POET'S CORNER

THE NATIONAL GUARD

Now that we're in training,
Away from jobs and home;
Don't sit back and take it easy
And leave it up to us alone.

Dig down in your stockings,
Open up your till,
For while we're up here soldiering
You've got to pay the bill.

We need guns and ammunition,
Tanks and fighter planes,
Boots and shoes and clothing,
And shelter when it rains.

And don't forget your promise
As we left upon the train—
When we met through with Uncle Sam
We want our jobs again.

Keep the home fires burning;
Help with all your might;
If we're prepared and ready,
We may not have to fight.
