic are able to parade at organization's national encampment in Pittsburgh, Pa. Tomorrow these soldiers may be gone. Tomorrow the thunder of a new war may push the Civil War further into the background.

OVERHEARD AT TREASURE ISLAND:

"I never realized the importance of washing green coffee"

Every day coffee-lovers throng Hills Bros. Exposition Theatre at Treasure Island, Golden Gate International Exposition, to see "Behind the Caps," a sound picture in Cinecolor.

"I NEVER REALIZED THE IMPORTANCE OF WASHING GREEN COFFEE," is the comment of many guests at Hills Bros. Exposition Theatre. Careful washing of green coffee is of vital importance to coffee quality as well as an ideal method of removing the jelly-like substance that completely surrounds each bean. Exacting care like this is in evidence throughout the entire production of Hills Bros. Coffee. Those who use it say, "Now that's what I call good coffee!"

"I MAKE PERFECT COFFEE WITH The Correct Grind"

"My experience with The Correct Grind has convinced me it produces perfect coffee in any type of coffee-maker. I just follow the directions carefully. And I never re-quired The Correct Grind. I'd lose flavor, aroma, and freshness."

IMPORTANT: Carefully observe timing for each method. Measure 2 level tablespoons of coffee to each cup of water. Vary water slightly for exact strength desired. Keep coffee-maker clean.

DRIIP METHOD: 6 to 8 minutes preferred. If less than 2 1/2 capacity is made, water will drip too fast giving weak brew.

GLASS VACUUM MAKERS: Put upper tube in after water boils. Coffee and water should be in contact 5 to 7 minutes.

PERCOLATOR: Start with cold or hot water. "Perk" 7 to 10 minutes after steady pumping starts.

COFFEE POT: Bring coffee and water to boiling. Stir well. Add small amount of cold water and let stand 5 minutes to settle grounds.

STEERING: Pour boiling water on coffee. Stir well. Steep again in 5 minutes. Steep for a total of 10 to 15 minutes.
