

News of 4-H CLUBS

Mr. L. J. Allen, assistant state club leader in charge of livestock and crop projects, is in the county today and Wednesday. County Club Agent E. A. Britton will take Mr. Allen into several communities in which there are livestock clubs where he will meet with both leader and boys.

The picture show sponsored jointly by the Umpqua national forest, Douglas county fire patrol, and 4-H clubs was completed at the last showing at Melrose Friday evening. The pictures were shown to the 4-H local leaders at Oakland Monday evening; Glade school Tuesday afternoon; Days Creek school, Thursday forenoon; and Simik school Friday night.

Another schedule is nearly completed for pictures shown under the same sponsorship. This schedule will begin Friday evening at Glade school. Every evening date is already taken excepting Saturday, March 2. These pictures will be the sound type and are reported to be exceptionally fine.

County Club Agent Britton reports that a small group of enterprising farmers has been organized with the idea of assisting P.T.A.'s and other clubs in their 4-H club school-ship programs. The program will include: Allen Gordon, music and accordion; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gordon, guitar duo; Lavilla McMillan, mandolin; Millard Mowbray, vocal; Lou Britton, piano and The Gloria Glenn, harmonica and guitar. This group is now filing requests from various organizations.

The Sutherland 4-H hobby club welcomed Mr. Britton last week by singing "How do you do Mr. Britton." Mr. Britton answered the girls' questions and explained what was to be done during the week. The girls acted for the remainder of the meeting. Members present were: Jean Turner, Julia Sabala, Gloria Besscroft, Edna Reed, Clara Cooper, Virginia Belle, Cora Wolf, Betty Jordan, Eula Wolfe and Betty Lou Vorepohl.

The Breakfast Chatters, a new Division I Cooking club of Benson school, enjoyed a supper party at the home of their leader, Mrs. E. L. Matthews. The table was cheerily decorated with the Valentine motif. Before the meeting was called to order Vice President Joyce Bartley led the group in practicing the club pledge, the creed and several yells and songs.

The club will be studying sewing and preparing cereals during this coming week.

An additional member to our club is Bobby Newland, which makes us a membership of three girls and three boys. Members are Kenneth Shrum, Joyce Bartley, Donald Tyler, Bonnie Tyler, Betty Matthews and Bobby Newland.

At the cooking II club meeting, Bernice Richardson and Carmen Gontencis gave a demonstration on making chocolate blanc mange. They gave two plays Monday, Feb. 19, for all members of the sewing and cooking clubs.

One of the plays was "We Have Trains Today." Characters: Hiram, Joan Carpenter; Marandy, Wilma Martin; the agent, Beverly Lewis; a negro woman, Joyce Buswell; a little girl, Josephine Redfield; George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Alyce S. Grant, Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jones. By Charlotte Scott.

The other play is "In the Best of Families." Characters: Judy, Vivian Watts; Fred, her husband, Bernice Richardson.

At the cooking I club meeting

Margaret Gipe and Faye Smith gave a demonstration on making puffin omelet. They decided that Ruth Cooper and Margaret Gipe would give the demonstration on making puff omelet at the next meeting.

The fifth grade 4-H club held a meeting led by Miss Beryl Smith. They had the subject on the care of the eyes.

The "Tree Helpers," 4-H club of Benson school met Friday for the most interesting meeting they've had. After a few yells and songs were given an interesting story was told by Mrs. Southwick. The story, "Three Covered Wagon," was about a forest fire started to clear the brush from some farms.

Several pieces of income cedar pencil stumps and cones were brought in and studied. Paul Weaver and Bob Matthews were appointed to bring in some branches, cones, seed and bark from a ponderosa pine for next meeting. The members were then entertained by Mr. Cronquist, extension forester for Oregon, who told them various things about trees, including all about Ginkgos, how the cones in the leaves of the tree radiate from a central point and the seeds are naked; how the nut-let can tell from what kind of tree a piece of petrified wood came from by examining the cells under a microscope; why we have many times the number of kinds of trees in the eastern hemisphere has, and many things about our own native trees.

At the Camas Valley school we have organized a cooking club with two divisions, I and II. The members are Polly Roberts, Lorine Perry, Cathleen Standley, Wuaneta Cole, Myrtle Cole, Marie Siegel, Margaret Schartz, Doris Church, Frances Church, Jennita Best, Earla Palmer, Annie Lantz, Virginia Coon, Edie Fahnsch, Bonnie Oldvart and Bonnie Standley. We have had six meetings and are half way through our projects. Our ninth meeting will be a chili dinner, with the school faculty as guests, and will be in the home economics kitchen. The tenth meeting will be a picnic dinner. We all plan to participate in achievement day near the end of the school year. Miss Loda Roberts and Mrs. Gay Moore are our leaders.

The Days Creek school was entertained Wednesday by E. A. Britton, county club agent. Ray Horton, one of the forest services, Fred Smith, of the Douglas county fire patrol, and John Montgomery, project superintendent of the South Umpqua CCC camp, when they visited the school showing some films pertaining to farm life, forestry and Douglas county. These films are sponsored by the forest service, Douglas county fire patrol and 4-H clubs, and are being shown to schools over Douglas county. Each week gave an instructional talk along the lines of forestry, forestry and Douglas county. These films are sponsored by the forest service, Douglas county fire patrol and 4-H clubs, and are being shown to schools over Douglas county.

A short entertainment was given by the club. It began by the children marching in singing "Bring the Good Old 4-H Sign" to the tune of "Marching Through Georgia." The motto was then given by Gene Hogan. The pledge followed. It was given by Jean Ardou St. Onge and Joanne Richards. The creed was given by Donna Bernhardt.

The picture show consisted of five shows: "Trees and Care of Trees," "Shearing of Sheep," "Care of Chickens," "Glacier National Park" and "Marketing Day in Roseburg." We hope to have another show in about a month. We also hope to have a larger crowd.

The marketing club held a very successful meeting Tuesday. All the members were present, so the club adopted twenty rules of parliamentary procedure. It explains the way to run a meeting.

A social committee and a program committee were elected. Marie Vleck was social committee chairman. She chose Farham and Edward Kenny for helpers. Roland Oliver was chairman of the program committee, and he chose Keith Bradford and Everett West for helpers.

Richard Denham, the secretary, was appointed to make one cover for the marketing lessons. She will exhibit it next meeting. The club is going to have a party February 21. Marie Vleck has charge of the refreshments. Cake, cookies, jelly and grape juice will be served. After the meal, a program will take place.

"Why we buy 'Caterpillar' Diesels"

TOM WEBSTER, J. S. Webster & Sons, Rexburg, Idaho.

"1. With 3500 acres of wheat, we had to have dependable machines to get the work done on time.

"2. Each of our three 'Caterpillar' Diesel Tractors pulled a harvester on less than 1 1/2 gals. of fuel an hour.

"3. We cut approximately 4 acres an hour with each tractor and all three thrashed as much as 5000 bushels of wheat in a 10-hour run.

"That's why we buy 'Caterpillar' Diesel—the Tractor that will not let you down."
