

News of 4-H CLUBS

(By Josephine Wright)

The Junior Forestry club of Days Creek held a short business meeting Wednesday. Each member worked on his exhibits. Maxine and Maxine Wright made an excursion of the grounds, picking all varieties of flowers that are not included in their exhibit. The boys worked on their wood exhibits.

The woodworkers also devoted their meeting time to working on exhibits. It was found that all members have some specimens yet to collect before their exhibits will be completed.

The newly organized Rose and Flower Gardening club with Mrs. Fritz Snyder as local leader, held its weekly meeting at the school Thursday. A general discussion as to the requirements of the club was held. At the next meeting each member is to have some item of interest, such as controlling of insects, to report to the other members. We are all to have our scrap book material and work on it.

The tenth and last meeting of the camp cookery class of Edenbower was called to order on Friday. The roll call was answered by each girl naming her favorite song. After the business meeting, Edna Pope, Patsy Lamm, and Marjorie Harris fried and served potatoes. After the record books had been filled out the girls left for their homes.

On the same day the forestry club met. The boys answered the roll call by naming some kind of fish. Each boy gave a report on the trees he had planted. All were reported to be living and progressing quite well. All of the record books were completely filled out.

All during the week the boys in the woodworking club have been very busily engaged in painting and varnishing the articles that they have made.

In the art club this week the girls have been working with clay. They have cut out and dried a paper weight and are now working on small plates. This work has been enjoyed very much.

The boys livestock club under the leadership of Jack Calkins held a business meeting Thursday. Then in the evening the boys went with Jack and Mr. Britton to Garden Valley for some moving pictures, which were enjoyed by all.

The seven boys and girls who attended marketing day last Saturday reported having a very nice time.

The weekly meeting of "The Breakfast Chatters" was at the home of Mrs. J. M. Bartley. Mrs. Royd Bruton and Mrs. J. Roland Parker were guests of the club for the afternoon. They are interested in starting a club in "Rose school" and wanted to see a club meeting in progress. Joyce Bartley led the group in repeating the club pledge and giving a yell. For roll call each club member told of different utensils and ingredients used in cookie making and different kinds of cookies and the proper time to bake them. The chapter on sandwiches was read and discussed and instruction was given for making "good" sandwiches of three different types and a suitable time for serving each. All members brought cookies they had made. These, judged for appearance, texture and flavor, were round excellent and served with punch to guests. Mrs. Royd Bruton, Mrs. J. Roland Parker, Miss Ida Chamberlain, club members and their leader, Mrs. R. L. Matthews, by Mrs. Bartley.

At our meeting at the R. L. Matthews home on April 19 each member answered roll call by naming a utensil and an ingredient used in the making of cookies, also a proper time to serve cookies. In discussing "cookies" we learned what appearance, texture and flavor meant. We then judged cookies baked by Bonnie and Donald Tyer, which rated almost perfect. Mrs. Matthews served us cookies and punch after which she instructed us in playing "Fruit Basket" and "Chinese Tag."

The sewing III and IV club of Glendale held a meeting, at which Leader Mrs. R. E. Place attended. Our leader checked over our work, and plans were discussed for the coming of the entertainment from Roseburg to Glendale April 25th.

The Cooking II club held by Mrs. Pirley Winkelman held a meeting at which they had a free discussion of all matters that might arise in their work.

The cooking II club held a meeting at which we cooked a meal consisting of a meat loaf with potato sauce, peas, corn, mashed potatoes, potato salad, fruit jello, cookies, cocoa, home-made bread and butter, all of which was prepared by members of the club. Mary plans and arrangements for the coming of the 144 club entertainment from Roseburg to Glendale.

date April 25th. The leader present was Mrs. Pirley Winkelman. The "Stitch in Time" club held another meeting at which the members looked at materials which were left here by Miss Helen Cowgill. Work was then posted over and the meeting was adjourned. Leader of this club is Mrs. R. E. Place.

Mrs. R. Gardner and Miss J. Raetz met with the sewing I and II girls. Samples of work and materials left here by Miss Helen Cowgill were shown as the correct way to darn.

The marketing club made the trip to Roseburg via school bus to enjoy a day with the other marketing clubs of the county. We visited the different business houses and industrial plants. At noon we enjoyed a very delicious lunch. Members were treated to a show at either theater by Mr. Radabaugh in the afternoon. Everyone had a very good time.

The younger girls' hobby club opened the meeting with "We're Here for Fun," three yells and club pledge and roll call. We are planning a treasure hunt next Friday. Joyce Fisher was a visitor at the meeting. Naomi Schudelske brought some cupcakes with 4-H on top.

Indian Evangelist Will Speak at Roseburg Church

Ray Zack, widely known Indian evangelist and missionary, is to be a guest Sunday at the First Christian church. It was announced today by Pastor John Barney. He will speak at church services both morning and evening and will appear before the Christian Evangelist society at the meeting of the young people Sunday evening.

Evangelist Zack, a full-blooded Indian and member of the Yakima tribe, has been in missionary and evangelistic work for the past eight years and is now a student at Northwest Christian college in Eugene.

MAKE IT UNANIMOUS

We Canyonville folks are in the habit of electing J. P. Smick by a unanimous vote regardless of party. We appreciate that our low city tax and the sound management of our municipal light and water system are in a large measure due to him. We honor him for his integrity but we love him for his friendliness and good nature. He is now a candidate for county commissioner and the voters of Douglas county could do no better than to make his nomination and election unanimous. He owns property here and in Roseburg. Publ. Adv. by Canyonville Citizens' Committee.

ENLISTS IN ARMY

Dale E. Crenshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Crenshaw, 119 West Douglas street, Roseburg, was recently enlisted in the regular army as a replacement for the 38th infantry, "Sun Francisco Post," located at the Presidio of San Francisco, according to a press release received today from Lieutenant Colonel H. D. Bagnall, Portland recruiting officer.

Elk Creek Grange Holds Meeting at Hayhurst

YONCALLA, April 22.—To arouse interest in grange work, the lecturer's hour of Elk Creek grange is taken to the Hayhurst Community hall the third Friday of each month. April 19th was observed in this manner. A potluck supper was enjoyed at seven o'clock, after which a very interesting program was given. Music was furnished by Jake Wilson, guitar, Art Ryehard, violin, and singing was followed by a talk by Art Ryehard on R.E.A. Mrs. Rhoda Ryehard read a very interesting article on "Cooking Huaband."

Yoncalla Residents Hurt in Accidents

YONCALLA, April 22.—Tom McKirdy is suffering in the Eugene hospital with a badly broken hip resulting from an accident Tuesday. While working in the woods, he stepped over the haul line, which tossed him in the air. It is reported he will be in the hospital at least two months. His head and shoulder were also badly bruised.

Seniors at Glendale Select Class Play

GLENDAL, April 22.—Early to Bed, Early to Rise, a three-act comedy, has been chosen for the senior play and the first rehearsals were held last week. It is planned to present the play early in May.

The cast includes the following students: Audrey McNeel, Jim Morgan, Maxine McMurren, Don Jones, Helen Miller, Dale McMullen, Lorraine Reed, Mabel Lewallen, Bob Moray, Dean Garrett and Virginia Winkelman.
