POET'S CORNER

The following poem appeared in a late issue of our Dumb Animals, Boston, Mass.

A COYOTE HOWLS

A rogue he well may be— A picaresque, In quaint relief Against the prairie moon: But when he lifts his muzzle To the sky, The night is flagellated By his cry: The dismal notes, Re-echo and rebound, Like northern lights Translated into sound. —Marjorie Hunt Pettit.

IN A SILVER CAST

By G. M. LEEPER I was just looking At the pussy willows In your window As I passed, Like a thought Wrapped In a silver cast.

Old; perhaps they were. For thoughts Like pussy willows Grow old, But hold within The heart of them A story often told.

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

Man is a prey to fear, primarily because fear is rolled up in the bundle of life he inherits. Let us look at some of the springs of human fear. There are fears that come from the imagination. Such may prove beneficial, spurring man to discovery and relief. Nevertheless a vivid imagination often releases fear and reason seems powerless to help us. But one of the old Testament writers knew an antidote. Faith in God quiets fear, even as the presence of a parent reassures a child entering a dark room. Fears arise from frailty and weakness. When one's vitality is low, one readily gives way to fear. But our Father in heaven knows and it is altogether wonderful how He dispels our worst fears. What fears would vanish if man could banish conscience? But God, who placed this monitor within us, can deal with an accusing conscience. "If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." "I will fear no evil, for thou art with me." Amen.

SLIM LINES IN SHIRTFROCK PATTERN 4305

by Anne Adams

There's not-to-be-unequalled, casual RITINESS about a shirtwaister style that will carry you smartly through a busy day of shopping, calling for the children, visiting a friend and working. Anne Adams' Pattern 4305, a trim matron's shirt-frock, is quick as a flash to stitch up with the Sewing Instructor's assistance. See what tall-and-slim lines the front and back panels give. Neat darts at your shoulders release plenty of soft freedom through the bodice. Don't you like the unusual shape of the wide collar? Trim it with ruffling or ric-rac, if you like, and you might also have it in contrast, with cuffs to match.

Pattern 4305 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48. Size 36 takes 42 yards 35 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE NUMBER. Send your order to News-Review, Pattern Dept., Roseburg, Ore.
