BETTIE RAE YOUNG AND ABNER RICE, JR., MARRY HERE ON JULY 13th

Miss Bettie Rae Young, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Young, of Riverside, Calif., and Abner Rice, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Rice, of Dillard, were quietly married at an impressive ceremony at eight-thirty o'clock Saturday evening, July 13th, at the home of Mrs. Lillie Goodman at 819 Winchester street in Roseburg. Judge R. W. Marsters performed the ceremony in the presence of the bridegrooms' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abner Rice, his aunt, Mrs. Sadie Sheridan, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ollivant, Isaac Cline and Mrs. Lillie Goodman.

Beautiful bouquets of gladioli in pastel colors and the softly lighted rooms were attractively arranged for the wedding setting.

The bride was lovely in a pearl-white shark skin ensemble and a corsage of gardenias and bouvardia at her throat. For traveling the bride chose a taillieu of blue with matching accessories.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Young, formerly of Olalla and now of Riverside, Calif. She was graduated from Looking-glass high school in 1940 and is a popular member of the younger set. The bridegroom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Rice, of Dillard. He was graduated from Roseburg high school and is now employed at the Stephens street Safeway store.

Following a honeymoon to be spent at coast points and in the northwest, they will return to make their home in Oralla.

GARDEN VALLEY WOMEN'S CLUB HEARS INTERESTING TALK AT MEETING

The members of the Garden Valley Women's club were very pleasantly entertained at the club house Thursday afternoon with Mrs. R. A. Calhoun as hostess. Joanne and Donald Ware entertained the group by singing songs and a delightful reading was given by Emma Leah Winniford.

A most interesting and informative talk by Miss Kate Anderson, of Los Angeles, who is here visiting Mrs. Hugh Ritchie, Jr., was enjoyed. Miss Anderson told in a very delightful and informal way the incidents of her journey to Sweden last year. She recounted her trip through the Panama canal and across the Atlantic to London, England; Oslo, Norway, and Dothenberg and Stockholm, Sweden, giving accounts of family life and customs in the rural and city districts of those countries. Miss Anderson's talk was very greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the members and guests present.

Plans were made for the annual club picnic, which will be held Sunday, July 28, at Hutton's grove and an invitation has been extended to all residents of the Garden valley community to join with the club and bring their basket lunches to the grove for that occasion. Coffee will be served by the club.

At the tea hour Mrs. Calhoun, assisted by Mrs. Albert Brown and Miss Patricia Douglas, served lovely refreshments to: Miss Kate Anderson, of Los Angeles, Mrs. Nora E. Ware, Mrs. Darley Ware and daughter, Joanne, and son, Donald, Mrs. Ruby Tucker, Miss Jean Ritchie, Mrs. George Niday, Mrs. G. C. Bailey, Mrs. E. L. Bashford, Mrs. John Daniels, Mrs. Harvey Ewens, Mrs. H. E. Graham, Mrs. R. S. Hutton, Mrs. Hugh Ritchie, Jr., Mrs. A. N. Schneider, Mrs. Clem Schneider, Mrs. John Sinclair, Mrs. Peter Sinclair, Mrs. C. L. Spray, Mrs. William Vaughn, Mrs. T. M. Winniford and daughter, Emma Leah, and Mrs. Fred Wood.

The club was happy to announce at the meeting that Mrs. J. V. Long has been welcomed into the organization as a new member.

The next regular club meeting will be held at the clubhouse the afternoon of August 1 with Mrs. Clem Schneider acting as hostess.

DAYTIME MAKEUP FADES WHEN THAT EVENING SUN GOES DOWN

It's "Sicklied O'er With the Pale Cast" Given by Artificial Lighting at Night

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

She doesn't need soft, artificial light to add to her allure. Flawless skin, expertly made up; a charming hat in a new shade of pink to match lips and nails; a good-looking day-length dinner dress—her appearance will stand close scrutiny in summer's daylighted evenings before the lights are turned on.

We dine by daylight or, at best, twilight, these summer days. No girl can depend on the beams from softly glowing candles or subtly shaded lamps to make her skin and hair look prettier than they really are.

All of which presents something of a makeup problem. Obviously, you can't drift out in broad daylight in as much mascara, rouge and lipstick as you wore for formal parties when the days were short and the nights long.

But neither can you expect the light street makeup which is charming at five to keep you from looking washed out after nine when the lights are turned on.

CARRY A MAKEUP KIT FOR EVENINGS

So—unless you want the young man of the moment to think you are a fragile little flower who gets paler and paler as the evening goes on, better carry a small makeup kit in your evening bag.

Apply street makeup carefully, using a foundation film that will give your skin a slightly dewy look, a sparse amount of rouge, perfectly blended, usual daytime amounts of powder and lipstick. Into your bag, in addition to lipstick and powder, carry rouge which matches exactly the shade you have on your cheeks and some mascara.

When the lights are turned on, disappear for a few moments to put mascara on your lashes and a little extra color on your cheeks and lips.

To make life simpler, get one of the new purse-size makeup kits take out a couple of superfluous gadgets and substitute rouge or whatever else you know you'll need.

Resolve not to try to make your wave do just one more day. Now and then during the winter you may have been able to hide the fact that your hair wasn't in top-notch condition. But the late afternoon sun which streams across the sidewalk cafe or the World's fair restaurant will highlight every coiffure defect.

DON'T FORGET YOUR HANDS

If you haven't already done so, start a series of salon or home reconditioning treatments for scalp and hair. Then have a good permanent which is reasonable assurance that a swim won't remove every trace of waves and curls and leave your hair limp and straggling for a post-swim date.

Ready for a daylight dinner date, in a smoky brown-beige silk chiffon jacket dress with star-like monotone print. The softly flared skirt is right for a bit of informal dancing.

While you're about it, resolve to keep your hands looking better than they did last summer. Change nail polish as often as necessary between manicures. Use hand lotion many times a day and a cuticle cream or lotion several nights a week.

COUNTRY CLUB LADIES ENJOY GOLFING, BRIDGE AND LUNCHEON THURSDAY

The ladies of the Roseburg Country club enjoyed a blind bogey golf tournament Thursday morning at the club course with Mrs. John E. Marks winning the first flight; Mrs. Frank Coen, the second flight, and Mrs. W. J. Olmscheid, third flight.

Luncheon was served at noon to Mrs. R. D. Bridges and daughter, Joyce, Mrs. J. F. Dillard and daughters, Charlotte and Jeanne, and Mrs. Dillard's niece, Miss Sally Zoe Bates, of Salem, Mrs. E. A. Pearson, Miss Helen Casey, Mrs. Kenneth Quine, Mrs. H. C. Stearns, Mrs. Loyal Stearns, Mrs. W. E. Ott, Mrs. Kenneth W. Kinney, Miss Jane Upffman, Mrs. Frank Coen, Mrs. John E. Marks, Mrs. Gene Greene, Mrs. Carl E. Wimberly, Mrs. H. T. Hansen, Mrs. W. J. Olmscheid and Mrs. J. M. Judd.

Plans were made for entertaining the Cottage Grove ladies in the near future and an invitation was sent to Cottage Grove for the golf ladies to spend a day at the Roseburg clubhouse.

Contract bridge was enjoyed during the afternoon with Mrs. Bridges winning the high score and Mrs. Ott the second high score.

The ladies will meet at 8:30 next Thursday morning at the club course for golfing to be followed by a 12:30 potluck luncheon and contract bridge tournament play at 1:30 o'clock.
