Stand and Deliver' Order to U. S. Employes Alleged by Republican Chairman.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(AP)— Republican National Chairman Jo-seph W. Martin, 5r., declared to-day that the democratic national committee had demanded campaign ontributions from "more than a nillion federal employes" and thu had resorted to a "cold-blooded ruthless bluff."

Martin deferred specifically to a story in the New York Times today in which it was asserted that Edward J. Flyynn, democratic national chairman, had informed campaign managers how government workers and others could contribute to campaign chests and yet remain within the letter of the Hatch "clean-politics" and the corrupt practices laws. rupt practices laws.

"I observe that Ed Flynn has written a letter to democratic cam-paign managers which has put more than a million federal em-ployes on notice that they are ex-pected to stand and deliver to the democratic third term treasury 'or else'." Martin said at a press con

DAILY DEVOTIONS

DR. CHAS. A. EDWARDS

The cross in itself is an ugly thing: straight lines, right angles, undecorated with vine or flower, void of all beauty. It is a symbol of a most barbarous punishment. It does not belong to life. It is a torture linto death. It spelis defeat. But not so the cross of Christ. It is an endowment of grace. Calvary's cross is decorated. Love twines about it, flowered and fragrant. Lilies trellis its tree and climb out over its arms. Love changes the rough hown tree from ugliness to beauty. Cherished by humanity, it transforms life and living love tells of tomorrow: Its hope. Love turns sacrifice into service and death into life. The cross of Calvary belongs to life. It is life in its highest a perfence, for "who gives himself, his hungering helghbor and me." Savonarola said the Christ on the cross, was his light, his law, his peace, himself, his hungering helghbor and me." Savonarola said the Christ on the cross, was his light, his law, his peace his king. So we find this ignominuous emblem has become the most impressive emblem in the world. I will recognize the needs of another and minister there in the spirit of Christ who loved enough to share His all that healing might take place at life's hunting point. May we serve like Him. Amen.
