

CAMAS HOOPSTERS TRIM RIDDLE, 27-18

RIDDLE, Nov. 21.—(Special)—After seven long dry seasons "the worm turned" as Camas Valley high school basketball team finally beat Riddle's Irish on the latter's court, 27-18, in a wild contest played Friday evening. Not since 1932 had they accomplished such a feat.

It being the intercollegiate debut for a number of players, both teams were as skittish as a bevy of old maids at a June wedding when the game started, but had their nerves more or less in control at the final gun.

The Irish lived up to their nickname as they fought their larger opponents to a standstill most of the way, showing more promise than had been expected prior to the season's opener.

Riddle Girls Win
At that Camas went home with only half the boon as the Riddle volleyballists unceremoniously swamped their guests, 45-7, with reserves playing a good share of the encounter. The winning girls displayed plenty of power and class as they polished off the opposition most convincingly, using a devastating system of setting the ball up and spiking it, coupled with near-perfect timing.

WESTERN STATES

SEATTLE, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Expecting to face sharp-shooting passers who could hit a turkey at 50 paces, the Washington Huskies went through their most intensive aerial defense practice in several weeks last night in preparation for the Thanksgiving game against Oregon.

"We aren't going to be caught napping if Oregon lives up to its passing reputation," commented Coach Phelan.

None too strong on aerial defense this season, the Huskies are also proceeding on the ancient battle theory that the best defense is a strong offense. They are whipping plenty of passes of their own this week.

The game is ticketed as one of the best prospective aerial duels of the season, with the Webfoots matching the unsteady catching ability of Halfback Jay Grayback against Washington's straggling man, Straight-passing Dean McAdams.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Some news that may be had for Oregon State came out of the U.C.L.A. campus today. Jackie Robinson is back with the varsity, and his running as a fullback.

Robinson, the nimble-footed negro halfback who stood Oregon's defenders on their ears to score two touchdowns, is expected to be in shape for Saturday's tussle here. He was out of last week's Santa Clara tilt with a bad knee.

Gasoline Sales Victor Crowned

With crowned heads fast becoming a rarity, Roseburg was, nevertheless, today able to boast one of its own in the person of Jim Myers, distributor for Hancock gasoline in this territory. Having achieved the greatest increase in gasoline sales for the past month among the Hancock gasoline distributors of this section, Myers was crowned "king" among his fellow dealers in a "ceremony" presided over by Al G. Norris, northwest sales manager for Hancock gasoline.

The "coronation" took place at Myers' service station with Norris placing the regal symbol on Myers' head amid the acclaim of cheering supporters. Among those present was H. P. Morrison, head of the Northwest Oil company, distributor of Hancock gasoline in Oregon, who came to Roseburg to notify Myers personally of having won his honors.

Jealousy flaming between two brothers was responsible for the gas explosion which wrecked Woodside, L. L. home of William Henehan, according to New York police. The house, pictured in flames, was shared by Henehan and his son Thomas. The father invited another son, Edward, and his bride to move in. Son Thomas objected, and police, who held him on arson charge, say he admitted contriving the blast in resentment.
