Editorial on News (Continued from page 1.)... Political-minded delegates knew they dared not go home and face the people if they disregarded what was coming to them so plainly.

WILLKIE, speaking after the vote that made him the republican nominee, said simply: "I'm very appreciative. I'm very humble."

He spoke undoubtedly from the heart. When a man is given a spontaneous outpouring of confidence and good will from millions of people, as Willkie was, it must leave him humble-humble and fiercely determined to GIVE EVERYTHING THAT IS IN HIM to deserve the confidence so dramatically displayed.

AS these words are written, the convention is proceeding toward the choice of a vice-president. Its desire appears to be to name McNary of Oregon.

McNary is said to have refused to accept. On the other hand, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan has just said to a questioner: "He has accepted already." The result will be known, probably, before these words are read.

This writer hopes McNary accepts. He will be an ideal aid and counselor for Willkie, who will need special help and sound advice.

WILLKIE is a business man—an honest, intensely human and UNDERSTANDING business man, but the fact remains that the methods of business and the methods of government are different. If government is to succeed fully, it must take into consideration sound, time-tried political rules.

No one in America knows these rules better than McNary.

THE mark which overhangs Europe today is thick and impenetrable. It is impossible to know just what is going on. Events move with such lightning rapidity that it is hard to know where we've been, let alone where we are now.

The French island possessions in the western hemisphere are a good example. Technically, France still exists. There is some kind of a French government in Bordeaux which has signed an armistice ending France's part in the war.

Which now controls the French islands in America? Does either control them in any practical way? Does either government, one under German domination, the other under the wing of the British, really represent the France that owned Martinique, Guadalupe, French Guiana, St. Pierre and Miquelon?

These are questions that are undoubtedly costing the U. S. state department, as well as the corresponding offices in 29 other American governments, a lot of lost sleep. This is a situation which does not fit into any of our prescribed policies.

Of course it cannot really be considered in any final way until peace is made between France and Germany on what passes in today's world for a permanent basis.

What has been signed is merely a military armistice. What kind of a French government will emerge from that peace, whether it will have any of the attributes of genuine independence, we do not know. Japan, it should be noted, did not wait to find out, but has begun to deal with French Indo-China without regard to its relations to any French government.

But if it should be a self French government, set up by the Germans as the Russians have set up theirs in the Baltic states, and as Japan has set up hers in China, it would be hard for the United States to think of the French islands in America as still belonging to the same France.

Such a change might constitute a transfer from one European power to another in an real sense as if the islands had passed to Germany.

This need not be decided now, for the permanent relationship as set up by a definite peace treaty have not yet been set forth but they will require the closest attention, and every effort to catch glimpses of the true situation through the murky which now hounds European events.

EIGHT states now prohibit the private use of fireworks on the glorious Fourth, the council of state governments reports.

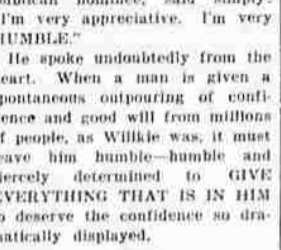

Their action contrasts with the patchwork of local regulation which covers most states, and with the 29 states which have regulation in some degree. Only six have no state-wide fireworks regulations at all. All permit public displays under properly regulated conditions.

The "Same Fourth" movement, with its campaign against blind eyes, shattered fingers, and tetanus infections, is now more than 20 years old. And 1500 injured children, victims of last year's celebration in New York state alone, testify that there is further room for improvement in our

Cincinnati Wins 2 To Increase Lead

Brooklyn, Runner-Up, Divides Doubleheader With Boston; Yankees Win 3rd Straight.

By BILL WHITE (Associated Press Sports Writer) It will be better all around, for the Brooklyn Dodgers when Fenwick Fitzgerald wins his 299th major league victory.

He chalked up No. 199 yesterday, and the Dodgers were so tired from helping him win that one that they drop it the second game to the Boston Bees and lost valuable ground in their wild attempt to catch up to the league leader, Cleveland Indians.

Freddie Filizetti pitched three innings, scattering eight Boston hits, winning by 2-2. By the second game the Dodgers were demoralized, and Salvo's steady rifle batter beat them, 7-2.

The Reds climbed a game and a half ahead of the Browns when Walters pitched and Frey batted them to a 7-4 win over the Cubs in the first game and lost again through with a ninth inning single to win the nightcap, 7-6.

Phil's Giants Split. Johnny Rizzo, "The man nobody wanted," earned a spot for himself in the heart of the Philadelphia fans when he honored the Phils to a 7-4 victory over the Giants in the first game of their twin bill.

A six run uprising in the second game gave the one to the Giants by 7-2, after they broke the spell that Rookie Clyde Small had woven around them for seven innings.

Cooper bested Klingler in a mound duel, giving the game of the St. Louis Pittsburgh duo to the Cardinals by 1-0, but then Butcher batted a four-batter and scored the winning run as the Pirates took the nightcap, 2-0.

Cleveland, Chicago Split. The Cleveland Indians were busy rightening their hold on first place in the American league when they smothered the Chicago White Sox by 7-5 in the first game of their twin bill, but they reckoned without Edgar Smith, who brought them up sharply with a five-hit job in the second game, and the Sox won, 2-1.

The closely pitching Detroit Tigers didn't help their lead chances much when they dropped the first game to St. Louis 7-6, although they evened the day's count with a 6-1 victory in a seven-inning afterpiece, largely due to Gerhardt's five-hit hurling.

Boston pitched the Yankees to their third straight victory over the Philadelphia's 4-2 in the first game, but Foxman loomed to Babich in the second game, and the A's made off with a 3-2 victory. Babich's 10th shutout was his 10th.

The Boston Red Sox made good on two chances against the Washington Senators, claiming the first one by 4-2, thanks to homers by Crouth and Dwyer, and the second one by 5-1 in spite of opponent Masterson's seven-hit game.

The opponent of the 15-year-old Max Baer, every a school of 10-round distance in the local baseball park is Clarence (Crosby) Luttrell, with whom the former heavyweight king has traded blows in his role of a wrestling referee in three occasions.

"I feel great," said Dempsey, and that's what I can get this over with a hurry. I've got all my old time punch, but, of course, my legs aren't what they used to be.

Dempsey, Wrestler Set for Grudge Go

ATLANTA, July 1.—(AP)—Eight years out of the voluntarily pugilistic business in which he became a world title, William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey returns to the ring here tonight to settle a grudge with a rough and tumble wrestler from Texas.

Legion Juniors of Eugene Win Twice

Roseburg Opponents Lose Two Practice Games Sunday by Scores of 7-2 and 4-3.

By MARSHALL R. HUNT The Eugene Legion Juniors won both games of a doubleheader with the Roseburg Juniors yesterday on Finlay field, 7 to 2 and 4 to 3. Both were practice games, having no bearing on district playoffs.

The Eugene Juniors cracked out 12 hits off Cox, Roseburg hurler, to win easily in the first seven-inning game. Harbert and Allen, Eugene pitchers, allowed only five hits.

Three runs were scored by Eugene in the second inning on three singles and a triple. Harbert hit safely and reached first. Brauer followed with a drive to right field scoring Harbert and reaching third. Another single by Allen brought in Brauer. Fassett brought in last run in the inning with a Texas leaguer to left.

Roseburg's only two tallies were registered in the third of three hits and an error. DeBernardi started the hitting with a single to rightfield. Remont's overthrow on first base enabled Cox to reach third. Davidson's short roller to Harbert so misled him up that all hands were safe. Two successive singles by Rust and Pleuard brought in Roseburg's two runs.

In the fifth and sixth, Cox weakened again and four hits—one a two-base hit and another good for three—brought in four more runs. "Bean" Ball Kayotes Harbert.

The game was marred in the fifth inning when Harbert was hit in the head and knocked unconscious while batting.

An error by Rust in the final inning, which let in two Eugene runs, allowed the visitors to overtake Roseburg's run lead and win the last contest.

The game was a seesaw battle from start to finish. Roseburg scored two runs in the first two innings on five hits and two walks.

Eugene came back to tie the score in the third. Remont walked. Brauer sacrificed and Remont took second. Blake brought in Eugene's first run with a single to left field. Carter tied the score with a single which brought in Brauer.

Roseburg forced into the lead again in the fourth. Dyer reached first on an overthrow by Brauer. Stephens sacrificed Dyer to second. Kirk, Eugene hurler, in an effort to catch Dyer at third overthrow the bag and Dyer reached home.

An error gave Eugene an unexpected victory in the seventh. With men on first and second by virtue of a double and a walk with one out, Rust allowed a hot roller by Carter to get through him into left field and the two decisive runs scored on the play.

Three men reached base safely for Roseburg in an attempt to tie the score in their half of the last inning but a double play on DeBernardi's pop fly in front of home halted the rally.

Gashed Chin Fails To Deter Galento

By GAYLE TALBOT JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 1. (AP)—Apparently a beer glass, sailing through the air with the greatest of ease, was too small a detail to change Tony Galento's mind today about his ability to belt out Mike Baer in the local ball park tomorrow night.

Tony and Madcap Maxie wound up their training yesterday, such as it was, but the round gentleman from France was around to day sporting a bandage on his chin, covering a cut brought about by the aforementioned beer glass.

Oaks Win Twice As Seattle Splits

Coast League Race Tightens in Sunday Games; Portland Divides Pair With Sacs.

By the Associated Press The Oakland Aegers, who refuse to concede that Seattle has the second coast league pennant all buttoned up, put on a doubleheader hit fest yesterday at Hollywood's expense. The scores were 19 to 2 and 9 to 4.

Oakland, clinging grimly to second place, cut loose a 17-hit bombardment in the first game. Christoff sweetened his home run total with an unresisted three-run homer in the ninth.

In the short second game Darrow delivered in the punches to weak vengeance on the Stars, who once released him. His teammates scored nine runs in the first three innings and then coasted in.

The hex that Willkie, Seattle hurler, holds over the San Diego Padres worked yesterday, as it did Wednesday. He pitched two-hit, shutout ball for his sixth straight win, 5 to 0, in the second game yesterday. The Padres took the first, 10 to 3, sending Barrett to the showers in the second inning and going on to hammer three more Rather hurlers for a grand total of 14 hits.

Beavers, Sacs Split. The whipping boys of the Coast league, the Beavers of Portland, made a brave finish in their series with Sacramento, taking the short second game 7 to 3 after dropping the first 12 to 6.

The Sacs won the series, 5 games to 2—a great satisfaction, after losing 7 out of 8 to Seattle the week previous.

Inspiration for Portland's finale win was the star's visit to the home of Forest Gordon Orrell, Beaver hurler, a few hours straight. The star, left Forest Gordon Orrell Junior, and Father Orrell celebrated by yielding only six hits.

His Beaver teammates made him a present of a seven-run lead in the first inning and didn't bother to score again. Gill, Portland pitcher, homed with two on in the first game and repeated in the late performance.

Seals, Angelinos Split. A crowd of 11,000 at Seals' stadium—most of whom came out to see young Froilan Fernandez, the shortstop recently acquired from Yankins—San Francisco split with Los Angeles. The Seals won the first, 4 to 2, and dropped the second 3 to 0. The Seals won their first series in six weeks, 4 games to 2.

Young Fernandez observed the close of his first full week in coast league company by miffing three chances in the first game.

This week Portland plays at Six Hills, pitting the league leaders against the cellar occupants; San Francisco at Oakland; Los Angeles at Hollywood; and Sacramento at San Diego.
