CORVALLIS, July 11.—(AP)—The state encampment of Veterans of Foreign Wars voted yesterday for immediate compulsory military training for the youth of the United States.

Closing its annual meeting, the encampment also favored expansion of the veterans' aid measure, perfection of a plan for swift mobilization of armed forces and extended training for organized reserves, reserve officers' training corps and civilian military training corps.

Ira D. Canfield, Medford, senior vice-commander, was elected department commander.

Other officers included Louis Starr, Portland, senior vice-commander; William Buer, Bend, junior vice-commander; Walter Ake, Portland, judge advocate; Dr. J. W. Ingram, The Dalles, surgeon; and Harry Windus, Portland, chaplain. W. E. McGuffin, Portland, was re-elected quarter-master.

District commanders included: District 4, Frank V. Wray, Silverton; district 6, Eugene W. Horton, Marshfield; district 8, E. Wilcox, Ashland.

Bend was selected for the 1941 encampment.

The convention adopted, without debate, a comprehensive resolution on Americanism setting forth a 20-point program for the department for the coming year.

New Serial on KRNR Deals With 5th Column

DAILY DEVOTIONS DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

Wisdom is defined as the power of true and just discernment, when applied to any act of the intellect or will that leaves God out of consideration. The term wisdom is a misnomer. The reality of moral and spiritual values, is absolutely basic to a normal expression of individual and social conduct, according to both Scriptural and scientific authorities. There is no controversy between true science and true religion, but between pseudo-scientist and half-baked theologians who create confusion and drive men mad. Sinai and Calvary are not different mountains. They are twin peaks of the same range. An unflinching faith in eternal verities: God's unchanging character, goodness and grace, inclusive love, matchless mercy, symbolized by the cross of Christ, insure stability in the midst of life's uncertainties. God of Grace and God of Glory on Thy people pour Thy power. Grant us wisdom, grant us courage for the facing of this hour. "If any man lack wisdom, let him ask of God who giveth to all men liberally" an understanding heart will enable us to get the other person's point of view; and this will make all the difference in the world in our dealing with him. Amen.

coast-to-coast Mutual network.

The dramas are heard each week at 1 p. m. PST over KRNR and the Don Lee net for ten weeks, and are written by Blair Walliser, who also produces the programs.

Elissa Landi, famous stage and screen actress and novelist, plays the part of Lorna Carroll, ace girl reporter of the Chicago Tribune, and Phillips Holmes of stage and movies takes the role of Riley Davis, famed Mutual network commentator. Dramas tell of the work of the dramatic pair in fighting efforts of the fifth column agents to destroy the government. Dramas are based on factual material regarding activities of subversive agencies at work in the Americas. "Fifth Row Center," which returns in the fall.

Suggests Woman For Vice President

By RUTH COWAN
CHICAGO, July 11.—(AP)—Why not a woman for vice-president?

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Conkey, Illinois national committeewoman, asked the question today as delegates began arriving for the democratic national convention.

Just to start the ball rolling, Mrs. Conkey, who is official convention hostess, Cook county (Chicago) commissioner and a political worker of 20 years' experience, said:

"I would like to see Mrs. Mary T. Norton, representative from New Jersey, vice-president. Of course, there is Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt—but we should save her for the presidency later. I think there should be a woman vice-president first before there is an attempt to elect a woman president. And I don't see any reason why a woman right now could not try for the vice-presidency."

In Mrs. Conkey's opinion women shouldn't sit back and wait for that "right time" for a woman to come out for vice-president. Now, when the state is anybody's guess, is as good a time as any, she said.

Even if a woman failed to get the nomination at this convention, she continued, "the first step would have been taken—and then it would be a case of try and try again until successful."

Mrs. Norton, whose hat Mrs. Conkey would like to see tossed into the ring, has had an active political career for two decades and is chairman of the platform advisory committee of 18 women. She was the first democratic woman elected to congress and she has served since 1924. She now is chairman of the house labor committee and chairman of the New Jersey democratic state committee.
