Every state, county and city official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent.

WITH that flare for the dramatic possessed in such marked degree by the president, two men whose names are widely known—two former republicans—were nominated for key cabinet positions yesterday.

Exceptional, unknown since civil war days, the naming of prominent opposition party members to the cabinet was the more sensational because it was done on the very eve of the republican national convention.

It seems to be a fact that both Knox and Stimson are old-school military men, veterans of two wars and inclined to favor our more active participation in the present one.

Excellent showmanship making banner headline news, the political wisdom and public benefits of the appointments are yet to be evaluated.

It is therefore, scarcely possible to escape the conclusion that these appointments are political and made for that reason rather than because the men named are so outstanding in their worth as to demand waiting party considerations in naming them.

The shocking thing is that we are still fooling around with practical personal and party politics when the whole world is aflame with the fire not far from our own shores.

The duty of the republican convention which convenes Monday becomes even more clear cut as the result of the latest development. Those 1000 delegates must lay aside all of the usual convention pulling and hauling, the politics of the usual nominating convention, and select the ablest and best qualified men as candidates for president and vice-president.

We no longer can tolerate mere politicians in such high places—we need patriots—patriots of ability, integrity and capacity. Can the republican convention meet this necessity? We shall know within a very few days.

French Indo-China as important as in the Dutch East Indies.

Another rumor: Britain is considering the possibilities of buying large quantities of war supplies, including tanks and planes, from Russia.

It sounds serious, but with a

World in Turmoil anything can happen.

CESSEMENT of horse racing in England "until further notice" was announced today (Wednesday).

When the British give up racing, the situation is getting serious.

ON this side of the water, the republican national convention will open in less than a week. Hardly a word about it in the papers.

We're doing some serious thinking, too, you see.

WILLIAM GREEN, president of AFL, tells the republican resolutions (platform) committee his organization favors "every ounce of assistance and supplies to the democracies in Europe short of our entry into the war."

Asked whether AFL would be willing, if necessary, to temporarily give up some of its wage and hour advantage, he replies:

"Labor is prepared to make the same sacrifices the average American citizen may be called upon to make."

IT is an honest answer and a patriotic answer. If American industry and business will announce authoritatively that it is prepared to forego all abnormal profits arising from war preparations, we shall be in a fair way to get somewhere quickly with a minimum of disturbance and delay.

Fire Destroys Waterford Lumber Mill at Coös Bay

MARSHFIELD, June 20.—(AP)—Wind-driven flames from a sawdust burner destroyed the Waterford Lumber company and fired three homes here today.

A 40-mph wind carried sparks over North Front and North First streets, damaging the homes of John McClelland, Mrs. Hayes Howard and Archie Philip.

Firemen from North Bend and Coquille aided in suppressing the blazes and protecting threatened warehouses of the Ferguson Transfer company and Beaumont Myrtlewood factory.

The mill, leased to James Lyons and Howard Irwin, owners of Mill B, North Bend, was valued at nearly $40,000, insurance underwriters said.

An insurance conference was called to consider underwriters' recommendations for settlements.

Senator Holman Favors Deportation of Bridges

GRANTS PASS, June 20.—(AP)—Senator Rufus Holman, Oregon republican, favors the deportation of Harry Bridges, Australian leader of west coast labor.

Niel R. Allen, Oregon department commander of the American Legion, received a telegram from Holman which declared:

"Your wire of June 18 ably expresses my oft-repeated views concerning undesirable aliens in our midst. Freeding our country of these dangerous elements has been one of my major projects since coming to the senate. You may be assured that I shall give full expression to my convictions in connection with Bridges' bill and related legislation."

Allen in the name of the Oregon Legion had urged senate passage of the House-approved bill.

Enlistments in CCC Made Easier

Easing of the enlistment requirements for the civilian conservation corps was announced today in bulletins received by the Douglas County Public Welfare commission, according to John L. Diefenderfer, administrator. Heretofore, enlistment in the CCC has been confined to young men in the lower income brackets. The new order, however, permits enlistment by unemployed young men without regard to income, providing they meet other requirements.

Enlistments in the past, Mr. Diefenderfer stated, have been only from families on public assistance rolls or in the low income bracket. Young men enrolling in the CCC have been required to make allotments of pay to dependants.

Henceforth, however, any young man between the age of 17 to 23 years, may enlist, providing he is an American citizen of good character and able to pass physical and mental tests. It is required also that he must be unmarried and unemployed. The young men from families not on the public assistance rolls or in the low income group will not be required to make an allotment of their pay, but will deposit the allotment subject to withdrawal in a lump sum at the completion of the period of service.

The local office of the county commission now is accepting applications for enlistment for the July period. Groups will be sent to camp on the dates of July 5, 12 and 18, with a fourth group to be sent out if an additional quota is assigned to the county. At the present time the county has a more liberal quota for enlistments than ever before, Mr. Diefenderfer stated. It is expected that the men enlisted through the Roseburg office will be sent to South Umpqua Falls camp near Tillam.

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

Some twenty years ago, George Gipp was winning many football games for Notre Dame; but in 1920 he lost a most heroic fight against disease. On his deathbed he said to Coach Rockne: 'Some day, Rock, sometime, when the going is not easy, when odds are against us, ask a Notre Dame team to win a game for me. Eight years later Rockne's team faced almost certain defeat in a game against the Army. Just before the game, Rockne got his team together in a huddle and told them Gipp's request. Then he added: "Men, this is the game. Go out and win for Gipp and to the amazement of many the Notre Dame boys won. Every time we bow in worship we should be inspired by the memory of our Master who gave His life in the warfare against sin. He depends upon us to win with Him. But ours is more than a memory, for the Christian confidence lies in the promise of Christ. So, I am with you always, even to the end of the world. I cannot do it alone, the waves run fast and high, and the tugs close chill around; the light goes out in the sky. But I know that we two shall win in the end, Jesus and I. Let us thank God for such fellowship in the game of life. Amen."

Output of Pencil Slat Factory Gains

DAYS CREEK, June 21.—The output of the Pencil Cedar Supply company's plant at Days Creek has been greatly increased by the recent addition of a second shift.

Due to road and weather conditions it has been impossible to make such an addition earlier in the year because of the difficulty of delivering the necessary cedar bolts to the mill.

There are at present about sixteen men employed at the plant which is owned and managed by Jack Silva of Stockton, California.

Before re-opening operations this spring, following several months day off due to weather conditions, numerous improvements were made at the mill. Among them were the building of a new incinerator; the installation of a stacker, used in ricking the finished stock; and the placing of a new type of saw belt in the latter being a machine perfected by Mr. Silva.

There are a number of camps in nearby stands of cedar where bolts are being made for delivery by truck to the mill. Roads have been "bulldozed" to reach these as some of them are a number of miles from graveled highways. Among them are camps on Fate, May, Woods and Stinger creeks while a portable mill operated by Ray Paulson has been erected at the mouth of Deadman creek above Tillam.

At the latter place bolts are sawed ready for shipment. C. C. Hill supervises the operations of the bolt cutters.

There are also cedar bolts being furnished locally for the R. H. Shanks & Co. cedar mill at Myrtle Creek. Most of these are being cut on upper Days creek above the Dan Perdue place and on lower Fate creek.
