Grass Fires Reported In Yoncalla District

YONCALLA, July 22.—The little rain that Yoncalla valley had Friday and Saturday helped some in the danger of fires. Two fires were reported during the early part of last week. One started on the Garner ranch about a mile east of town, but was put under control when the volunteer crew of Yoncalla with the help of the city's individual water tanks put out the blaze. The fire warden also came and took charge in checking the fire. Berry Gibson discovered the fire and called to town for help. About 50 acres of grass was burned. The other fire started from a cigarette on the Palmer ranch just south of town, burned nearly to the bridge and heroes in the field, before the volunteer fire department got it under control. The ranch lies along the highway, and no doubt a cigarette stub from a car, started the blaze.

Navy Reserve Open To Five Thousand

Five thousand unmarried young men between 19 and 26 years with two years of college will have a chance this summer to cruise 30 days on a navy warship, expense free, and qualify for commissions as reserve ensigns.

Applications are being taken at naval district and naval reserve headquarters and at the navy recruiting station, 204 U. S. Courthouse, Portland, as part of the navy expansion program, the government will pay travel expenses and stand the cost of food, lodging, uniforms and other equipment.

Candidates who successfully complete the 30-day cruise are eligible for appointment as naval reserve midshipmen and enrollment in a two-year course on shore to qualify them for appointment as ensigns in the volunteer reserve.

The first cruise is now in progress on the USS Wyoming, and additional cruises will begin periodically until January 15, 1941. Gunmanship, navigation, engineering, communications, and other technical skills will be taught.

During the three months' shore course, candidates will receive the same pay and allowances as midshipmen in order not to interfere with college courses or other civilian activities.
