Every state, county and city official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent.

THE Grants Pass Courier is pretty well wrought up because it was listed in the Oregonian poll of newspapers as the only one that declined to be included in the list of Oregon dailies showing their presidential preference.

The Courier hasn't so much to kick about. The News-Review and at least one other newspaper, the Albany Democrat-Herald, were not mentioned at all.

Though not willing to condemn the Oregonian's effort to get a good news story by wiring and writing all Oregon newspapers asking where they stand, we feel no sense of loss at not having been included.

The polls made by Dr. Gallup are lately considered reliable and accurately conducted. They probably give an accurate picture of the trends as can be obtained.

For this writer, his speech of acceptance, with its plain and convincing note of sincerity, is as heartening and reassuring as the sight of camp to a hunter who is hopeful that camp lies in the direction he is following but can't be absolutely sure until he sees the light of the fire.
