It is announced today, elsewhere in this newspaper, that the Roseburg Rod & Gun club has decided to skip the annual salmon bake for this year.

For nearly 20 years the club has annually provided free salmon and coffee, inviting all who would to come and partake and enjoy a giant picnic together with trap shooting and other games.

But year after year the project has become more and more difficult to carry on. Salmon used to be plentiful in the river in the spring. Club members would catch and store them until enough had been accumulated for the purpose, then they would bake the fish and invite folks near and far to come and eat lunch with them.

It was a fine thing while it lasted on that basis. Of late years, however, the salmon caught by club members on hook and line have been fewer and fewer. They have had no surplus to store for the salmon bake. Besides, the crowd of guests has grown from year to year to such size that even a good catch of salmon in the spring would not be enough.

So each year the problem of financing the salmon bake has been increasingly difficult. The expenses began to run into the hundreds of dollars. So long as the pavilion at Empqua park was available they could put on a dance, have various paying concessions, and have a place for the crowd to congregate. But with the pavilion gone, the water pipe stolen, and the grounds not in condition the problems this year seemed tougher than ever.

Then, after the date was selected and announced, at least two other events were scheduled in the county that would attract sportsmen and the crowd that generally attends the salmon bake. It was too much. The club members so instantly decided at their regular monthly meeting last evening that it would be impossible to finance the salmon bake this year.

The annual salmon bake sponsored by the Rod and Gun club has long been an asset to this community. It has lately been the one event during the year to which the whole state was invited. There formerly was a county fair in Roseburg—but it has been gone for more than a decade. The strawberry festival was a good event but it too withered and died.

The salmon bake will probably be revived again next year—it should be, but between now and the time for the consideration of plans for next year, some better plan of operating it should be worked out.

LAND WILL BE ABANDONED and the British fleet will retire to the outskirts of the empire (Canada, presumably, by his reference to the New World) and from there the fight will be carried on.

That is an answer to the fears, American and otherwise, that the British fleet might be surrendered to Hitler to aid England.

These are big days, with much history in the making.

HERE is a possible new straw in the wind.

Soviet Russian clerics in London said today (Wednesday) that Russia views her interests in the Black sea and the eastern Mediterranean as PARALLEL with those of the allies.

That suggestion is probably addressed to Mussolini. What it means is hard to say. No one can be very sure what Russia means at any time.

Hub's Indians kept pace with Dunham's and Boucock's for the league leadership after the completion of the first week of play in the City Softball league when they posted an easy 12-5 victory over the National Guard aggregation in the opening game played last night in the nightcap, the Tired Business Men dismembered themselves in one bad inning and lost their first game, 13 to 6, to the strong South of line.

The opening contest saw Hub's Indians pound the offerings of Marr, National Guard pitcher, for 11 solid blows to tally runs in every inning but the second. Campbell, winning hurler, was touched for nine hits, but kept them well scattered throughout the seven innings and was never in trouble.

The final game was tough and it for three innings, with the Tired Business Men leading, 4 to 2, but in the fourth-inning debacle, EHU lost his control to walk four men, which, coupled with three hits, and several errors, accounted for six runs. It was Sutherland's first win of the season.

Box score: Hub's Indians 191 241 2-11 112, National Guard 119 009 1-3 9.1, Batteries: Campbell and Norton, Marr and James.

One-Time Movie Idol Passes in Obscurity

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 8.—(AP)—James Hall, once a $2,500 a week Hollywood movie idol but of recent years an entertainer in small New Jersey night clubs, died in obscurity yesterday at 29.

Hall had a leading role in the film "Hells Angels" and during his career as one of the screen's most popular male actors appeared in the silent version of "Four Sons" and was leading man for Pola Negri in "Hotel Imperial" in 1927.

He had roles in "Stranded in Paris" in 1926, Clara Bow in "The Fleck's He" in 1928, among others.

Suddenly he dropped from the film world and later made an unsuccessful attempt to return to the stage on which he began his acting career as a boy of 15 in the Ziegfeld Follies.

Two weeks ago he entered the Jersey City medical center suffering from cirrhosis of the liver. He resided in a rooming house.

Brooklyn Regains Lead in National

Cincinnati Downed in 11-Frame Battle; St. Louis Cardinals Placed Under New Boss.

By JUDSON BAILEY (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Ray Blades is out and the Brooklyn Dodgers are in.

The responsibility of the major league's first managerial crackup of 1940 should be spread in a lot of directions, but the Dodgers will have to shoulder their share of the blame, because they are doing everything the St. Louis Cardinals were supposed to do this season.

It was more than a coincidence yesterday as the Cards fared better and broke back into first place in the National league with a 12 eleven-inning conquest of the Cincinnati Reds.

This was the sixth straight in a new winning streak for Brooklyn and the two immediately preceding triumphs had come at the expense of the Cardinals. One of them, last Tuesday night, probably caused Sam Breadon to decide to swap managers in St. Louis, because he left the next day for New York to meet Southworth, pilot of the Cards' Rochester farm in the International league.

Brooklyn gave a stirring show at Cincinnati yesterday, winning on a two-run homer by Caudill in the eleventh and stopping Walters' unopposed streak at nine games.

The Cardinals under the temporary hand of Coach Mike Gonzalez, squeaked past the New York Giants 2-2, and advanced into fifth place.

Another swap in positions is yesterday's general upheaval in the

DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

In the story of the final judgment, Jesus said "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of these," The Jews were fond of repeating that because they were Jews, they would be on the right hand of God. Other nations, because they were not Jews, would be on the left hand. Jesus took that story and said that on that great day those on the right and left would be determined not by nationality, but by Christian conduct to others. He takes five points on which they would be judged. 1. The hungry, or in modern form, the unemployed. 2. The naked, modern word is underprivileged. 3. The stranger, modern word is the immigrant. 4. The sick, modern word is the defective. 5. The prisoner, modern word is delinquent. Jesus said the attitude of the individual or community would be considered in respect to the needy. Let us examine ourselves in the above particulars, that we may be found worthy of the positions on the right hand in the kingdom. Pity is akin to love, and every thought of that is welcome to the soul. May we be ever thoughtful to those in need, in sickness, and in sorrow. Amen.

Stanton-Bailey Duo Wins "Crooshul" Tennis Match

The tennis supremacy of the Roseburg News-Review office staff finally passed from the hands of the "Old Masters" combination of Harris Ellsworth and Marshall Penner, who have been "holding" it over the entire force for the past several seasons when they were soundly triumphed, 7-5, 6-4, by an "upstart" doubles team of Charles Stanton and Roger Bailey in the crucial match played yesterday evening.

The vanquished titleholders still insist that the play was only a qualifying trial match to determine the abilities and capacities of the challenging duo and that the finals will be played at a later date after the title-seekers have solidified the rough spots of their game. The new champions, however, claim the title was won fair and square and have sent the deposed target-wielders a pertinent pamphlet, "How to Play Tennis in Five Easy Lessons."
