Today's Pattern

4363
BECOMING, GAY TWO-PIECER PATTERN 4363

by Anne Adams

There's a certain something about the fitted-and-flared lines of a two-piece that gives you a snappy, "ready for anything" air. But Anne Adams' Pattern 4363 does more than that! It combines trim style with feminine details, and the result is delightful! The front panel of the jacket makes a long, graceful line with the panel of the flaring skirt, which may contrast. Soft gathering at each side of the panel gives a nice bust-line. And, for a light-hearted touch, the buttoning is scalloped-edged and so are the short sleeves. Cut the neckline round and high or in a very becoming V. For a dress-up touch, add a frilly edging.

Pattern 4363 is available in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30. Size 16 takes 3 yards 54 inch fabric. Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER. Send your order to News-Review, Pattern Dept., Roseburg, Ore.

Utility Giant Asks Reorganizing Right

UTICA, N. Y., Jan. 12.—(AP)—The Associated Gas and Electric company, serving 1,700,000 customers in 6,000 communities, principally in eastern states and the Philippine islands, is seeking reorganization under the federal bankruptcy law.

The company, top holding concern of the billion-dollar Associated Gas and Electric system, filed in federal district court yesterday a petition which said the firm was without funds to carry on its business, meet taxes, or pay interest due on its outstanding debt January 15.

The company's action followed by a few hours a ruling of the securities and exchange commission that the Associated Gas and Electric corporation, a subsidiary company in the Associated Gas and Electric system directly underlying the top company, no longer could declare dividends on its capital stock, or pay interest to the parent company on its $70,000,000 note.

The Associated Gas and Electric company owns all of the capital stock, totaling $71,000,000 common shares, of the Associated Gas and Electric corporation, and the note.

Guam Improvement Plans Irk Japan

TOKYO, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Looking with suspicion on the renewed United States navy proposal to improve harbor facilities at Guam, the Japanese saw it today as another link in a chain of "unfriendly gestures" toward their Asiatic aspirations.

Japanese naval officers, who consider Guam as an extremely vulnerable American base, nevertheless regard reappearance of the improvement question as a "moral threat," increasingly important to Japan because of the United States' strengthened policy in the Pacific during the past year.

They admit privately Japan had counted on having virtually a free hand in the western Pacific after 1946, the date now set for Philippine independence.

In their view, the 180th meridian, the international dateline, is the natural boundary for the United States naval sphere of action.

Last year, when the Guam "look-out post" was a hot issue in the United States congress, Admiral Yonah, then minister of the navy and now member of the Japanese war council, said Japan was not strategically very deeply concerned.

Indeed, he said, Japan would feel "sorry" for the United States if it felt the need of establishing a
