

Catholics Lead in U. S. Church Census

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(AP)—The census bureau lists 256 religious denominations in the United States, with 55,807,366 members.

This count—nearly half the population—was based on 1936 statistics, which have just been completed.

The membership total was about a million larger than a similar count in 1926, which showed 54,476,346. No major shifts were shown among major religious branches, however.

Economies forced on churches by the depression, while a showing in membership figures, were demonstrated by a $518,953,571 calculation of total church expenditures in 1936. In 1926, the total was $217,214,528.

The largest single denomination was Roman Catholic with 19,914,937 members.

Other large denominations included: Jewish 4,911,184; negro Baptists, 3,782,464; Methodist Episcopal church, 3,509,753; Southern Baptist convention, 2,806,155; Methodist Episcopal church, South, 2,661,683; Presbyterian church in the United States of America, 1,797,927; Protestant Episcopal church, 1,735,335; Northern Baptist convention, 1,329,011; and Congregational and Christian churches, 976,388.

Smallest denomination listed was the "Friends (Primitive)" with one church and 11 members.

German Air Blitzkrieg Deals Blows to Britain

60 and unofficial reports said 69 German planes were destroyed.

Troop Ships Destroyed. Simultaneously with the reports of fresh nazi attacks this morning came word of a "mystery" explosion in northern Ireland, heard over a large area at a time when planes were reported in the vicinity.

The British admiralty meanwhile acknowledged loss of the 7,200-ton Egyptian troop-carrying liner Mohamed Ali El-Kebir, torpedoed and sunk in the Atlantic with the loss of 120 soldiers and sailors of the 860 aboard. The attack occurred at night but the liner remained afloat long enough for another ship to take aboard 740 survivors, who were landed at a Scottish port.

Excess Profits Tax Plan Scored

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Senator Clark (D., Mo.) charged at a tax hearing today that a pending excess profits levy was "sugar coating" a plan to permit munitions plants to deduct defense expansion costs from their taxable earnings.

The expansion amortization plan and a tax of 25 to 40 per cent on excess profits have been combined into a simple piece of legislation on which senate and house committees started holding hearings yesterday.

Clark made his comment after John L. Sullivan, assistant treasury secretary, had told the joint committee that the tax proposed would yield a net increase of $190,000,000 in taxes the government collects on 1940 corporation income.

The treasury, Sullivan explained, figured the direct yield would be $225,000,000 of which $35,000,000 would be offset by a loss in individual income taxes due to smaller dividends to stockholders. For the years after 1940, Sullivan said, the treasury estimated the excess profits tax net yield would be $100,000,000 to $180,000,000.

"When the president proposed spending four or five billion dollars every time he gets back from a week-end," Clark said to Sullivan, "a $150,000,000 is a drop in the bucket, isn't it?"

Sullivan said it was "small item" in the total budget picture.

Clark then declared that the tax was "sugar-coating" to get the public to swallow the amortization plan for munitions plants.

House tax leaders had decided to try to pass the new excess profits tax bill within a week in order to knock out the bottlenecks which manufacturers say have been impeding defense production.

Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) of the ways and means committee said major opposition to the program had failed to develop.

Book Ads Cause Political Dispute

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Advertising in political campaign books has caused an exchange between the democratic and republican national chairmen.

Declaring that he knew of no Hatch act restrictions against it "at the time the book was started," Edward J. Flynn, new head of the democratic national committee, announced yesterday that the party planned to sell a campaign book carrying "more advertisements than usual."

Flynn read to reporters a clipping from the Chicago Times asserting that a committee in Elwood, Ind., sold advertising at $1,000 a page for a booklet in connection with the program notifying Wendell L. Willkie of his republican presidential nomination.

Joseph W. Martin, republican chairman, replied in a statement that "Ed Flynn's statement that 'the Elwood notification committee for Willkie for president is putting out a book at $1,000 a page' is absolutely untrue and without any basis in fact."

A local group in Elwood, Martin said, thought up the idea and "without any authority whatever, used my name as 'honorary chairman' on the letterheads making such solicitations." The republican national committee, he said, stopped the "unauthorized undertakings."

Martin contended that the Hatch act prohibits solicitation of corporations for advertising in campaign books.

Jews Hit By New Rumanian Laws

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 10.—(AP)—The government forced by axis desires to negotiate forthcoming territorial cessions to Bulgaria and Hungary, vented its wrath today on the Jews.

In placing new anti-Jewish laws into full effect, the government apparently was motivated by the fact that the most nationalistic Rumanian elements, which are opposing any territorial cession, also are the most anti-Semitic.

Police arrested scores of persons yesterday on charges of spreading false news and hustled them off to concentration camps. All the prisoners were identified with the liberal and democratic factions, and most of them were Jews.

Since the new anti-Jewish laws cut off most of Rumania's 755,000 Jews from public office, many professions and other fields, their jobs will be available to non-Jews, the newspapers pointed out.

Taking their cue from Premier Gigurtu's assertion that obedience to German-Italian wishes, while necessitating "painful sacrifices," "at least" would rid Rumania of "Jewish influence." The newspapers devoted many columns to anti-Jewish measures and resultant "benefits" to non-Jews.

After rocketing the 200-mile stretch of coast, the storm apparently veered inland.

Parts of Charleston were strewn with debris and tin roofs. Large trees were uprooted. Hundreds of cars stalled on streets.

Most of the residents at vacation resorts along the Carolina coast fled after being warned of the hurricane's approach.

An unconfirmed report from Beaufort county, S. C., said there were ten unidentified dead there.

would lead to dictatorship, contended that enactment of the compulsory service bill would mean the establishment of an army "so large that it will stagger the imagination of all us."

Burke replied warmly this was "one of the most serious misconceptions" of opponents of the bill. He added that present plans were to call only 400,000 for training this fall and a like number next spring, out of the 12,000,000 men from 21 through 30 who would be required to register.

After a year's service, these men would be liable to only 30 days renewal training each year, he said.

"These men would not be made professional soldiers by the fact that they were taken for a year's training," Burke asserted.

"If that doesn't mean a large standing army, I don't know what you would call it," Norris retorted.

"It means that you are going to train all of the able-bodied men in the United States and you'll be doing it 50 years from now."

That's what Germany did and you see the result of it now."

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) said he was unwilling to vote to "tear up the 150-year tradition" of voluntary recruiting unless it was demonstrated that "a reasonably established, positive national emergency can be served and saved in no other way."

At the other end of the capitol the house delayed action on the senate bill authorizing the president to call into active service the national guard and army reserves in order to study debt-moratorium provisions submitted by the war department.

These amendments were offered in the form of separate legislation and some members said there was a possibility they might be dove-tailed into the guard bill.

The department's proposal said at the outset it was intended to provide for suspension of "civil liabilities" in order to enable those who enter military service to devote their entire energy to the defense needs of the nation."
