Business Freedom Need is Stressed

PORTLAND, Ore., May 21.—(AP)—H. W. Prentiss, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, said today "the time has come for a great mobilization of private enterprise in America."
"By private enterprise we do not mean unrestricted activity," he explained. "We want a reasonable amount of umprying by the government, but we do not want the umprire to get into the game and send players to the sidelines."
"The freedom of America, Prentiss told an interview, rests on a tripod of representative democracy, civil and religious liberty and free private enterprise.
"Undermine either of these and our freedom is imperiled," he added. "The moment government begins to plan the economic affairs of a nation, the government must mold public opinion through the newspapers, the radio, motion pictures, the schools and churches.
"Whether the rights of these agencies are endangered, there rises a strong agency in its defense. Free private enterprise is being threatened today, and it is our organization, the National Association of Manufacturers, which has undertaken the defense.
"Creeping collectivism has been appearing in alarming rapidly through many agencies, and we are out to defend the principles set up by the founders of the nation. We have been so busy with material affairs that we have lost sight of those principles."
Prentiss is here to attend the Oregon Industrial leadership conference.
